PRESIDENT SEALS FATE OF SHOALS

Underwood Bill Indorsed in Letter to Senate, is Report From High Scource

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—The fate of the Underwood Muscle Shoals bill is sealed in a letter from President Coolidge to Republican leaders in the Senate which will be opened tomorrow.

In this letter, the Executive makes known formally his attitude on the bill and the majority members freely admit they stand ready to support his recommendations.

From sources close to the White House it is reported the President indorses the measure with suggestions for amendments.

The principal amendment is said to deal with the financing of the operation of Muscle Shoals under the Alabama Senator's bill, which provides for government ownership with private or government operation. Some of the President's advisers, it is reported by Senate circles, have objected to the financing provisions of the Underwood bill and have suggested amendments which they think conform more to business demands.

Republican leaders tonight predicted unreservedly that the bill would pass if the administration amendments were accepted. They immediately added, however, that it would be voted down unless the final draft was in accord with the President's views.

New England is United States' Thrift Leader

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, Dec. 7.—New England is the thriftiest section of the country, the Middle Atlantic group of States is its closest competitor and the South has made the greatest relative advance in savings, a report covering the last twelve years, made public today by the American Bankers' Association reveals.

The data show that per capita savings deposits in New England this year was $443 and that the section held the lead by a wide margin in each of the years considered.

Per capita savings in the other State groups follow:

WORLD PEACE AWARD IS WON BY DR. JORDAN

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

AUGUSTA (Me.) Dec. 7.—Dr. David Starr Jordan, chancellor emeritus of Leland Stanford University, educator, naturalist and author, has been awarded the prize of $25,000 offered by Raphael Herman of Washington for the best educational plan calculated to maintain world peace.

Announcement of the award was made here today by Dr. Augutus O. Thomas, Commissioner of Education for Maine and president of the World Federation of Education Association, which directed the contests. Thousands of plans were submitted for the consideration of the judges.

AWARD EXPLAINED

The World Federation of Education was organized as an outgrowth of the world conference on education which met at San Francisco in 1923.

The award, Dr. Thomas explained, differs from that offered by Edward Bok in that it calls for no legislative action and will not be submitted to referendum vote. The plan selected, it was stipulated, must be world-wide and capable of application in all schools.

Dr. Jordan recommends in his plan that "the world federation make intensive study of certain matters pertinent to world amity through the continuous operation appropriate committees on education for peace, these to report at stated meetings of the federation and to the various national organizations, corresponding to and including our own National Education Association, indicating at the same time lines of action likely to contribute toward international concord. Meanwhile, one must admit that any specified procedure can be at best only a step toward the development of enlightened public opinion and co-operation in effecting mutual understanding among people."

Indicating "certain lines of hopeful activity within the scope of the world federation, Dr. Jordan suggested the formation of a number of committees as follows.

"The formation of a general world committee on education for peace, to function in connection with the several educational groups in the different nations and a second international committee to co-operate with many already established organizations for peace in all parts of the world.

TEACHING OF HISTORY

"A committee to investigate the present teaching of the history of the world, reporting also on textbooks used, their virtues and their delinquencies from the standpoint of international amity and stressing the need that history, whether elementary or advanced, should be just and true so far as it goes. Above all, history should not be perverted in the supposed interest of national honor or partisanship.

"A committee on the teaching of patriotism which shall attempt to define its true nature, expressing its value, its limitations and its perversions.

"A committee to consider plans of promoting mutual international understanding on the part of students of various ages.

"A committee to consider the possibilities of better relations through the international use of athletic sports, especially those games which involve co-operative action or team play as distinguished from individual competition.

"A committee to consider the possibilities of a continuous effort to commit the visible influence of the government of the United States to a definite activity in behalf of peace by means of a bureau of conciliation in the Department of State, or a peace council connected with the same department.

"A committee to consider without prejudice the question of military training in schools and colleges, its present advantages to the individual and nation, with the asserted accompanying drawbacks and dangers.

"A committee to consider 'preparedness' in regard to the educational, economic and social aspects. Even admitting that a large and well-equipped military force (land, water or air) will make for victory in case of an attack by jealous neighbors or other, 'imaginary enemies,' to what extent does it invite war?

"A committee to consider standing incentives to war and the pos-

OFFICER KICKED TO DEATH IN EFFORT TO RESCUE GIRL

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

CHICAGO, Dec. 7.—Responding to the screams of a girl who was being thrown into an automobile in front of an all-night resort in Tessville, a tiny northwestern suburb, Albert M. Burgeson, 29 years of age, a Lincoln Park policeman was beaten and kicked to death by the hoodlums who were abducting the girl. Edward M. Engelkraut, his companion, was also badly beaten and may die of his injuries. He is a member of the Illinois State Constabulary, a volunteer unpaid organization.

Five members of the attacking party have been arrested and all agree that Burgeson was kicked to death by Patrick Keefe, one of the proprietors of the roadhouse. They say he and Frank McDowell were forcing the girl into the car and when Burgeson and Engelkraut protested, set upon them when they learned neither was armed.

Burgeson and Engelkraut displayed their stars, but when they said they had no weapons Keefe and McDowell knocked them down and began kicking them. Burgeson's neck was broken in two places. Meanwhile the girl leaped away from her captors and escaped.

MORE RAIN DUE IN NORTH

Warnings Out on Coast as Storm is Approaching; Bay City Precipitation Above Average

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 7.—More rain for California, with storm warnings posted along the coast from Point Reyes north to Canada, is the weather man's forecast for tomorrow.

San Francisco is getting an unusual downpour for this time of the year, the present rain having lasted more than four days with no let-up in sight. Normal precipitation for San Francisco is 4.87 inches. Last year but 1.47 inches had fallen up to this date, while this year the rain has registered 6.51 inches.

WET DAY

Today was a "wet day" throughout the entire bay section, the drizzle extending as far south as Monterey Bay and north to Oregon, while the interior valleys close to the coast reported steady light rains with no prospect of a letup.

The forecaster for the San Francisco Weather Bureau office announced today that the present rain might last several days over the Northern California section and might extend into Nevada. Probable rains are announced for Southern California.

The storm warnings posted are due to a rapidly approaching storm from the northwest, centering off the Queen Charlotte Islands.

The temperature for the last few days has averaged about 4 degrees lower than normal, which is 53 degrees, today having registered 49 degrees.

Two feet of snow was reported today at Truckee, eighteen inches at Huntington Lake and Kings River points. Six inches of snow fell in Trinity county, while Mt. Shasta has again been clothed in a white mantle. More snow than all of last year is reported from other north mountain points. Snow also fell in the mountains of Sonoma and Mendocino counties. Mt. St. Helena received six inches of snow.

HEAVY RAINS

The country south of Salinas and in Southern Monterey county is the only part of Northern California that has not received a bountiful rainfall this season. While Salinas has 3.70 inches to date, south of there only .25 of an inch has fallen. Little fall plowing has been done as a result.

Sacramento, Stockton and Oroville report heavy rains, with prospects for more. The rain at Oroville has not damaged the orange and olive crops. Santa Rosa reports heaviest rains in several years. In the San Joaquin Valley as far south as Fresno, the rains have been general. Modesto reports three times as much as last year. Fresno got a good wetting yesterday and today. It is the snowfall in the mountains that brings greatest relief to the valley districts as irrigation water is guaranteed.

	Last 24 hrs.	Season to date	Normal to date	Season last yr.
Eureka	.04	15.99	11.29	8.79
Red Bluff	.32	7.59	6.51	4.45
Sacramento	.13	4.79	4.25	1.76
San Francisco	.30	6.57	4.87	1.79
San Jose	.13	3.43	3.75	1.21
Fresno	.04	1.79	2.53	.79
San Luis Obispo	.02	3.54	3.89	1.35

WET FORECAST IS GIVEN FOR SOUTHLAND

The Southland is due for another drenching today brought southward on the wings of a second storm originating in Southern Oregon, according to the forecast from the United States Weather Bureau.

"Unsettled with rains," is the official forecast.

Rain in fine mist fell over Los Angeles and the greater part of Southern California yesterday, in no place being reported as a storm. In Los Angeles the day's precipitation was characterized by the bureau as a "trace." More rain fell in the northern counties than farther south, the greatest fall being reported from Santa Barbara, where .13 of an inch was recorded. Over Ventura, Los Angeles, San Bernardino, Riverside and Orange counties the precipitation ranged from the Santa Bargara figure to a trace.

IOWA AGAIN GRIPPED BY SNOWSTORM

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SIOUX CITY (Ia.) Dec. 7.—This section of the Missouri Valley is again in the grip of a heavy snowstorm, which started at daylight this morning and continued throughout the day. It is being driven by a stiff east wind and is piling badly, as it is dry, the temperature being slightly below the freezing point. Coming on top of the ten inches which fell Thursday it halted traffic, especially for automobiles and street cars, for beaten paths were soon filled.

Railroad traffic is not yet so badly affected, but it is feared many trains will be tied up or delayed by late tonight or early Monday if the fall continues another few hours.

Street cars are moving only spasmodically, though sweepers are busy and an army of shovelers and trucks were doing what they can to relieve the congestion. Automobiles are abandoned in all parts of the city and it is said scores of them are marooned on country roads in all directions.

GIBSON (Tenn.) Dec. 7.—Miss Ethel Crow, 20 years of age, was reported killed and several other persons hurt when a farmhouse near here was wrecked by the severe rain and windstorm which swept over West Tennessee today and tonight. The storm caused extensive damage to small frame buildings and paralyzed telegraph and telephone lines for some hours.

ST. PAUL, Dec. 7.—Several inches of snow fell here and in Southern Minnesota tonight. A fifteen-mile northeast wind accompanied the storm.

Hunter in Wild Ride on Back of Wounded Deer

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

TAUNTON (Mass.) Dec. 7.—Riding astride a 200-pound buck through underbrush and under tree limbs, J. Walter Champney of this city, brought to earth his prize with a hunting knife after he had wounded the deer with shots from his shotgun.

Champney had wounded the buck and found him lying in a little clearing. The hunter was standing astride the body when suddenly the buck got to his feet and Champney, throwing his arms around the animal's neck, was rushed through the woods, his face getting scratched and his clothes torn. Leaning forward, Champney finally was able to kill the buck with his knife.

Mexican Revolt Plot Prisoners Reported Slain

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

DOUGLAS (Ariz.) Dec. 7.—Mexican Federal troops, who left Agua Prieta, Mex., across the border from here, yesterday with thirteen civilians charged with plotting a rebellion against the Calles government, for Naco, Mex., returned today, refusing to say what had become of their prisoners. The captives did not reach Naco, the garrison commander there said. It is reported the thirteen were executed.

LEAGUE URGES BOLSTERING OF NAVAL FORCES

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—Only five of America's eighteen battleships are "in fair condition for real service," the Navy League asserted today in a survey of the nation's first line of defense.

Six of the eighteen the United States is allowed to retain under the arms limitation treaty, are cripples with worn-out boilers and other machinery which have been withdrawn from fleet operations.

These six, and seven others "need to be modernized against torpedo and aerial attacks and to have their guns elevated, while six of these should be changed from wasteful coal burners to oil burners," says the league.

"When it is realized that thirteen out of the eighteen battleships allowed the United States are in a seriously unsafe and inefficient condition for real service for lack of a total of about $18,000,000, it would hardly seem to be expecting too much of Congress to make this appropriation immediately available," the statement continues.

NEED ELEVATION

"But the guns of these thirteen American battleships are not sufficiently elevated to fire as far as do those of other powers. So the value of thirteen out of our eighteen battleships is open to serious question, even if 'modernized,' unless their guns are elevated. This would cost an additional $6,500,000 and is a matter for which an appropriation should be made immediately—if it is the intention of the administration and of Congress to bring the American capital fleet up toward approximate equality to the British capital fleet and to five-thirds the strength of the Japanese fleet.

"As deterioration has been accumulating for years it would hardly seem to be asking too much of Congress for sufficient maintenance funds to end 'deferred maintenance' and the generally 'unsatisfactory' material condition of the fleet as a whole and to put all naval vessels that are in active service in proper material condition to perform their duties without such casualties to machinery as have occurred of late years."

URGE BUILDING

The league sets forth in detail the building of auxiliary ships in progress by Great Britain and Japan and concludes:

"With such glaring deficiencies as have been pointed out, it is hardly necessary to add that the list could be extended almost indefinitely in lesser matters. But here it is desired to lay emphasis on the fact that we should forthwith build twenty-two more light cruisers aggregating 220,000 tons and about 48,000 tons more of large submarines if we are to maintain our position and live up to the treaty ratios.

"Since the conference the British have inaugurated the building of 70,000 tons of light cruisers and of one large submarine of 1480 tons.

"Since the conference the Japanese have inaugurated the building of very nearly 80,000 tons of light cruisers and of twenty-two large submarines amounting to over 84,000 tons.

ONE SUBMARINE

"Since the conference the United States in these respects has inaugurated only the initial appropriation for one submarine that was authorized in 1916.

"These facts have destroyed the balance assumed for the treaty for the limitation of naval armaments. When agreement was reached at the Washington Conference America accepted the assurance that the treaty ended competition in naval armament, and also left the relative security of the great naval powers unimpaired.

"The postconference construction and programs of other powers must COFFEYVILLE (Kan.) Dec. 8. An explosion here early today wrecked the plant of the Coffeyville Daily Dawn, a morning newspaper, and two adjoining buildings. The damage is estimated at $75,000.

No one was injured. The newspaper office was deserted, as no paper is issued Monday.

Police are investigating two theories—one that the explosion was the result of an accumulation of gas and the other that the newspaper office was bombed by persons who were antagonistic to the policy of the newspaper, which has supported the Ku Klux Klan.

PRIESTS IN CHINA HELD BY BANDITS

Cable Message Tells of Catpure of Group on Trip in Honan Province

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

DES MOINES (Iowa) Dec. 7.—Father Eugene Creegan of Chicago, head of the Passionist Order of Monks, announced here tonight the receipt of the following cablegram from Chen Fu Chow, China, relating the capture of a group of Catholic priests by Chinese brigands:

"Father Mathias, Dominic, Edmund and other priests captured by bandits."

Father Creegan declared it was his understanding that the company of priests was traveling from a city near Chen Fu Chow to another city in the northwestern part of the Province of Honan. The priests were engaged in missionary work and and belonged to the order of which Father Creegan is the head.

According to the Rt. Rev. Silvan McGarry, whom Father Creegan is visiting here at the St. Gabriel Monastery, Fathers Mathias and Edmunds resided at West Hoboken, N. J., prior to their entering missionary work in China. Father Dominic lived in Pittsburg, he said.

HANKOW (China) Dec. 7.—Miss Elizabeth Berglund and Miss Ineborg Nystul, missionaries of the Augustana Synod, who remained in their station at Juchow, Honan Province, when bandits raided the place recently, have escaped and are with friends at Kiuhsien. Both missionaries are from Minnesota.

The bandits hold Juchow with 1000 men. The soldiers refuse to fight them.

The dual murder is believed to be the work of a maniac.

PARIS ROUSED BY SLAYING OF POLICE LEADER

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

PARIS, Dec. 7.—Premier Herriot's challenge against the French Communists, who for several weeks have been preparing a coup to overthrow the French republic, was met today by the cold-blooded murder of Police Inspector Jean Faguet, whose forces yesterday descended upon the principal Communist headquarters and made many arrests.

Faguet had been spying upon the leaders of the proposed revolution. His lifeless body was found today lying on the pavement in front of a building suspected to have been the meeting place of the Reds and which Faguet was watching.

Following the murder of Inspector Faguet, police and detectives promptly launched a country-wide search for the murderers and the rounding up of all Communists. It is predicted that their efforts will result in wholesale deportations of agitators and radicals who have come to France from Russia, Poland, Germany, Italy and other continental countries to foment revolution.

Premier Herriot while making a speech at Roubaix this afternoon was hissed by many in the audience. He did not touch on the Communist question during his talk.

SIXTY FOREIGN RADICALS BANISHED

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

PARIS, Dec. 7.—The French government's secret police today pushed sixty foreign Communistic agents over the French frontiers and announced a policy of weeding out foreign agitators in line with Premier Herriot's belief that the menace of a Red peril comes rather from foreigners than from French Communists.

Those who were expelled today on warrants signed by the Minister of Labor, comprised forty-three Italians, seven Belgians, six Poles, one Jugo-Slav, one Swiss, one Swede and one German.

All those deported were organizers of the Communist "Centure" or adherents of the "Lenin Communist school" at Bobigny where propaganda and plans for the disorganization of the Bourgeoisie were taught in the class room.

The names of the persons expelled from the country today were not made public, but it is not believed that any very prominent Communist leaders were among them.

The Communists are showing no alarm. None of their widespread organizations had been troubled so far as is known and their organ, Humanite, continues to denounce the government and to caution Red adherents to be ready for action at any moment. The police seized a number of documents in Saturday's raid on soviet headquarters at Bobigny.

Quotidien, Premier Herriot's organ, today prints a full page of what purports to be Communist "confidential circular No. 128." It is dated November 22 and addressed to the French Communists, apparently by the French Communist headquarters.

The circular contains detailed instructions to Communists for recruiting and gives them arguments to put forth to convince persons who are hesitant to join the organization. But particularly it urges

REDS CHANGE BATTLEFIELD

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

[Copyright, 1924, by the Chicago Tribune.]

CONSTANTINOPLE, Dec. 7.—The Communist Internationale, which is trying to revolutionize the whole world, has suddenly changed its whole strategy. After failing to revolutionize Germany last winter, M. Zinoviev, chief of the Communist Internationale, started an offensive in China and England and intensified the propaganda which had been carried on in India, Egypt and Mesopotamia for five years.

A week ago M. Zinoviev urgently telegraphed Constantinople and other propaganda centers east of the Ruhr to send the best propagandists to France and the French colonies, particularly North Africa. Today he sent another urgent telegram to Constantinople and another center ordering all remaining agitators in the Near-Middle and Far East to go to Austria. Croatia and Czecho-Slovakia, which are considered susceptible to revolution, and carry on the most violent activity possible.

The Foreign office section of the G.P.U., which keeps a surveillance on the activities of the Communist Internationale diplomatic service and other agencies, received a similar order. The ministry of the interior section of the G.P.U. operates exclusively in Russia as a successor to the Cheka. The import and export trading monopoly, called Wneshtorg, which also carries on propaganda, received the same orders.

The Communist Internationale informed all branches that the shooting of Former Chancellor Seipel, the strike of Austrian railway men, and the growing strength of the Bolshevik municipal government in Vienna, for all of which it claims credit, prepared the ground for a revolution in Austria, and M. Joffe, the best Bolshevik diplomat, is being sent to Austria as soviet minister for a direct offensive.

The Communist Internationale and the soviet government are twins of the Russian Communist party, and the Communist Internationale regularly uses M. Tchitcherin's diplomatic pouch and code for propaganda. Hundreds of thousands of M. Tchitcherin's diplomatic couriers and Communist Internationale agitators are going on missions.

The Communist Internationale's telegram emphasizes that the last hope for a survival of the Communist regime is based on revolution in Central Europe this winter.

AGRICULTURE ON FIRMER FOOTING

Survey of Conditions Given in Department Report

Status of Farmer Held Best Since 1920 Slump

Recovery From Depression Not Yet Complete

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—American agriculture, on the whole, occupies the best position it has held since 1920, but much further recovery is required to bring it back to its prewar condition, the Agricultural Department informed President Coolidge today in its annual report. The report was prepared by the late Henry C. Wallace and embodies his views, but was signed and presented by the present Secretary, Howard M. Gore, who was Assistant Secretary under Mr. Wallace.

"Prospects are that the gross income from agricultural production for the crop year 1924-25 may reach approximately $12,000,000,000, compared with $11,500,000,000 in 1923-24 and $9,550,000,000 in 1921-22," said the report. "A favorable readjustment has taken place in price ratios between agriculture and industry. While the purchasing power of farm products is 13 per cent below the prewar level, it is 16 per cent above the index for May, 1921, when the depression was in its worst period. This year's harvest was the finest in five years. Though not the greatest in volume of products, it was the best balanced and represented the best income.

"Yet it would be a mistake to conclude that the American farmer is done with the troubles of the depression period. If the readjustment is left to blind economic forces it will be many years before that can be said. Although farm commodity price levels are headed toward a better position, they have still a large gain to make before agricultural products will be on a parity with other products. This means that agriculture is still laboring under a heavy disadvantage.

CLOUDS HOVER

"The improvement that has taken place has not yet lasted long enough to produce any marked betterment in the finances of the farmer. As a matter of fact, the suffering of many farmers is perhaps as intense today as it was in the first years of the depression period, because the effects of the depression are cumulative. Present favorable possibilities will have to be turned into realities before it can fairly be said that agriculture again is enjoying normal prosperity. Nevertheless, the showing of 1924 brings prosperity nearer."

Though the crop story of 1924 spells improvement to agriculture as a whole, the improvement will not be shared by all sections of the farm population, it was pointed out. Grain products may earn approximately $300,000,000 more than last year, but of this the wheat growers stand to gain by far the greater share. Corn growers will have less to sell this year and as a whole the corn belt must look for increased returns from higher hog prices. The large cotton crop should enable the South to hold its relatively satisfactory position. Dairying continues to increase, but heavier marketing may not result in a greater income. There is no certain prospect of increased income from cattle and sheep production.

GAIN HALF BILLION

"In the main it may be said that the year will bring increased income to the surplus-producing region, to the corn belt, and possibly to the cotton States," the report continued. "The tobacco, fruit, vegetable and dairy-producing States probably will not contribute much to the estimated increase in the gross agriculture income of the year. The increase is $500,000,000 in income this year over last. Returns on the estimated present value of farm capital from this income, if operating costs were not greater than those of the crop year of 1923, would amount to 3.8 per cent. This return is much below the average return to other capital. Income from agriculture has not in any year since the price decline of 1920 sufficed to allow both a commercial return on capital and adequate rewards for the farmers' labor, risks and management."

The outstanding event in the agricultural history of 1924 has been the wheat situation, the report said. Apparent surpluses of bread grains have been much reduced, and the world's crop promises to be between 300,000,000 and 350,000,000 bushels below that of last year. Exportable surpluses in the principal producing countries have been reduced and requirements of the importing countries have been increased. The demand for wheat from the United States should be stronger than it was last year. Wheat promises large yields per acre, and a total crop larger than that of last year is expected on a reduced acreage. Reduced yields in foreign countries have brought about a market situation in which the American farmers are receiving higher prices for a larger crop. Nevertheless, the rise in the price of wheat has not yet sufficed to give a bushel of wheat its prewar purchasing power. While the wheat situation has greatly improved, it has not yet reached a point where farmers should think no further readjustments are necessary. It would be a mistake to suppose that the wheat acreage may again be expanded with the expectation of high prices.

COTTON OUTLOOK

The outlook for cotton is promising. This year's crop should contribute approximately $1,500,000,000 to the purchasing power of the cotton growers. Cotton yields this year have, for a time at any rate, set at rest any fear that American cotton production will not again be able to meet the world demand.

The live-stock industry is on a firmer foundation than at any time since the price collapse of 1919 and 1920, said the report, although 1924 was not a year of good profits for cattle and hog producers. Cattlemen have had a harder time then any other group of live stock producers. Slow but steady liquidation has been going on in the cattle industry for three years. Today, however, many of the war-time loans, with high interest rates, have been paid. Money is available on more favorable terms, conditions in the cattle industry are improving, and the prospective reduction in hog raising should strengthen the market for beef.

Speaking of the tax burden of the farmer, the report said too often the amount of the tax has little or no relation to the amount of the farmer's income. Selling values of land which serve as a basis for taxation do not rest only on current earnings, but also on anticipation of future earnings. This often means that taxes have to be paid on fictitious values.

Pointing out that bills have been introduced in Congress in the last two years which would put the government squarely into the business of promoting co-operative associations, the report declared, the need for strong co-operative marketing associations could not be overemphasized but that they should be controlled by their membership and kept free from domination of government agencies or commercial interests.

"Co-operative marketing is a logical development in the rural economy of a nation. The relationship of the government to co-operation should be one of service. It should help the farmers market their crops just as it helps them to produce crops, not by doing the work but by supplying information which the farmers cannot get for themselves.

RHINELANDER REUNION SEEN

Attorney and Bride Assert Wealthy Youth Will Escape Family and Return to Her

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

NEW ROCHELLE (N. Y.) Dec. 7.—A sudden reunion between Leonard Kip Rhinelander and his wife, the former Alice Beatrice Jones, was forecast today both by Mrs. Rhinelander and her attorney, Judge Samuel P. Swinburne. Mrs. Rhinelander contends that her husband could never have signed an annulment complaint of his own free will, and that Leonard could not face her in court on a charge of fraud.

Judge Swinburne today said: "I should not be surprised at any time to find young Rhinelander with his wife at the Jones home."

Leon Jacobs, Rhinelander's attorney, who drew the annulment complaint, and who escorted the young man to New York, has been missing from his home since Thursday.

"I don't know where Leon is," said an excited feminine voice today at the Jacobs home in Brooklyn. The speaker said she was a member of the family. Charles C. Bull, of the firm of Bull & Edgar, with which Jacobs is associated, declared he could not discuss the Rhinelander case or Jacobs's whereabouts. Judge Swinburne said today that Rhinelander might have been persuaded to sign the complaint, but that he was certain no amount of influence could have eradicated from the boy's heart the love he bore his bride. Mrs. Rhinelander is confident that if "Leonard regains his liberty" he will come back to her.

A telegram purporting to have come from Rhinelander recently received at the Jones home, contained no hint of reunion but advised Alice to "fight like the devil."

Mrs. Rhinelander today declared she was firmly of the belief that the husband would return to her in the near future. It is her opinion that young Leonard is being held virtually a prisoner by his family and therefore cannot force his way back to her side.

REPUBLIC WINS IN GERMAN VOTE

People's party, will then be formed.

No serious rioting marked today's election. In Berlin, four members of the Reichbanner were shot, as were two in Lichtenburg and a dozen others were injured in small fights throughout the country.

In Halle the Reichbanner, a Republican organization formed to counteract the "steel helmets" and other semimilitary monarchist organizations, was out in force. Some 10,000 men, partly armed, paraded the streets ready for civil war.

Until now the Monarchists have terrorized this town. Today they succeeded in entering and smashing the trades union temple and stabbing many persons with bayonets tied to sticks, but the Reichbanner broke up all Monarchist meetings.

A second attempt to murder George Bernhardt, editor of Vossische Zeitung and a Democratic candidate, was made when the Monarchists unloosed the wheel of his automobile, which upset, injuring several other persons. Bernhardt escaped injury. An attempt to shoot Bernhardt during a political meeting on Friday was foiled.

REPUBLIC COLORS FLY OVER POTSDAM

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

POTSDAM, Dec. 7.—For the first time in history Potsdam today saw the Republican colors. Thanks to Gen. Schoenaich's organization, the home of the Hohenzollerns was flooded with black and gold flags, which angered the ex-Kaiser's family and were cheered by the Republicans en route to the polls to vote. Prince Oscar cast the first of the 41,000 votes in the district.

As members of the royal family rode in magnificent horse-drawn equipages or motored to the polling booths, placed in restaurants, trucks, bearing Reichsbanner volunteers passed them, shouting "up with the republic, down with monarchy," to which Kaiser Wilhelm's family replied with grinning teeth. Prince Oscar and the Princess came to the polls on bicycles. Forty-five minutes after the booths were opened, every member of the Hohenzollerns had voted.

The most haughty voters, however, were not the Hohenzollerns but high ex-officers of the Potsdam garrison and their wives and daughters, the noble ladies-in-waiting who are still waiting for the return of the monarchy.

Potsdam results show that the presence of the Reichsbanner brought out the first large Republican vote in the Kaiser's greatest stronghold, showing that the monarchist military organization could not continue to have its own way.

The plans call for three buildings, a girls' dormitory, a chapel and a large gymnasium, with a total expenditure of $300,000. Work will start immediately. The dormitory is made possible through a benefactor, who requested that his name be withheld.

An automatic ice cream freezer that stops when the contents are frozen, is now being introduced.

BRITAIN AND FRANCE PAID BY GERMANY

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS]

BERLIN, Dec. 7.—Germany paid Great Britain 17,500,000 gold marks and France slightly in excess of 1,250,000 gold marks under the recovery acts during November, bringing the total levied by both countries for the first three months of the operation of the Dawes plan up to 50,000,000 marks.

The report of Seymour Parker Gilbert, agent-general for reparations payments on receipts and payments during November shows that Germany was reimbursed to the extent of 215,000,000 gold marks out of the proceeds of the German external loan in accordance with the provisions of the experts' plan which absolves Germany from obligation to draw on her budget for the first year's annuity.

The sum refunded to Germany by Mr. Gilbert represents amounts remitted by her during the transition period. Germany is credited with 16,500,000 marks during the past quarter for the costs of the armies of occupation. Her deliveries of dyestuffs to Japan during November amounted to 771,000 marks, as compared with 2337 marks during October.

Germany's total payments to creditor states in cash and in kind during the first three months of the agent general's administration is given as 225,000,000 marks.

end our belief in one of these two bases of security. We may abstain from competition but if we do, our relative security necessarily remains impaired. We may restore our relative security but only by new construction.

"The proper choice is stated in the quotation from the Secretary of the Navy's recommendation at the outset of this statement. The extent of the construction necessary to restore our relative security is to be measured by the immediate building of twenty-two light cruisers aggregating 230,000 tons, and large submarines amounting to 48,000 tons.

"Then, when we have at least evidently started to re-establish ourselves on the treaty ratio of equality with the British and five-thirds the strength of the Japanese we might succeed in bringing about a further limitation of naval armament at an 'auxiliary' conference."

It says youth should be promised money for education, and that discontent should be fostered everywhere under the new organization of "cells." Special instructions are given for a regular census on automobiles and all stores of arms and ammunition.

Premier Herriot has stirred up red-hot anger by putting Communist revolutionary violence on the same basis as Catholic protests against his anticlericalism. The Temps and the Journal Des Bats, two of the most sober of the Parisian newspapers, lead many other journals in adverse criticism of the Premier. The Journal Des Bats thinks M. Herriot has "one foot in the frying pan and the other in the fire," for yesterday, it says, he had to appeal to the revolutionary Socialists in the Chamber of Deputies to support his campaign against the Communists. "He is intrusted with the task of arresting incendiaries by those who propose to take over the House," says the newspaper.

Both the Temps and the Journal Des Bats take M. Herriot to task for not realising the seriousness of the Communist threat. The intransigeant terms the Premier as "a blind man led by fools."

Mexico Will Not Make Advances to Great Britain

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS]

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 7.—Mexico will not open negotiations for a resumption of relations with Great Britain, Foreign Minister Saens said today. Mexico never had refused to promote good feelings between Mexico and other countries, he added, but in the question between Great Britain and Mexico, the republic had justice on its side.

His statement was made after receipt of news here that the British Chamber of Commerce in Mexico had been advised that several chambers of commerce in England had petitioned the British government to resume relations with Mexico.

GIRL TAKES POISON

Police Say Suicide Attempt Was Result of Lovers' Quarrel

A lovers' quarrel is said by police to have caused Betty Bonansinger, 19 years of age, of 377 West Forty-seventh street, to attempt to end her life last night by swallowing rat poison. She will recover, Receiving Hospital physicians said. The quarrel between Betty and her fiance, George Fornton, 733 1-2 West Twelfth street, occurred early in the evening, it was reported. Afterwards they went to a picture show. Returning with friends they stopped at Fornton's home where Betty is said to have taken the poison. At the hospital last night, Fornton said that he and Betty had become reconciled as the outcome of her attempt to die.

NEW JERSEY UPHOLDS CLASSES IN RELIGION

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

TRENTON (N. J.) Dec. 7.—Pupils of the fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth grades in the public schools of New Jersey may now be excused from their other studies for one hour each week for religious education, the only condition being that the consent of the child's parents first be obtained. This, in substance, is the effect of the action by the State Board of Education in voting to reverse the opinion of State Education Commissioner John Enright, holding that the Morristown school authorities were without power to excuse pupils for such a purpose.

QUOTA ACT CUTS ALIENS' EXODUS

So-Called "Birds of Passage" Practically Disappear

Immigration Gains Shown by Fiscal Year Report

English-Speaking Admissions Totals Are Increased

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—Under the quota limit law, so-called "birds of passage" have practically disappeared from the immigration movement to the United States, according to the annual report of Commissioner-General of Immigration, W. W. Husband, for the fiscal year ending June 30, last. For a long period prior to the World War the number of aliens leaving the United States permanently was fully one-third as great as the number admitted, but the exodus declined rapidly during the three years when the quota law was in operation until in the last year only 16,769 emigrant aliens departed, compared with 706,896 immigrants admitted. From 1908 to 1914 immigration averaged 958,622, and emigration 294,824 annually. As a result of the marked decrease in the number of aliens leaving the country, the permanent addition to the resident alien population was greater last year than for seventeen years, with the exception of 1910, 1913 and 1914.

The number of immigrants admitted increased from 309,556 and 522,919 in the fiscal years 1922 and 1923, respectively, to 706,896, which increase, the report states, might very naturally suggest a substantial breaking down of the percentum limit law, but such is not the fact. This return of immigration to something like prewar proportions is attributed to the fact that the quota-limit provision was applicable only to Europe, Africa, Australasia and the Near East, and did not seek to limit immigration from Canada, Mexico and other parts of the new world; that the quotas allotted to countries of Northwestern Europe permitted substantial increases above the normal prewar immigration from those sources; that the quota limit law, like all preceding immigration legislation, contained a good many exceptions under which applicants were admitted in excess of quotas, and that the law was considerably liberalized by court decisions, which were not set aside by the Supreme Court until late in the year.

IMMIGRATION GAINS

Immigration to the United States more than doubled between the fiscal years, 1922 and 1924, the principal sources of the increase being England, Scotland and Wales, 25,153 to 59,490; Ireland, 10,579 to 17,111; Germany, 17,931 to 75,091; the Scandinavian countries, 14,625 to 35,577; British North America, 46,810 to 200,690; Mexico, 19,551 to 89,336. Southern and Eastern Europe and Turkey, which sent 195,974 immigrants in the fiscal year 1924 alone, contributed only 163,813, or considerably less than Canada in 1924.

The principal racial stocks represented among immigrants admitted to the United States from all sources in the fiscal year ending June 30, last, were: German, 95,627; English, 93,939; Mexican, 87,648; Scotch, 61,327; Italian, 59,209; Hebrew, 49,989; French (largely Canadian) 48,632; Scandinavian, 40,973; Polish, 19,371; African (black) 12,243.

Among the many changes that have resulted from the operation of the percentum limit law is the steady and very considerable increase in the proportion of English-speaking peoples among aliens admitted to the United States. In the fiscal year, 1914, just prior to the World War, only 8.8 per cent of our immigration was of the English-speaking people—English, Irish, Scotch and Welsh—and the total number admitted in that year was only 107,199. In the fiscal year ended June 30, the number was increased to 200,265, and they constituted 28.3 per cent of the total immigration.

NUMBER REJECTED

The number of aliens applying for admission at United States ports who were rejected as coming in violation of the immigration laws, reached the unprecedented total of 30,284 during the year, compared to 20,619 in the fiscal year 1923, and the proportion of rejections increased from 2.96 per cent of all applicants in 1923 to 3.3 per cent in 1924. The principal causes of rejection were: excess of quota, 10,114; likely to become a public charge, 8130; stowaways, 2436; unable to read, 1708; without proper passport, 1554; loathsome or dangerous contagious diseases, 1486; contract laborers, 1219; mentally or physically defective, 1011; criminals, 546.

The deportation of aliens found to be unlawfully in the United States is rapidly becoming one of the most important functions of the immigration service and as the immigration laws have grown more restrictive in character the deportation problem has become more difficult and exacting. In the fiscal year ended June 30, last, 6409 aliens were arrested and deported from the United States, a number far in excess of any previous year.

MORE SMUGGLING

The restriction of European immigration under the quota-limit law has resulted in a revival of alien smuggling and border-running similar to that which followed the enactment of the Chinese exclusion law forty years ago, and it is certain that the numbers involved are very much greater. It is not possible to state the extent of such illegal entries from Cuba, Canada and Mexico, but it is known that 34,679 alien seamen deserted from ships in the United States ports in the last fiscal year compared with an annual average of 8578 during the twelve years, 1911 to 1922. The number of such desertions last year at some of the principal ports were New York, 22,252; Philadelphia, 3041; Baltimore, 1314; Boston, 1143; Norfolk, 1101; New Orleans, 1020; Galveston, 788; Los Angeles, 734; Seattle, 510; San Francisco, 438. An appropriation of $1,000,000 made by the last Congress will enable the bureau to maintain a land border-patrol force of 450 men for the prevention of border running, and it is expected that certain provisions of the new immigration law will result in considerably decreased desertions from ships.

INELIGIBLE ALIENS

The report discusses at some length the provision of the Immigration Act of 1924, which denies admission to aliens who are ineligible to citizenship and the opinion is expressed that with some adjustment the new legislation ought to make it possible to repeal the Chinese Exclusion Law and also other discriminatory legislation which relates to the so-called Asiatic barred zone. The Commissioner-General believes that the new legislation will prove to be even more effective than the old exclusion law itself and that the repeal of the latter would considerably minimize troublesome administrative difficulties, which have hitherto attended the regulation of Chinese immigration.

The receipts of the immigration service from head tax, fines, etc., was $2,587,787.36 in excess of the expenditures during the year.

'Sleeping White Lady' of Mexico Shows Activity

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

MEXICO CITY (Mex.) Dec. 7.—If the correspondents of the newspapers at Cuernavaca, capital of the State of Morelos, are to be believed, Mt. Ixtaccihualt, legendary snowcapped "sleeping white lady," with Mt. Popocatepetl guardian of the Valley of Mexico, is smoking and showing signs of eruption. Dispatches from Cuernavaca report that smoke is visible from there and also that rumblings are heard.

If true, this is most extraordinary phenomena for Ixtaccihuatl has not been active for centuries, although its mate, Popocatapetl, for the past five years has been more or less in a state of eruption.

Cuernavaca is located fifty miles distant from Mexico City, on the opposite of the mountain and so far no smoke has been visible from here.

Both volcanoes are intimately related to Aztec history and legendary fables and are considered among the scenic beauties of the world.

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 7.—In compliance with a promise to push the educational campaign of President Calles through, the Department of Education let loose a flood of truant officers on the capital and suburban towns and villages in the Federal district yesterday. Minister of Education Puig broadcast a message to the heads of the educational systems, colleges and schools, requesting cooperation in getting the children of the laboring classes into the schools beginning next year.

WISCONSIN YOUTH WINS ROAD PRIZE

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—The story of two roads, simply told in an essay of 700 words, won for John Liska, a student in a Wood county high school, Wisconsin Rapids, Wis., a prize of more than $4000, according to an announcement today by the Highway Education Board.

Liska is winner of the H. S. Firestone four years' university scholarship offered for the best essay by a high-school student on the subject, "The Relation of Improved Highways to Home Life."

Son of a Wisconsin farmer, Liska, from personal experience and observation, has written an epic story of a country cross-roads, describing the affluence of those who live on one and the despair of those who live on the other. He depicts the influence of home life following road development and draws a parallel of conditions existing on another road which was not improved.

More than 200,000 high-school students from every State in the Union sought the honor.

Members of the national reviewing committee were Secretary of Labor James J. Davis, Merle Crowell, editor of the American Magazine, and Dr. W. O. Thompson, president of Ohio State University.

CHANGE URGED IN ESTATE TAX

Senate Committee Receives Two Recommendations

Time Limit for Property Transfer Suggested

Solicitor Says Gift Levy to Aid in Enforcement

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—Taxation of all property transferred by the owner within two years prior to his death under the estate-tax rates is among recommendations made to the Senate committee investigating administration of the Internal Revenue Bureau.

In a statement reviewing the committee's investigation of certain estate-tax cases acted upon by the bureau, Chairman Cousens said today, this and another recommendation, fixing an age limit after which all transfers of property would be taxable under this law, had been made to the committee.

Instances were cited by Senator Cousens as showing that the government lost considerable taxes because of the difficulty in interpreting the present law, which provides for taxation of transfers of property under estate-tax rates when made "in contemplation of death."

Pointing to cases in which the bureau solicitor had overruled decisions in favor of the government by special investigations involving large sums which had been approved by a board of review, Senator Cousens declared the committee had discussed the question whether this system is fair to the government and whether it is fair to put this tremendous responsibility on the solicitor."

The committee has concluded the estate-tax phase of its investigation and expects soon to draw up recommendations for strengthening the law.

Chairman Cousens says also that Nelson T. Hart, solicitor for the bureau, had told the committee the newly created gift tax would aid in enforcement of the estate-tax provisions through checking losses by gifts. Estimates of the amount of revenue collectable under this tax were difficult of determination, however, it was testified, along with the problem of harmonizing its application with administration of the income tax.

The gift tax was denounced by the administration when under discussion at the last session of Congress.

PRESIDENT AND WIFE ABOARD MAYFLOWER

SPEND NIGHT ON POTOMAC, INTEND TO RETURN TO CAPITOL TODAY

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—President and Mrs. Coolidge with a few friends were aboard the Mayflower tonight about forty miles down the Potomac from Washington.

The President and Mrs. Coolidge drove to the Navy Yard immediately after attending church services and the Mayflower soon afterwards set sail down the river. Arriving off Quantico, Va., the yacht dropped anchor for the night, prepared to make an early morning run back to Washington.

The President had expected to take a cruise on the Mayflower yesterday, as has been his custom during the fall, but on returning from Chicago found such an accumulation of work that the trip was postponed until today. The party included only Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Stearns of Boston, the White House guests.

BRAZIL TO RANK HIGH IN COTTON

Potential Production May Double Texas Some Day; Textile Industry Grows

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

CENTER (Tex.) Dec. 7.—It is not unlikely that Brazil may have risen to first place in the countries of the world in cotton production in another ten years, according to Thomas R. Day, government director of the cotton industry in that country. Day is a native of Texas and is here on a visit to his old home. He went to Brazil several years ago as cotton growing expert for the Leopoldina Railway Company. He later became connected with the Brazilian government in a similar capacity.

He said that, although there was practically no cotton produced in Brazil ten years ago, the crop for the year 1924 will be around 1,000,000 small bales. In time, Brazil may become a large exporter of cotton, Mr. Day said, but at present all but a small quantity of the staple is consumed at home. According to Day, the area of Brazil which is adapted to cotton growing is more than twice as large as the entire State of Texas.

The textile manufacturing industry of Brazil has had rapid development, he said. There are more than 200 textile mills in the country. These mills operate 50,000 looms and more than 1,000,000 spindles. There is an abundance of water power and most of the mills are operated by this cheap power. Labor also is cheap.

COAST GUARD SETS RECORD FOR YEAR

REPORT SHOWS INCREASING TASKS DUE TO DRY-LAW ENFORCEMENT

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—Despite the annually increasing duties loaded onto the United Coast Guard through new legislation, it was able in the last fiscal year to establish a record in the work for which it was originally created—the protection of life and property on the high seas and the prevention of smuggling.

The annual report of the guard made public tonight discloses that in the twelve months ending last July 1, men from Coast Guard boats and stations rescued 2462 persons from positions of peril and boarded and examined the papers of 46,152 ships, 14,499 more than ever inspected in any one year in history. There was never a day in the year in which Coast Guardsmen did not perform some sort of service to vessels or persons in distress, and the report adds that assistance was afforded in as many as forty-four cases in one day.

Much of the additional boarding resulted from the new service of the Coast Guard as an aid to prohibition enforcement. It has become necessary, the report says, to watch all vessels more closely to make more detailed inspection of their cargoes and to watch them out at sea since the guards' work has included prohibition enforcement. Officials of the guard, the report explains, have not found it necessary yet to neglect any of their traditional duties in order to give effective support to the prohibition laws.

JAPAN STIRRED BY RED INROADS

Defiance of Daisuke Namba Causes Deep Concern

Would-be Regicide Cheered Soviet in Last Breath

Reckless Extravagances of New Rich Rankle

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

TOKIO, Dec. 7.—Three events in recent months have tended to rock the consciousness of the Japanese people as nothing else has done before. These were, first, the disaster of September, last year; next, the attempt to assassinate the Prince Regent, and lastly, the defiance with which Daisuke Namba, the would-be regicide, went to his death.

In court, at his final trial, Daisuke remained callous and defiant. His cheers for the soviet and his maledictions on crowned heads, when death was pronounced, shocked the officials present. The police have forbidden the newspapers to print what the condemned man said, but the news was common property and was talked about in the streets, trains and trolley cars, just the same.

CHEERS ON GALLOWS

The execution was hurried up in a manner that was almost unseemly, so suddenly did the law exact retribution. Namba walked to the gallows with a firm step, partook of a cup of weak tea and, when the noose had been adjusted, cheered soviet Russia and expressed hopes that Japan would be freed from "unwarrantable subservience to the rich."

The body was disposed of as furtively and as secretly as the hanging was done. The prison authorities gave out that the remains would be interred in the Zoshigaya Cemetery, within the city, and, after staging a deal of camouflage with prison vans going hither and thither about the city, had the lifeless body taken to a suburb and buried in a convict's grave.

Early on the morning of the interment, a motor car drove up to the Ichigaya Jail, where Namba had been executed, and five well-built men demanded to have the body of the condemned. A strong body of uniformed and plain-clothes police had been kept in ambush to forestall any such demand and, after a scuffle, handcuffed the men. They proved to be representatives of the Free Men's Society, the Free Labor Federation and the Naked Men's Society. The more radical elements in Japan are said to regard Namba as a martyr.

Although Daisuke was but one individual and acted alone, yet officialdom regards him as the embodiment of a very dangerous development—a development that is not native to the Japanese temperament and, therefore, regarded as all the more pernicious.

RECKLESS SPENDING

There are several factors making for unrest and discontent. One of the most powerful of these is the vulgar flaunting of wealth by the nouveaux riche, a striking example of which only took place a fortnight ago, when Baron Okura spent 1,500,000 yen to celebrate his birthday. The presence of Cabinet Ministers at the festivities, when the government is making vigorous appeals to the nation to practice thrift, has been regarded as so ironical as to be bordering on mockery. The man in the street concludes that the authorities indorse such woeful extravagance, and comes to lose faith in official actions and promises.

The Osaka Mainichi, most powerful paper in Japan's commercial metropolis, blames the entire nation for persons like Namba, "especially the people at the top of the social ladder—officials, statesmen, rich men, capitalists, landlords and the so-called intellectual class"—who, according to the paper, are most to blame for the dangerous state of mind of the people, "created by what these privileged classes are doing and also by what they are leaving undone."

AVENUE OF GOLD DAYS IS DOOMED

Virginia City's Historic C Street Sinking Into "Gloryhole" Abyss

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

VIRGINIA CITY (Nev.) Dec. 7. Virginia City's historic C street, the main thoroughfare of the bonanza days on the Comstock Lode, is doomed by the advance of glory-hole mining operations by the Comstock Merger Mines Company. The company owns the land adjoining the avenue and its southern entrance will soon be a thing of memory.

C street was among the most famous thoroughfares in the West when Virginia City was the largest city between San Francisco and St. Louis. It was thronged day and night by the 50,000 population, and recorded the triumphs of the bonanza kings and the losing and winning of fortunes in a day. Palatial homes and stately business structures graced its length and many historic parades trod its pavements.

It was from this avenue that on the eventful afternoon of July 4, 1863, Mark Twain wrote that, with other thousands, he gazed in awe on the suddenly illuminated Stars and Stripes floating on Mt. Davidson, as the sun burst through veiling clouds and lingered on the banner while all else was in shadow. Twain said that then the people of Virginia City knew a great Union victory had been won days before news was received of Grant's capture of Vicksburg and the shattering of the hopes of the Confederates at Gettysburg.

BISHOP SCORES OPIUM PARLEY

Brent Says First Conference Lame and Inefficient

Statement is Expected at Monday's Session

Nations' Opinions Differ on Board of Control

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS]

GENEVA, Dec. 7.—Bishop Brent of the American delegation did not conceal his dissatisfaction tonight with what he called the "lameness and insufficiency" of the conclusions arrived at by the first opium conference.

A statement from him to that effect will probably be distributed to all the delegates at Monday's plenary session.

Bishop Brent tried to have a plenary session called today so that he could speak his mind before his departure for the United States. It was found impossible to convene a gathering at such short notice, and the bishop absolved the conference authorities of the suspicion that they were trying to evade the issue.

TO PRESENT VIEWS

He declared, however, that he would endeavor to present his views on the conclusions of the first conference to the French and British governments before sailing.

Representative Stephen G. Porter, the chief American delegate made it known tonight that he would read Bishop Brent's statement as soon as the conclusions of the first conference are embodied in an agreement and are placed before the second conference.

A meeting of the business committee Saturday was largely occupied with discussion of just what persons and what nationalities shall compose the central board for control of the world's opium trade, how the board shall be selected, and under whose authority it shall operate.

OPINIONS DIFFER

There still are divergencies of views. For instance, powers outside the League, like the United States and Germany, are not over-eager to have the board operate under the League secretariat, while others, League members, maintain that is the best and most workable solution.

M. Sugimura, of Japan, raised an interesting point; saying that Russia must be induced somehow to co-operate in the central board's work.

BEAUTY EXPERT LICENSES URGED

Regulation Same as Barbers is Being Agitated

Special Knowledge Believed Necessary in Work

"Cosmeticians" Want Tests Made Requirement

BY FREDERIC J. HASKIN

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—How much about beauty culture should a beauty parlor operator be expected to know? And should a saleslgirl at the cosmetics counter be required to know as much about drug preparations as a drug clerk knows about drugs? These questions are engrossing the beauty trade and laws and regulations to settle them are being discussed eagerly.

Agitation on the subject really was started when the barbers began to insist that hair dressers should get barbers' licenses in order to trim women's hair. Several courts rejected the barbers' arguments.

NO SET STANDARDS

Nevertheless, great publicity was given to the fact that barbers are licensed and are expected to have some knowledge of hygiene and physiology on which barber shop practices are based; whereas beauty-parlor operators are not held up to set standards in most places. It was pointed out that cases of barber's itch have greatly diminished since barbers were made to conform to definite sanitary regulations, and that beauty parlor law suits would be less frequent if beauty experts who treat the skin and hair were required to know something about such matters as sanitation, first aid, the structure of the skin, and even chemistry and fundamental principles of bacteriology.

Beauty culturists, after thinking over all of this, decided to welcome regulation of their work. They saw an opportunity to raise their occupation from the level of a simple trade to a more impressive rating somewhere near that of a profession. Workers in almost every occupation in this country seem anxious to raise the prestige of their calling. The real estate dealer wants to be called a realtor and to rank his work with the professions. The electrical expert wants to be known as an electragist and to limit the term to persons who have certain training and ability. The beauty culturists are no exception, and apparently the time is just about ripe for them to make beauty therapy imply a certain definite degree of skill.

DECADENCE FEARED

The condition that is indicated by the money spent on beauty seems a dangerous national tendency to some people. They point out that decadent nations always spend money extravagantly on luxuries of this particular sort. Others, however, say that America's trade in beauty is not a sign of looser morals as it became in Rome and Babylon.

A point made by Max Beerbohm is that in the old and decadent civilizations make-up was frankly artificial. The Egyptians, for instance, who were experts in an exotic art of facial decorations, thought that a vivid green line around the eyes was beautiful. They also admired green shadows beneath the eyes. This sort of make-up may have been beautiful, as a conventional design is beautiful, but it would give the face an unhealthy appearance which Americans today would not admire at all.

The underlying principle of American beauty cults today is healthfulness, and the ghost art in facial make-up is the achievement of a semblance of youth and glowing vigor. Occasionally a cosmetic preparation becomes a fad and is used indiscriminately by persons on whom it does not look natural, as in the case of the popular orange rouge. Yet the basic fact remains that as a people we admire and seek health and the appearance of health, and since the beauty business allied itself with this health idea it is on firmer ground than it has ever been in its history.

LOUISIANA STARTS

Louisiana has taken the first big step toward limiting beauty culture to persons who have proved their fitness to perform the usual work of a hairdressing and beauty parlor. The Louisiana law requires beauty-parlor operators to pass a State examination and to obtain a certificate. Apprentices must have certain educational qualifications and take a thorough course in the work they expect to do. A State certificate can be refused or suspended if the operator is found guilty of inefficiency, or if he or she makes false statements in advertising. There are several other provisions which set a standard for sanitation and efficiency in the beauty parlors of the State.

At its recent convention the American Cosmeticians' Society adopted a model bill, similar to the Louisiana law, providing for the licensing of "practitioners of cosmetic therapy," in the same manner that pharmacists and physicians are licensed to practise their professions. They believe that some other States will enact such laws when the legislatures next convene.

ASKS BONDS FOR TRAFFIC OFFENDERS

San Antonio Judge Takes Action to Bring Violators Into Court

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SAN ANTONIO (Tex.) Dec. 7.—All traffic law violators arrested in the city must either furnish cash bond of $25 at the time of arrest or go to jail. This was the edict handed out by Corporation Judge Onion when eighteen out of fifty-six traffic offenders failed to appear for trial.

This stringent move was made following 274 traffic accidents in the city during November when two men were killed, four small children were maimed for life, twenty-three children were slightly hurt, fourteen adults were seriously injured and ninety-two grown persons were slightly injured in automobile crashes.

A total of 468 private cars and forty-one commercial vehicles, with 444 male drivers and sixty-five women drivers, figured in the 274 accidents. Accidents at street intersections numbered 211, while sixty-three occurred between the streets. One hundred and twenty-eight of the accidents occurred within the one-mile radius. Eight street cars and three railroad trains figured in the accidents for the month. Only one accident occurred off paved streets.

MOTOR USE GROWTH WILL BE DISCUSSED

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

BOSTON, Dec. 7.—Growth in the use of motor vehicles in New England and the expansion of New England's highway system will be stressed in an address on "Commercial Use of New England's Highways" to be made by William F. Williams, State Commissioner of public works, at the New England Motor Transport Conference to be conducted here tomorrow and Tuesday. State and city highway officials from all over New England are expected to be present. Public interest in the transportation problems of New England is manifesting itself in the large number of shippers, railroad and trolley officials, and motor vehicle users who have indicated their intention to attend the conference. Railroad and trolley officials have prominent places as speakers upon the program, and will take a large part in the discussions.

Attorneys Hope to End Case Before Holidays

Ex-Veterans' Bureau Chief Will Take Stand

BY PHILIP KINSLEY
[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

CHICAGO, Dec. 7.—Government and defense attorneys are prepared for a strenuous week in the Forbes - Thompson Veterans' Hospital bribery case in Judge George A. Carpenter's court.

Elias H. Mortimer, confessed accomplice of the men on trial, will be cross-examined Monday morning by Attorney James E. Easby-Smith of Washington, who has been studying the case for more than a year. Many pitfalls have been set for Mortimer, but the government's attorneys expect him to prove a dangerous double-edged buzzsaw for the defense.

There are forty or fifty more government witnesses under subpoena, but the testimony of some of these may be stipulated, and others are expected to be brief. The attorneys are anxious to conclude the case before the holidays. Charles R. Forbes will be the chief witness in his own defense, explaining the innocence of all the acts that have been painted so black by Mortimer and telling of the "frame-up" that has been operating against him for two years.

FINDS CHANCE

In Chicago Forbes finds his long-awaited opportunity to put on his complete defense. It is claimed for him that he never had a fair chance before the Senatorial investigating committee.

Mortimer has talked before two Congressional committees and has appeared in court once. The defense will seek to show that he was a professional bootlegger on a big scale in Washington and that he has told conflicting stories about Forbes.

The attempt to break Mortimer's story will center about the list of hospital sites and plans and the date and manner of the asserted bribery of Forbes in Chicago.

An alibi is expected for Forbes on the day fixed by Mortimer for the exchange of $5000 in the Drake Hotel. Forbes claims that he left the hotel early in the morning and did not come back until evening. Mortimer's story places him in Mortimer's suite with Mrs. Mortimer in the afternoon. Forbes has claimed that he spent the day at the Speedway and other Chicago hospitals and that he had been to see some people who had offered him $20,000 a year to take a new job.

STORIES DIFFER

One of the significant discrepencies in the Mortimer stories concerns his testimony as to the splitting of the 35 per cent of profits of hospital contracts which he had received for himself from Thompson-Black Companies. In the trial he says that he offered one-half of this money to Forbes and that Forbes accepted.

Before the Senatorial committee Mortimer testified on the point as follows:

Maj.-Gen. O'Ryan: Were you required to divide that 35 per cent with any one?

Mr. Mortimer: Yes, sir.

Maj.-Gen. O'Ryan: Did that person have anything to do with the Veterans' Bureau?

Mr. Mortimer: No, sir.

Maj.-Gen. O'Ryan: Is there any objection to stating who your associate was?

Mr. Mortimer: A. M. McDonald of the Patterson-McDonald Shipbuilding Company of Seattle, Wash.

Maj.-Gen. O'Ryan: Do you know where the rest of the gross profits were to go?

Mr. Mortimer: I did not know that.

There is no question but that Mortimer took money from Thompson and Black, but the bribing of Forbes rests entirely on his own story.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

LOUISVILLE, Dec. 7.—Mrs. Nanie J. Keown, 63 years of age, filed suit for divorce at Owensboro against her husband, J. J. Keown, and asks custody of five children, the legal title in 180 acres of land at Band, and $4250, which she says she has spent in the last seventeen years for the support of herself and maintenance of seven children. The petition recites that Mr. and Mrs. Keown were married in Davies county, January 12, 1883, and charges that the husband abandoned his family April 18, 1907. Mrs. Keown says that for seventeen years she has worked on the farm to support her children and during a part of that time was forced to live in a tent, being unable to obtain possession of the farm house. Both parties to the suit are members of pioneer families of Davies county.

MARY MILES IS NOT WED TO OFFICER

Former Screen Star and Navy Commander to be Married Next Week

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

NORFOLK (Va.) Dec. 7.—Mary Miles Minter and Commander Harold Hoffman Ritter, U.S.N., did not get mrarried yesterday, according to the best information obtainable, but they spent several hours in the shopping district. Miss Minter bought a number of pretty things and Commander Ritter helped her pick out several garments.

The wedding will be performed before the United States Collier Jason, of which Commander Ritter is in command, leaves this port early this week. The vessel moved up to the navy yard today from the Hampton Roads Naval Base.

At the Monticello Hotel the former movie actress is registered as Miss Shelby.

An elaborate ball, scheduled for the Jason last night, was called off for some unexplained reason and in its place was a private affair to which only a few friends were invited. An officers' ball on the reservation was attended by all the officers at the base and ships in Hampton Roads excepting a few on the Jason. Officers on the latter ship remained aboard for the party for Miss Minter.

Commander Ritter today denied reports that he is 50 years of age. The Navy Blue Book shows he was born January 28, 1885, and was commissioned a commander July 19, 1919.

The Jason is expected to remain in port until Wednesday when she is scheduled to sail for Cuba to participate in winter maneuvers with the Atlantic division of the United States Fleet. Miss Minter, probably Mrs. Ritter by that time, will go to Key West, it was stated today.

NEWSBOY IS SHIELDED BY INJUNCTION

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

DES MOINES, Dec. 7.—John Jenney, superintendent of public safety, and other city officials are restrained from molesting John E. Nordquist, newsboy, at Seventh and Locust streets, by a temporary injunction issued yesterday by Judge Hubert F. Utterback.

The suit for it was started after Mr. Jenney had informed Nordquist he could no longer maintain his business on the street corner.

Nordquist was a candidate for the office of superintendent of public safety against Mr. Jenney and others in the last city election.

A little dry goods box and rack on which Nordquist displays his papers is worth between $2000 and $3000, Nordquist stated.

By hard work and industry he has built up his business to a point where it is lucrative and he alleges that it is injurious to no one but is beneficial to the public and that hundreds of patrons greet him daily with joy and good will and enjoy buying papers from him.

He alleges that Mr. Jenney has visited him in his place of business and advised him to close up and has instructed police to tear down his racks and other fixtures which he has built to display his papers on.

Yuma Indians Given Resurvey of Allotments

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

YUMA (Ariz.) Dec. 7.—A. L. Wachen, civil engineer in the Indian irrigation service, is at Fort Yuma with a party of surveyers making a complete resurvey of the Yuma Indian reservation, across the Colorado River in California, which comprises several thousand acres of river bottom and silt lands that belong to the Yuma tribe.

A portion of this land already has been allotted, but considerable dissatisfaction has existed among the Indians as to their holdings. The entire reservation will be resurveyed and those Indians who have been allotted a poor grade of soil, or who are dissatisfied with their location, will be given an opportunity to change to another location, and those to whom no allotment has been made will be given their land.

Each Indian, male or female, including children, is entitled to ten acres of land with free water.

Loan May Halt Teacher Strike Over Salaries

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 7.—The teachers' strike at New Bloomfield, which started last Wednesday because the Board of Education was unable to pay salaries will be ended Tuesday if a contemplated loan by townspeople is raised. The Bank of New Bloomfield failed last spring, carrying with it $8000 in Board of Education money. Contractors refused to turn a new high school building over to the board because there was no money forthcoming. Classes were held in churches, vacant buildings and other available places. Last Wednesday the twelve teachers in the school were notified salaries for the remainder of the year could not be guaranteed. They voted a strike.

PRESCRIBES FUEL SIZE

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 7.—In an effort to reduce the smoke nuisance that results from the burning of soft coal, dealers of this city have adopted a standard size coal to be sold to residents. This action was taken on the advice of Smoke Commissioner Karl, who advised the use of egg-size coal to promote better firing. The large lump coal, he said, causes more smoke and more waste than a smaller, even-sized coal.

These gods also made overtures to White Fang, but he warned them off with a snarl, and the master did likewise with word of mouth. At such times White Fang leaned in close against the master's legs and received reassuring pats on head.

The hound, under the command, "Dick! Lie down, sir!" had gone up the steps and lain down to one side on the porch, still growling and keeping a sullen watch on the intruder. Collie had been taken in charge by one of the woman-gods, who held arms around her neck and petted and caressed her; but Collie was very much perplexed and worried, whining and restless, outraged by the permitted presence of this wolf and confident that the gods were making a mistake.

All the gods started up the steps to enter the house. White Fang followed closely at the master's heels. Dick, on the porch, growled, and White Fang, on the steps, bristled and growled back.

"Take Collie inside and leave the two of them to fight it out," suggested Scott's father. "After that they'll be friends."

"Then White Fang, to show his friendship, will have to be chief mourner at the funeral," laughed the master.

The elder Scott looked incredulously, first at White Fang, then at Dick, and finally at his son.

"You mean that . . . ?"

Weedon nodded his head. "I mean just that. You'd have a dead Dick inside one minute—two minutes at the farthest."

White Fang walked stiff-legged up the steps and across the porch, with tail rigidly erect, keeping his eyes on Dick to guard against a flank attack, and at the same time prepared for whatever fierce manifestation of the unknown that might pounce out upon him from the interior of the house. But nothing of fear pounced out, and when he had gained the inside he scouted carefully around, looking for it and finding it not. Then he lay down with a contented grunt at the master's feet, observing all that went on, ever ready to spring to his feet and fight for life with the terrors he felt must lurk under the trap-roof of the dwelling.

CHAPTER III

The God's Domain

Not only was White Fang adaptable by nature, but he had traveled much, and knew the meaning and necessity of adjustment. Here, in Sierra Vista, which was the name of Judge Scott's place, White Fang quickly began to make himself at home. He had no further serious trouble with the dogs. They knew more about the ways of the Southland gods than did he, and in their eyes he had qualified when he accompanied the gods inside the house. Wolf that he was, and unprecedented as it was, the gods had sanctioned his presence, and they, the dogs of the gods, could only recognize this sanction.

Dick, perforce, had to go through a few stiff formalities at first, after which he calmly accepted White Fang as an addition to the premises. Had Dick had his way, they would have been good friends; but White Fang was averse to friendship. All he asked of other dogs was to be let alone. His whole life he had kept aloof from his kind, and he still desired to keep aloof. Dick's overtures bothered him, so he snarled Dick away. In the north he had learned the lesson that he must let the master's dogs alone, and he did not forget that lesson now. But he! insisted on his own privacy and self-seclusion, and so thoroughly ignored Dick that that good-natured creature finally gave him up and scarcely took as much interest in him as in the hitching-post near the stable.

Not so with Collie. While she accepted him because it was the mandate of the gods, that was no reason that she should leave him in peace. Woven into her being was the memory of countless crimes he and his had perpetrated against her ancestry. Not in a day nor a generation was the ravaged sheepfolds to be forgotten. All this was a spur to her, pricking her to retaliation. She could not fly in the face of the gods who permitted him, but that did not prevent her from making life miserable for him in petty ways. A feud ages old, was between them, and she, for one, would see to it that he was reminded.

So Collie took advantage of her sex to pick upon White Fang and maltreat him. His instinct would not permit him to attack her, while her persistence would not permit him to ignore her. When she rushed at him he turned his fur-protected shoulder to her sharp teeth and walked away stiff-legged and stately. When she forced him too hard, he was compelled to go about in a circle, his shoulder presented to her, his head turned from her, and on his face and in his eyes a patient and bored expression. Sometimes, however, a nip on his hind-quarters hastened his retreat and made it anything but stately. But as a rule he managed to maintain a dignity that was almost solemnity. He ignored her existence whenever it was possible and made it a point to keep out of her way. When he saw or heard her coming, he got up and walked off.

There was much in other matters for White Fang to learn. Life in the Northland was simplicity itself when compared with the complicated affairs of Sierra Vista. First of all, he had to learn the family of the master. In a way he was prepared to do this. As Mis-tah and Kloo-kooch had belonged to Gray Beaver, sharing his food, his fire, and his blankets, so now, at Sierra Vista, belonged to the love-master all the denizens of the house.

But in this matter there was a difference, and many differences. Sierra Vista was a far vaster affair than the tepee of Gray Beaver. There were many persons to be considered. There was Judge Scott, and there was his wife. There were the master's two sisters, Beth and Mary. There was his wife, Alice, and then there were his children, Weedon and Maud, toddlers of four and six. There was no way for anybody to tell him about all these people, and of blood-ties and relationship he knew nothing whatever and never would be capable of knowing. Yet he quickly worked it out that all of them belonged to the master. Then, by observation, whenever opportunity offered, by study of action, speech, and the very intonations of the voice, he slowly learned the intimacy and the degree of favor they enjoyed with the master. And by this ascertained standard, White Fang treated them accordingly. What was of value to the master he valued: what was dear to the master was to be cherished by White Fang and guarded carefully.

Thus it was with the two children. All his life he had disliked children. He hated and feared their hards. The lessons were not tender that he had learned of their tyranny and cruelty in the days of the Indian villages. When Weedon and Maud had first approached him, he growled warningly and looked malignant. A cuff from the master and a sharp word had then compelled him to permit their caresses, though he growled and growled under their tiny hands, and in the growl there was no crooning note. Later, he observed that the boy and girl were of great value in the master's eyes. Then it was that no cuff nor sharp word was necessary before they could pat him.

Yet White Fang was never effusively affectionate.

PLATICAS DE LOS LUNES

NUMERO 3

Aquellos tiempos de verbo que, conforme a las reglas que se han dado, lleven acento, lo conservarán, cuando se les añada un sufijo: subióse, abrile.

La preposición a y las conjunciones e, o, u, antes eran acentuadas; pero la Real Academia reformó sus reglas sobre el caso y ya no se acentúan. De esta regla queda exceptuada la conjunción o, en el caso único de estar colocada entre guarismos: 20 ó 30 personas.

Solo, si es usado como adverbio; debe ser acentuada; si se usa como adjetivo, va sin acento: sólo te referiré un solo caso. El, usado como artículo, no se acentúa; pero si como pronombre; él mismo me refirió el caso. Mi y tu, este, ese, aquel, los femeninos de los tres últimos, y los plurales de estos deben acentuarse, como pronombres y no como adjetivos: fué él quien tomó el lápiz; mi proyecto se refiere a mí solo; tú sabes que esta es tu casa; éstos son los críticos de estos tiempos, etc. Mas se acentúa si se usa como adverbio de comparación y no cuando se emplea como conjunción adversativa; le he visto, mas no quiero verle más. Si, se acentúa como pronombre o adverbio de afirmación y no se acentúa como conjunción: Si guarda todo para sí, nunca podré decirle que sí. Se es preposición y dé es tiempo de verbo: que me dé de lo que haya. Se es pronombre y sé tiempo de verbo; sé mi salvación, porque sé que se llegará ese caso. Aun debe acentuarse siempre que vaya después de verbo; nunca antes: aun no se si habrá llegado; no ha llegado aún.

La acentuación prosódica que se da a determinadas dicciones, por razón de énfasis, por ser cláusulas interrogativas o admirativas, pide que tales voces sean acentuadas, y así admite la Academia que se haga, aun cuando se aparten de las reglas establecidas; tales voces son: este, ese, aquel, cual, cuyo, quien, cuanto, los femeninos de las tres primeras y de cuyo, y los plurales de todas.

Nótese que la mayor parte de estas voces han sido mencionadas en el párrafo tercero de esta plática formando parte del grupo de términos sujetos a dejerminadas reglas para su acentuación ortográfica, lo cual, aparentemente, parece una redundancia. La razón que he tenido al separar, en el párrafo anterior, estas voces, es la de que en este mismo orden y admitiéndolas como voces que deben acentuarse sólo por razón de énfasis, las trae la gramática de la Real Academia, siendo opinión de los demas lingüistas que he consultado, como de Toro y Rivodó, dejar sentado como regla fija, la forma de acentuación de tales vocablos.

He reñido a un hostelero.
¿Por qué? ¿dónde? ¿cuándo?
¿cómo?
Porque donde cuando como
Sirven mal, me desespero.

NUMERO 4

Establece la Real Academia Española que en las voces agudas, donde concurran una vocal fuerte y una débil, acentuada esta última, la vocal débil debe llevar acento ortográfico; como en las dicciones país, ataúd, raúl, baúl.

En las voces graves, en que haya encuentro de dos vocales; cargando el acento sobre la vocal débil, esta debe acentuarse, aun cuando se infrinja la regla establecida, para las palabras graves terminadas en so en n; por ejemplo; poesía, Isaías, tenían.

Los monosílabos con diptongo, llevan acento en la vocal fuerte: fué; dió vié.

Esta regla establecida por la gramática de la Academia, merece la crítica del reputado autor de Toro y Gisbert, quien no ve la razón para disponer que tales monosílabos lleven acento ortográfico, ya que los diptongos deben considerarse propiamente como una sola vocal. Critica el propio del Toro que la Real Academia haya dispuesto que el vocablo pie, no sea acentuado, excluyéndolo de la regla antes referida.

Sobre el caso opinan otras autoridades gramaticales y aplauden la disposición de la Academia, respecto a no acentuar el vocablo pie; ya que pié es un tiempo del verbo piar.

En cambio en casos en que no puede confundirse una y otra vos, se encuentra autorizado el acento por la Academia; como en "tiraplié."

Las reglas y observaciones que anteceden, son las mas salientes para la debida acentuacion de las voces castellanas; si se tienen presentes las primeras y se fija la debida atención sobre las segundas, con toda facilidad se puede acentuar con toda propiedad lo escrito.

Hay muchas opiniones contradictorias, mas o menos fundadas, respecto a las disposiciones de la Academia, en materia del acento ortográfico. Quizá algunos que opinan en contra de tales disposiciones tengan razón; pero si en el breve espacio de estas pláticas tratara de pasar revista, aunque fuera brevemente, a algunas de esas opiniones, además de resultar fatigoso para los lectores de esta sección, sembraría confusión en aquellos que tratan de obtener una enseñanza para la práctica de la lengua castellana, lo cual sería un resultado contraproducente al que se propone la dirección de este diario.

Para finalizar esta plática, debo decir que en castellano, propiamente, no hay mas acento que el "acento agudo", usado comunmente en lo que se escribe en este idioma. Han caído en completo desuso el acento grave, que se escribía en sentido opuesto al agudo y el "circunflejo" que tuvo la función de cambiar el sonido de la ch en c fuerte y el de la x en s y no en j como se usó en la antigüedad.

ACID TEST DISSOLVES FRIENDSHIP

Lifetime Bond Severed by Oklahoman's Damage Suit Against Chums

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

TULSA (Okla.) Dec. 7.—Back in Sedan, Chautauqua county, Kans., forty years ago, Charley Peters, Alva Niles and Charley Brewer were boys together.

They came to Oklahoma in the early days of this territory, and after years of separation were reunited here, all financially interested in the same successful bank.

But now a lifelong friendship hangs in the balance. Charles B. Peters, rich oil man, banker and associated with former Gov. Charles N. Haskell in the Middle States Oil Company, is suing Brig.-Gen. Alva J. Niles of the Oklahoma National Guard, and Charles W. Brewer, prominent Tulsan, for $60,000 damages, based on an asserted "bad tip."

The three disposed of stock in their bank. Niles and Brewer sold at a profit but Peters lost, his petition said, and he blames his chums of a lifetime.

LONG TAXI RIDE ENDS IN JAIL

Driver Accepts Assorted Bad Check for $75 Tour in Auto

[By a "Times" Staff Correspondent.]

LONG BEACH, Dec. 7.—A long-distance taxi ride, which covered a good part of Southern California and extended over a period of twenty-seven hours, ended in jail yesterday for Courtney Kier, 21 years of age, and George Stocklass, 22, both living at 1733 Cerritos avenue. The two youths hired a cab early yesterday morning for a short drive. They arrived at their destination and discovered they had no money to pay the driver, George Arnold. So they decided to postpone the crisis and commanded the driver to go on. In this manner they rode for twenty-seven hours, visiting Los Angeles, Hollywood, Pasadena, Lynwood and many other towns. Finally the youths are declared by the driver to have made out a check and tendered this to him in payment. The check was for $75. He accepted it and brought his passengers home.

Then he went to the bank. There he was informed that the youths had no account. So he sped back to their home and took them to the City Jail. There they were charged with issuing and passing a worthless check.

Protest Water Grant Made by State Board

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SAN DIEGO, Dec. 7.—Decision of the State Department of Public Works, granting to the Coronado Water Company the right to pump water from the Tia Juana reservoir basin is protested by ranchers and other interests in the southern part of the county, who have demanded a review of the award.

Application for the writ of review has been made by Frank B. Beyers, a large land owner, and others and approved by Superior Judge William Crey. At the same time application by the Coronado Water Company to quash the proceedings was denied.

Beyers and others oppose the grant made to the water company, asserting that the underground water is needed by the ranchers of that section. At the hearing before representatives of the Board of Public Works, engineers testified that an immense storage basin underlies the section and that the average of 3,500,000 gallons daily awarded the Coronado Water Company would make no appreciable reduction in the supply. The water company intends to supply Coronado and North Island with water for domestic purposes from the supply awarded it by the State Department.

City to Lease Ground for Use of Sanatoriums

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

MONROVIA, Dec. 3.—A tract of land at the mouth of Monrovia Canyon has been opened by the city for exclusive use of tuberculosis hospitals. The City Engineer has just completed the map for the tract and City Manager Harry Scorille announces leases will be offered by the city to sanatoriums. This is a result of the order of the City Trustees that all sanatoriums must be removed outside the city limits by April 1, 1925.

There are twenty sites in the canyon tract and one has been tentatively leased to A. Edlestein of Los Angeles. According to the terms of the lease building must be started within sixty days after the lease is signed and in case the building is destroyed by fire or other causes it must be rebuilt within ninety days. The period of the leases for the sites is ten years but with option of renewal for another ten-year period.

The leases state that the property can be used only for the maintenance and operation of a sanatorium or tuberculosis hospital.

Street to be Made Part of New Highway

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

OXNARD, Dec. 7.—The special committee of the Oxnard Boulevard Association, which was appointed to investigate the proposition of widening Oxnard Boulevard, formerly Saviors Road, has recommended that the thoroughfare be widened twenty feet. Those on the committee are W. H. Lathrop, A. J. Dingeman, John W. Rooney, Ernest Eastwood, Percy Dennis and Max Folcke.

It is expected that definite action will be taken on this recommendation at a general meeting of the association to be held in the near future. The Oxnard Boulevard Association is composed of property owners of that street and was organized recently when the question of widening the thoroughfare became one of the most important issues ever placed before Oxnard property owners.

The street is one of the most prominent in the city and will be a part of the State coast highway in the very near future. It is now seventy feet wide and will be too narrow to accommodate the traffic when the coast road around the Point Magu is completed. Many of the property owners are willing to give ten feet of their property and are in favor of the widening proposition but there are others who oppose it.

BOY SCOUTS TO NURSE GROWING PINE TREES

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

SAN FERNANDO, Dec. 7.—When Boy Scouts of the San Fernando Valley Council go to their summer camp at Lake Elizabeth on the 15th inst. for the Christmas vacation, each boy will take along a pine tree and plant it on or near the camp site, it was stated today by Delmar Von Glahn, scout executive of the valley council. The innovation is a plan of the Boy Scouts to replace trees that have been destroyed by forest fires. Each scout after planting his tree will look after its welfare the following summer, contriving by Boy Scout methods a plan that will give the tree sufficient water during the dry season.

UNIQUE CHURCH SERVICE

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

HUNTINGTON PARK, Dec. 7.—What proved to be a most unique idea, at the close of the regular services at the Methodist Episcopal Church this morning, was that of serving lunch by the ladies of the church. Scores of those who had attended the services, partook of an Armenian meal as a substitute for the American Sunday dinner contributing the difference in cost to the Armenian Relief fund. The sermon during the morning service was an appeal for the Armenians.

CIRCULATE NEW PETITIONS

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

SOUTH PASADENA, Dec. 7.—An entire new set of petitions demanding the recall of two South Pasadena City Trustees will be put in circulation to replace the set already filed with the City Clerk and which were thrown out on a technicality.

This announcement was made last night at a meeting of the Las Flores Civic Association, an organization which has instigated the recall movement. It was disclosed by R. L. Mason, president of the organization, that the petitions signed by 699 residents of South Pasadena were declared null and void by the City Attorney because they carried no data. Although it is possible to make the petitions good by court action, it was deemed advisable at the meeting to circulate new petitions in lieu of this court proceeding.

It was also decided to recall three Trustees instead of only the two named in the previous petitions. Walter Gillette and E. Gruettner were the two Trustees named in the petitions and charged with illegal acts in office. Now it has been decided to include the name of Trustee Mygatt since it is asserted that he voluntarily has assumed equal responsibility with the other two Trustees in the actions named by the petitioners. Officers of the association further assured the gathering that they would not be sued for libel as has been threatened if they sign the petition. A taxpayers' league has been formed and it will take complete charge of the recall movement and campaign.

Court's Ruling Puts Limit on Old Man's Pipe

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

RIVERSIDE, Dec. 7.—Faced with the choice of smoking his pipe nowhere except in his own house or yard or spending thirty days in the County Jail, George Pfau, aged Aguanga mountain rancher, yesterday decided to give up his pipe.

Pfau, who is nearly 69 years old, admitted in Justice Court at Ramona, San Diego county, that the Aguanga mountain fire of November 23 was started by sparks from his pipe, while he was hunting some of his goats.

The court sentenced Pfau to thirty days in the County Jail, but because of the man's advanced age, agreed to suspend the sentence on condition that Pfau promise not to smoke outside of his own home or yard for a period of six months. Pfau promised and court adjourned.

Forest Ranger H. I. Snider of Aguanga made the arrest and appeared against Pfau.

Auto Thief Warns Chief of His Future Actions

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

INGLEWOOD, Dec. 7.—A second defiance addressed to Chief Charles H. White of the Inglewood police department, and a threat to steal an automobile on each of the next two holidays, have been received by the Chief from the individual who signs himself "Jack Stone."

"I took a car on Armistice night and I am going to pick out another car for Christmas and New Year's nights. See if you can catch me if you can in Inglewood, Lennox or Hawthorne. Your enemy, Jack Stone," the badly spelled and almost illegibly scrawled and dirty message reads. The Chief suspects a certain youthful incorrigible whose reading is largely of the blood-and-thunder variety. In the meantime the official attitude is that of watchful waiting.

FIND DUPLICATE LICENSE PLATES

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

GLENDALE, Dec. 7.—Police are investigating what is declared to be a duplicate issue of automobile plates, as the result of the capture of a car at Los Vegas, N. M., that is believed to have been stolen.

The plates on the car bore the same number as those issued to James Hodson, 1242 South Mariposa street, Glendale, and it was at first thought that the car taken up in New Mexico had been stolen from him. Investigation proved, however, that Hodson still had his own car and that he is the rightful owner of the number on the plates.

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

PASADENA, Dec. 7.—A fan tan game in which the stakes were as high as $3500 a throw was broken up by Detective Sergeants William A. Beal and Harry Thomas last night and three players were arrested.

The gambling was being carried on in a cleverly hidden Chinese den at Pico street and Fair Oaks avenue.

When officers broke down the doors they found $3500 in silver and currency on the table. Due to a technicality this sum could not be confiscated by the officers. The three arrested gave their names as Ah Sing, Ah Fock and Ah Won. Bail of $350 was deposited by the trio.

The Borestone Ranch farm and another one have been operating for two or three years and are making excellent progress. Mr. Carter comes from the Prince Edward Island ranch of W. K. Rogers in Canada, the largest silver fox farm in the world.

G. B. Loust, a veterinarian and a man of much experience, will be in direct charge of the animals. It is said the cost of raising the animals is less than $200 a year and that they are valued at from $3000 to $6000 each when full grown and in good condition.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

EL CENTRO, Dec. 7.—Growers planted 21,853 acres of land to lettuce in Imperial Valley this year, according to a survey completed here by C. W. Runge, district commercial agent of the Southern Pacific Railway Company.

This indicates a probable production of nearly 10,000 carloads of winter head lettuce, in the opinion of Mr. Runge. The first carload of valley lettuce is expected to be started out within the next few days and by the first of January the shipments are expected to reach 100 carloads daily. The condition of the valley lettuce crop is pronounced excellent. No plant pests have been reported this year.

MOVE BEGUN TO EQUALIZE CAR FARES

Chambers in San Fernando Valley Also Will Tackle Intercity Mail Problem

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

LANKERSHIM, Dec. 7.—A better system in electric railway fares between Los Angeles and all San Fernando Valley points, the appointment of an Assistant City Superintendent of Schools to handle valley school work, and a full time health officer who will confine his activities to the valley, are among projects contemplated for the betterment of the valley by the Associated Chambers of Commerce of San Fernando Valley, it was announced yesterday by O. J. Renfrew, secretary.

Electric and bus fares are now engaging the attention of a special committee appointed by the association. Fares at present range from 75 cents for the trip from Hollywood to San Fernando, the trolley lines receiving 57 cents of the amount, to a 50-cent fare by stage via Burbank, and by way of Fernangles and Lankershim for 44 cents. The committee is endeavoring to have these numerously conflicting fares equalized by the State Railroad Commission.

The mail situation in the valley also is receiving the attention of the associated chambers, due to the fact that all mail originating in the valley must be sent to Los Angeles before it may be sent to other valley points, or to eastern or northern destinations.

The committee making effort to have a new system inaugurated has hopes that it may induce the Postoffice Department to establish a central distributing office at Van Nuys or Lankershim.

ASK SECOND ANNULMENT

Parents Determined to Break Marriage Vows

Wedding at El Centro is Held Illegal

Young Couple Try Again in Mexico

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SAN DIEGO, Dec. 7.—Their first marriage having been annulled by the bride's parents on the grounds that the daughter was too young, Stanley Hill and Fay Anna Wetzell went to Mexicali October 26 and were married. The young couple now face a second annulment suit brought by Mr. and Mrs. Fred A. Wetzell, the suit having been filed in Superior Court here yesterday.

The complaint recites that Hill married Miss Wetzell, 17 years of age, on August 4 at El Centro. Learning of the marriage, the parents brought suit in the Superior Court of Imperial Valley for annulment of the marriage on the ground that the girl was not of age and did not have the consent of her parents. The decree of annulment was granted November 5, but the young couple, realising that the courts of this country were about to part them, went to Mexicali on October 26 and again went through a marriage ceremony before a Mexican justice of the peace.

The parents learned of the second marriage a few days ago. It is this ceremony that the suit filed yesterday seeks to have annulled.

Vernon Club Has Deal on for Three Men

Bill Essick, silent manager of the Vernon Tigers, left Chicago Saturday and will arrive home tomorrow, it was announced last night by Howard Lorenz, secretary of the Tigers, who received a telegram from the "bafflin' one" last night. Essick has been in the East attending the national minor league meeting at Hartford, Ct.

Essick also stated in his wire that Charley Fulton, right-hand pitcher secured from the Atlanta club late last season to help out the Tigers when all their pitchers went on the bum, had been sold outright to the Evansville club in the Three-I League.

The Bengal boss also wired that he has deals on for two good pitchers and a hard-hitting outfielder. Essick stated that he was not at liberty to make public the names of the three players, but that he felt pretty certain that the Vernon club would get all of the men.

Essick had quite a busy time at Hartford, trading Shellenback for Hemingway of the Solons, purchasing Ike Wolfer, Portland outfielder, and swapping Walter Kimmick to the Philadelphia Nationals for Phil Weinert, young southpaw hurler.

Hurst Plays Golding for Golf Trophy

E. R. Hurst, president of the California Country Club, reached the finals of the Harry Culver trophy tournament over the week-end and will meet Fred Golding for the cup this week. The tournament is at handicap, so Golding will have the advantage of eight strokes.

Johnny Mewcal, Los Angeles city champion, brought the highest price paid for a player in the Calcutta pool, which precedes the annual club championship tournament. R. G. Cawsey was the next favored, and Cliff Back followed in golfing popularity. Qualifying rounds for the tournament will be played next week-end.

HEAVY MAIL FOR HOOKER CROOK

Hooker Crook is carrying on a heavy correspondence with the cross-word puzzle fans, who have been sending in an interesting assortment of answers to the puzzle published in these columns Sunday. Letters with answers poured in all afternoon and evening yesterday, coming by mail, messenger, and even being delivered personally.

At a late hour last night no correct answer had been received, one or two of the words spoiling an otherwise perfect solution in every case. The first correct solution will win two tickets to the U.S.C.-Missouri football game Christmas Day. Those who have already sent in answers are permitted to try again.

SPEEDWAY EVENT IS POSTPONED

Threatening Weather is Reason for Deferring Culver City Dedication

There was no race on the new $1,000,000 speedway at Culver City yesterday afternoon. The speed classic was postponed on account of the rain and is to be run off next Sunday, the 14th inst., according to the announcement of A. M. Young, president and manager of the Speedway Corporation of Los Angeles, last night.

The postponement was announced yesterday morning at 9 o'clock after it had started to rain in various sections of the city. Young had gone to the speedway at an early hour and found that there was every possibility of a rain. He called Richard Kennerdell, chairman of the contest board of the A.A.A., who is here from Franklin, Pa., for the race as a guest at the Los Angeles Athletic Club, and Kennerdell hurried to the track. It was sprinkling at the time and after a brief conference between the A.A.A. executive and speedway officials, Young announced the postponement and named next Sunday as the day of the postponed classic.

The United States is to be invited to send a tennis team for a series of competitions in Australia.

LAWBAUGH IS STAR OF GAME

Idaho Gridders Win Title of Battleship Division

Deceptive Offensive Play is Rewarded by Victory

Spectacular Football Marks Final Period

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

LOS ANGELES HARBOR, Dec. 7.—Bret Harte sang: "For ways that are dark, and tricks that are vain, the heathen Chinee is peculiar."

But that wily oriental had nothing on Lieut. Larue Charles Lawbaugh, coach, captain and quarterback of the U.S.S. Idaho football team, who, at Trona Field this afternoon, made himself immortal in the United States Navy. The Idaho eleven won the championship of the battleship divisions, 17 to 7, from the U.S.S. Pennsylvania in a contest that, according to men who were officers in the service when Lieut. Lawbaugh was a baby, was the greatest football game in the Navy's history.

The Idaho men went on the field with the world against them, facing a heavier, speedy line and a built Richardson backfield, on a muddy field, in a steady, drizzle. Their ship, with its 1500 rooters, was 1300 miles away on Puget Sound.

DECEPTION

Nothing but a foxy, deceptive offensive, backed by heroic playing, could have beaten the Pennsylvania this afternoon. Lawbauch was a hero among eleven heroes who made a great portion of 10,000 rain-soaked fans fight to grab their hands.

Lieut. Lawbaugh drew first blood of the game when he booted a goal from placement square between the posts after twenty minutes of heart-breaking line bucking by both squads. Three minutes later Ensign Hughes, Pennsylvania quarter, shot a 20-yard pass to Wentworth, who dodged Lawbaugh and packed the ball 30 yards for a touchdown. Hughes kicked goal.

In the third quarter the Keystoners threatened three times to increase their lead, but lost the ball on downs at the crucial points. Just before the end of the stanza, however, Lawbaugh fooled the entire Pennsy line into breaking up a fake buck and then shot

Odds Even on Gibbons and Norfolk for Heavyweight Bout Tomorrow Night

BOXERS READY FOR BIG SCRAP

Tommy No Longer Favorite in Betting on Fight

Experts Don't Like Form He Shows in Training

Flowers-Wilson Battle Will be a Humdinger

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

NEW YORK, Dec. 7.—Tommy Gibbons, who ruled as a 4-to-1 favorite over Kid Norfolk a week ago, is now on even terms with the Harlem negro for the heavyweight battle in Madison Square Garden Tuesday night. Gibbons's training has been unimpressive, while the Kid has demonstrated his class by socking a dwindling bunch of sparring partners all over the place. Many boxing writers frankly state that Gibbons does not look half as good as he did before he toured Europe.

The ten-round semifinal between Tiger Flowers and Johnny Wilson promises to be a real battle and the fans are just about as much interested in its outcome as they are over the main jam.

Flowers has a wonderful knockout record, and while it is generally believed he is strictly a left-hander, his manager says he is just as good with either hand and that it is a mistake to call him a southpaw. Wilson is a left-hander, and the former middleweight champion has never tried to deny it. He ought to make it a sure-enough tough fight.

MISSOURI TEAM IS RATED HIGH

determine the strength of football teams, the Tigers are better than any team in the Western Conference, known as the "Big Ten," and as good as any in the East or the country for that matter with the exception of Notre Dame, and the Tigers would give Notre Dame a battle.

Missouri's record for the year is a remarkable one. In the first game of the season the Tigers defeated Chicago and Chicago won the championship of the Big Ten. Missouri then went about the task of winning the conference championship and captured five out of six games. The Tigers lost to Nebraska, when they had an off day, but they beat Oklahoma, which team defeated Nebraska, and also defeated the Kansas Aggies, Kansas University, Iowa State (a team that tied Minnesota and Minnesota beat Illinois) and Washington.

CLOSE BATTLES

The Tigers won all but the Washington game by close scores, showing that their defense was more powerful than their offense, but they have plenty of scoring power.

Gwinn Henry, head coach at Missouri, has a veteran team this year. He will lose most of his line and part of his backfield when the candidates for the 1925 eleven report. This team has been together for three years and all of the regulars have played together two seasons.

The power of the defense is due to the fact that Henry is a splendid line coach. His backfield he left largely to Harry Kipke, the celebrated Michigan star, who served as assistant coach this year.

One man stands out in the Missouri line. He is Clyde Smith, a 165-pound center. He plays roving center and he gets more tackles than any other man on the team. Actual statistics on games have shown that Smith got 40 per cent of the tackles. He is a perfect passer, a power on the attack and his defensive play is so good that he has been named all-valley center for all time by some writers who have followed football in this section for years.

DOUBLE THREAT

Arthur Bond, captain and halfback, is another star. He can plunge the line, run the ends, and he can pass. Bond is almost 50 per cent of the backfield strength. Whiteman, a halfback, virtually defeated Kansas this year by sensational runs after diving off tackle. Jackson made a sixty-yard run against Kansas. He is a splendid open-field man and a good quarterback. Reurot, the fullback, is also a veteran and good. Speed is the main asset of the backfield.

VanDyne, a tackle, has been named on Knute Rockne's all-western team. Walsh at end is one of the best wing men in the valley.

Coach Henry not only has a strong, veteran regular team, but he is well fortified with reserves. If the team has a weakness it is in the kicking department as Henry has not developed a punter who classes with some of the others in the valley.

THREE POINTS IN THE MAKING

the ball over the pile of scrimmage to Kasnier, who raced 40 yards for the touchdown. He was tackled by Navarro just before he crossed the line and got the ball over by about two stitches. Lawbaugh converted.

The south quarter opened with the big spectacular play of the game. It was the Idaho's fourth down on their own 5-yard line. Wickens started to punt, but instead shot the ball to Chief Fielding, who caught it with one hand on the dead run, and then raced 80 yards down the field before he was downed by Thomas. The famous Indian back displayed remarkable broken-field ability as he dodged and straight-armed his way through the opposition.

Lawbaugh failed to make a placement kick and the Pennsylvania took the ball in a desperate attempt to regain the loss. The Keystoners looked dangerous for several minutes, until Lawbaugh picked a Pennsylvania pass out of the air. He advanced the ball but Fielding failed to make another placement kick and the Penny took the ball for a series of spectacular passes that came within an ace of giving them the title. Hughes shot two beauties to Wentworth and Thomas that netted forty yards.

FORTY YARDS

On the next play, however, Knapp intercepted dHughes's pass under the Idaho goal posts and carted it forty yards. A minute later Chief Fielding cinched the struggle by staging a beautiful forty-five-yard run for a touchdown after receiving a pass from Lawbaugh.

The game was filled with exciting incidents. Wickens, the Idahoe' corking fullback, collapsed on the side line after limping over with a cracked ankle in the last few minutes of play. Ensign Massie Hughes, Penny quarter, carried the ball eight straight times in two instances in a desperate attempt to score.

It is doubtful if there has been a collegiate game this year as cleanly played and in which such a combination of brains, teamwork and spirit was displayed. Hughes, Cheslke, Flood and Wentworth played great football for the Pennsylvania, while a great share of the Idahoe' glory must go to Fielding, Wickens, Knapp, Lowry and Kasnier.

HARD TURF FIGHT

Tingling, at the top-heavy odds of $29.40 to $1, and Golden Rod, another outsider, fought it out in the final race of the day, to the utter disregard of Frank Fogarty and The Lamb, favorites, which ran unplaced. Tingling liked the heavy going and so did Golden Rod. The track was heavy from recent rains.

First race, six furlongs—Mayor Hoss (Moffitt) won, Perserverer (Francisco) second, Emma Williams (Dillon) third. Time, 1:13 1-5.
Second race, six furlongs — Margaret Ellery (Fisher) won, Mad Nell (Pizarello) second, Briar Beast (Malm) third. Time, 1:16.

GLENDALE FACES ORANGE

Prep Elevens Must Play Off Tie for Right to Meet Compton; South Out of State Play-off

Although the C.I.F. has ruled that the south shall not take part in the play-off for the State interscholastic grid title this year due to the inability of its teams to get through their play-off in time, play for the Southern California prep football championship will continue.

Compton won the right to be a finalist by defeating Santa Maria Saturday, but the other semifinal game resulted in a scoreless tie between Orange and Glendale. Orange and Glendale must meet again this week to determine which eleven shall play Coach E. W. Pine's Comptonites.

W. Pine's Comptonites. The squads will settle their dispute for keeps next Saturday afternoon at the Coliseum, according to H. M. Moore, president of the C.I.F.

Saturday's tie between Orange and Glendale was the third during the play-off for the Southern California title. The first tie resulted when Glendale met Van Nuys, the score being 6 to 6. Van Nuys was later eliminated by Santa Maria. On Thanksgiving Day Compton and Pomona finished in a 13-to-13 deadlock. Five days later the two teams met again, with Compton winning, 35 to 20.

By the process of comparison, Compton is stronger than either Orange or Glendale. Compton defeated Santa Maria by 10 points, while Santa Maria defeated Van Nuys by 32 points. Inasmuch as Van Nuys tied Glendale and Glendale tied Orange, Compton is 42 points better than either Orange or Glendale. The only trouble is that rating teams by comparative scores doesn't always work out.

The play-off in the north is proceeding along smoothly. "Goldy" Griffith's Bakersfield Drillers, State champions for the past four years, are continuing right merrily on their way to a fifth title. Last Saturday the Drillers smothered Lemoore, 52 to 0, which goes to prove that "Goldy" has quite an outfit.

Berkeley, which met Bakersfield in the finals for three years in a row, but fell before Lick-Wilmerding last fall, is once more on the football map with the championship of the North Coast section tucked away. Lodi, coached by "Mugs" Van Sant, captured the Northern California title last Saturday by trouncing Oroville, 20 to 6, and will tackle Berkeley this week. The winner of the Lodi-Berkeley clash will tangle with Bakersfield for the State championship at Bakersfield a week from Saturday.

PENALTIES MAR GAME

Contest Between Hawaii and Oxy Slowed by Overzealousness on Part of Officials

[BY WIRELESS—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

HONOLULU (T. H.) Dec. 7.—Yesterday's game here between the University of Hawaii and Occidental College of Los Angeles, won by the former team, 18 to 3, was marked by many penalties. The visitors were penalized a total of eighty-five yards, four fifteen-yard penalties and one for five yards coming in the first half. Four of the fifteen-yard setbacks were for holding in the line or illegal use of hands. One fifteen-yard loss came about when the Oxy ends roughed Fernandez when he was catching a punt. During the first five minutes the Tigers were making steady gains through the line, but two fifteen-yard penalties stopped the rush.

Otto Klum's athletes were penalized 25 yards, twice for offside play and once for illegal use of hands.

OPENED UP

Occidental opened up with a burst of speed and a puzzling shift that bothered the locals considerably. After the first quarter Hawaii solved the formations, stopping the Tigers thereafter except for spasmodic outbursts which netted short gains for the visitors. The Deans showed much stronger in the second half, the heat telling on the men from the mainland.

After the opening period the Deans charged fiercely and broke through the Oxy line to smear the visiting backs. Cruickshank, center, smashed through to block Wheeler's punt, leading to a safety. The passing attack of the locals was brilliant in the second half, the aerial attack bringing one touchdown and putting the ball in place for another. Another touchdown was scored via the method, but was disallowed, Hawaii being off-side.

Wheeler, Gregory, Ridderhof and Mishkin starred at packing the ball for Oxy, injuries to Ridderhof slowing up his play and sending him from the game in the second quarter. The entire Hawaiian team played great ball with Wise, Searl and Cruickshank showing up well.

BITTER PROTEST

After the game Manager Fred McLain and Coach Stc Nichols of Occidental made bitter protests against the officials, claiming that the penalties inflicted were undeserved. They also stated that one Hawaii touchdown was unmade by two feet. Nichols said "The Hawaii varsity was fine and the student body treated us great but the officials gave the rawest decisions I have ever seen."

Frank Zimmerman, former Army sergeant, refereed, while Lieut. Sprouil, Army, was umpire. Both are experienced men and have handled all big games this year with universal satisfaction to all concerned. They have not been questioned before.

WELLS TAKES ON HERMAN

Great British Welterweight in Top Spot at Legion Show Next Friday Evening

When Billy Wells, the great British welterweight and a contender for Mickey Walker's title climbs through the ropes at the Hollywood American Legion stadium Friday night to meet Tilly "Kid" Herman, one of the best boxers California has turned out in recent years, another sellout is assured.

Wells is a sure fire hit and in Tilly Herman he is meeting a boy who is very apt to take the decision. It is another case of the Benjamin-Myers bout where Myers was considered just an outside chance, but he came through and gave Benjamin the worst licking he has taken in all his career as a boxer.

Tilly Herman is a classy boy and when the Hollywood boxing fans take a look at him in action they will wonder why he hasn't been seen in action before around here. Herman has been going big in the East and has boxed many bouts for Tex Rickard and other big promoters.

With Mushy Callahan and Sammy Santos in the semi-wind-up the show is sure to be a riot of excitement. Just last week Sammy Santos knocked out Johnny Adams. The knockout came in the second round. Callahan boxed Adams two of the most sensational bouts ever staged at the Hollywood stadium. This bout is a cinch to run the main event a race for popularity. If Santos gets over Callahan then he is in line for a bout with Tommy Carter, who also knocked out Adams. Santos and Carter are the only two boxers to put the sleep producer to Adams.

The entire Hollywood card:

Barnondsay Billy Wells vs. Tilly "Kid" Herman, Welterweights.
Mushy Callahan vs. Sammy Santos, lightweights.
Fred Cullen vs. Mickey Rockson, light heavyweights.
Danny Martin vs. Bobby Herman, bantamweights.
Chief White Eagle vs. Joe Rivas, lightweights.

OLD RIVALS OF GRIDIRON MEET AGAIN

California and U.S.C. Men to Compete Saturday in Big Interclub Game

Football stars who faced each other on the gridiron in intercollegiate competition two years ago will meet again next Saturday at Washington Park, when the Agnetian Club of San Francisco and the Pasadena Athletic Club elevens collide in a game which promises a lot of wild excitement.

Both teams are composed of former college players, the Agnetian line-up being made up almost entirely of California stars of a few seasons ago, while the Pasadena Athletic Club team includes a number of U.S.C. gridiron celebrities who will renew the rivalry with the Berkeley athletes which had the football world frenzied a few years ago.

Conspicuous among the stars on the Agnetian team will be Duke Morrison, plunging fullback for the California 'varsity of 1922, whose work in Andy Smith's backfield marked him as one of the finest players on the Coast. Johnny Leadingham, first-string quarter back for three seasons on the U.S.C. eleven, and Roy Baker, another Trojan, will be his running mates, with Hoggy Evans completing the backfield. Evans was the signal caller at California last season.

An equally talented collection of pigskinners will represent the Pasadena Club, Coach Tuffy Conn having secured the entire U.S.C. backfield of 1922 to compete. Hobo Kincaid, Chet Dolley, Charley Dean and Flash Tiernan will be in togs for the Crown City organization, in addition to a fast set of forwards selected from local and eastern colleges.

TO ADD SWIM COACH

So as to give their swimming teams every chance to cop the laurels this year, arrangements are being made for the addition of a swimming coach to the present staff at Santa Monica Athletic Club. Who this coach will be has not been decided upon.

PAL MOORE IS READY

Memphis Fighter Hopes to Take Measure of Jimmy McLarnin at Vernon Tomorrow Night

Pal Moore knocks off training this morning for his bout with Jimmy McLarnin at Jack Doyle's Coliseum tomorrow night. He will take things easy until the gong for action sounds. Moore declares he was never in better shape during his ring career as he is just now. Friends of McLarnin have insinuated to him that the Oakland demon's marvelous footwork will come as a surprise but the Memphis lad laughs the insinuation to scorn.

"If he steals my thunder, he's got to go some," is the way Pal usually meets these tantilizing hints. He, himself, is regarded as the fastest 114-pounder before the public today and among his Memphis admirers is known as the "Human Jumping Jack." Be that as it may, the Doyle clientele is almost certain to see a whale of a bout tomorrow night when these speed wonders throw gloves at each other.

Much interest is being manifested in the clash between "Big Mitch" and Soldier Burke. "Mitch" is Jim Jeffries's latest find. Jeff is sweet on the newcomer and declares he comes nearer to shaping up to Bob Fitzsimmons's build than any other heavyweight he has ever seen. Jim will be in "Mitch's" corner and will send his protege out after a quick knockout—although Soldier Burke will have something to say about that.

Julius Jessick and Larry Murphy who argufy in the semi-wind-up, finished their training yesterday. Both are in excellent fettle and are all set for a good, fast, slugging match. It will be Jessick's first appearance as a professional and he will be on his prettiest, especially as a large contingent of L.A.A.C. members will be on hand with the cheer stuff. The card is a sparkler throughout, the pairing of the participants showing the clever matchmaking of Master Wadhams.

WORK TO BEGIN SOON ON EDGEWATER CLUB

Construction of the Edgewater club of Santa Monica will soon be under way, according to advice received from the bay district office. This club will become one of the most exclusive in California. Already some of the best-known sportsmen and athletes in the country have signed up for membership in the beach club.

The club will be located at the corner of Pico Boulevard and Ocean Front and constitute a four-story, Class A Building.

According to C. D. Lynch of Detroit, president of the Michigan Association of the Amateur Athletic Union, cross-word puzzles are making athletes' muscles soft. Instead of training, the athletes are fascinated by the puzzles.

...esterday's football results at ...ooper park confounded ... According to prediction, Sons were generally ...easy meat for Hollywood, while the Scots were ... the L.A.A.C. a stiff ... actually happened ...ons handed out a ... to the Moviemen, while the Athletic Club won rather handily from the Scots, the score being 3 to 0. The net result of the game was again to tie up the leadership of the league, Hollywood and L.A.A.C. sharing the position with the Scots trailing one game behind.

Sons' win occasioned considerable surprise. They were better mud-hens than Hollywood, and throughout the entire ninety minutes were masters of the situation. Hollywood demonstrated that it is essentially a dry field team. The clever passing play which is characteristic of this team was missing, due in large measure to the wet condition of the field. Sons mixed up long swinging passes with close play, and it was much more effective.

GOOD TEAMWORK

The winners displayed more team-work than in their previous starts. The combination was excellent, while the forwards were quick on the trigger, and Arthur Mackenzie, who substituted for Murray, was tested several times. Neither side was able to bulge the net in the first half. Sons had most of the play, and on two occasions missed scoring by inches. In this period Sotheron had not been seriously tried, so well marked were Parkinson and Mitchell by Marsden and Duncan. These two halfbacks played a brilliant game for the victors. Much credit for holding Hollywood scoreless, however, goes to Andy Walker, left back. Walker comes to the Sons from Fall River, one of the oldest and strongest soccer clubs in America. He proved a pillar of strength to the Sons yesterday, not only in defending but in opening up the play for his forwards by excellent distribution.

GARRETT SCORES

The lone tally of the match was scored near the end of the second half when Maynard got his toe to a fine center by Garrett. Mackenzie made a great try but failed to reach the ball.

Scoring one goal in the first minute of play the club was never headed by the Scots and romped away with the game and points. Downie, inside right, scored all three goals. The first counter was a brilliant shot, but Canda might have saved the other two. All three goals were registered in the first half. With the change over the Scots began to assert themselves, and were able to hold their own. They were never able to hold any advantage long enough to get goals, and while they peppered Hurley, who substituted for Millford in goal, they were forced to concede defeat.

Offer by Rolph's for Board's Fleet Stirs Local Men

Attitude of Government on Proffer is Sought

Company Chiefs in Capital for Conference

Lloyd Swayne of Swayne & Hoyt, Inc., and Harry Struthers of Struthers & Barry, reached Washington yesterday for an impromptu conference with United States Shipping Board officials to learn what is to become of the extensive freight services the two firms operate out of Los Angeles to Australia, the east coast of South America and the Orient. A dispatch from Washington three days ago announcing that Mayor James Rolph of San Francisco had offered to buy the Shipping Board steamers operated by Swayne & Hoyt acted as a bombshell in Pacific shipping circles.

The dispatches quote Mayor Rolph as desiring to purchase four of the six steamers operated to Australia and New Zealand by Swayne & Hoyt, as well as the eight fast freighters maintaining their South American service.

BASIC PRICES

The dispatches state further that the government has set a basic price of $1,000,000 each for the 8800-ton steamers and that Mayor Rolph has indicated that he has a number of Pacific Coast associates with him on the enterprise.

Sale of the fleet to the Rolph interests would entirely disrupt the huge trade, rapidly increasing between California and the east coast of South America which Swayne & Hoyt have built up with the government fleet in the past four years. It is declared in Coast marine circles.

Local officials of Swayne & Hoyt declared yesterday that they have not been informed by the Shipping Board that it contemplates the sale of the thirteen vessels of the fleet.

ROLPH RETURNS

Mayor Rolph returned from a business tour of Australia and New Zealand before he left for the East on his present trip.

The Washington trip of Harry Struthers, accompanying Mr. Swayne, is also believed to have a significance in the above deal. Struthers & Barry of Los Angeles operate eight Shipping Board freighters and three tank steamers out of this port to the Orient.

The three fleets represent 130,000 deadweight tons and a value on the present market of $32,000,000.

ARRIVALS FROM ALL PARTS OF WORLD

Arrivals at the port yesterday were from widely separated parts of the world. On her initial visit here was the Dutch tank steamer Augusta Leonie, unit of the Royal Dutch Shell fleet, and here from Yokohama to load in bulk cargo for the Orient was the Japanese freighter Takezono Maru, from Galveston. Other passenger liner Columbus from Chile; the Japanese freighter Takezono Maru, from Galveston for the Orient; the Transcontinental liner Susquehanna from Port Newark, and the tanker Moten, from Portland.

Among the vessels quitting the harbor yesterday were the Panama-Pacific liner Virginia, for New York via Panama; the Matsonia for San Francisco; the Transcontinental freighter Delbert, for Antwerp and North Europe; the Shipping Board liner West Jaxon, from Thomas Aires for the Gulf, and the Pan-American tanker Nora, for Baton Rouge.

The destroyer Moody returned to San Diego yesterday after a two-day visit at this basin. She participated in a draft of enlisted men for distribution to the various units of the battleship division of the fleet. The naval vessel Cyrano is expected to arrive tomorrow from San Francisco to load a fuel oil cargo for the naval base at the Puget Sound navy yard.

Sale of the U.S.S. Glacier, known at Los Angeles Harbor for years as a fleet supply ship, was announced yesterday in San Francisco. She has been purchased by the Diller Fish Company for use in Alaskan salmon trade.

Acquisition of the new two-story steel terminal at berth 232-B for the line's eastbound traffic was announced yesterday by W. A. Bissinger, port superintendent for the Los Angeles Steamship Lines. The new dock, just completed, is a unit of the $10,000,000 terminal development program of the Terminal Island line, and is regarded as one of the most modern freight terminals in the country. The new acquisition, which adjoins the berth of the westbound terminal, with adjoining warehouse, will be operated with the sailing on the 19th from San Francisco for New York, Mr. Robertson said.

The lumber steamer Thomas Crowley, last of the seven-thousand ton fleet owned by Thomas Crowley, was sold yesterday to Matson & Co.; the vessel will arrive here from the Columbia River to-morrow under the name of Jane Middleton, which has been bestowed in honor of the daughter of Dan Morgan, an expert trainer.

Four Japanese cargo carriers are due at the port tomorrow; the new motorship Akagisan Maru from Kobe in the service of Mitsui & Co.; the motorship Portland Maru from British Columbia with a cargo for the United Kingdom, calling here for bunkers; the Yentasan Maru from Puget Sound with a grain cargo for Genoa, Italy, calling here for bunkers, and the Japanese tanker Teshiland Maru, here to load fuel oil for Tokurama.

News of Ships and Sailings at Pacific Ports

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 7.—The British bark Lord Templeton, which was purchased last week by James Griffith & Son of Seattle, at a price of $12,500, is to be converted into a barge and used in the lumber and ore service in the Puget Sound district. It was learned here today. The bark had been tied up at Oakland for many months prior to its purchase.

The ore owners aboard the Fanny are acquired from the Shipping Board Emergency Fleet, which was also converted the bark Harrowbinden.

FIVE NEW KERN WELLS STARTED

Midway Field Reports Four Holes Spudded In

Six Repair Jobs Are Begun in County in Week

Four Shutoff Tests Made; One Rig Abandoned

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

BAKERSFIELD, Dec. 7.—Five new oil wells were started last week in the fields of Kern county. Six repair jobs were started and four tests for water shutoff were made, according to the report of the State Oil and Gas Supervisor's office at Taft.

Four of the new oil wells were begun in the Midway field, two of them being the Nos. 47 and 70 of the Pacific Oil Company on Section 5, 32-24, and 31, 31-24, respectively.

The Pyramid Oil Company is credited with spudding in its No. 11 hole on Section 28, 32-24 in the Midway, and the North American Consolidated Oil Company has started its No. 16 well in the Midway on Section 30, 31-24.

In the Sunset field the Midway Northern Oil Company has a crew of drillers at work on its No. 11 hole, Section 32, 12-23.

Repair work being done to wells in the Midway field include: Caribou Oil Mining Company well No. 6, Section 28, 31-23; Pacific Oil Company well No. 27, Section 27, 31-23; Murvale Oil Company well No. 6, Section 28, 32-24; Honolulu Consolidated well No. 25, Section 19, 32-24.

In the Sunset field the Tannehill Oil Company is redrilling its No. 9 well on Section 33, 12-24, and the Interstate Oil Corporation is doing similar work in its No. 16 well on Section 4, 11-23.

The Canadian-Coalinga Oil Company is cleaning out its No. 1 hole in the Coalinga field on Section 8, 21-15, preparatory to putting it on the beam.

Tests for water shutoff include the Midway Oil Company's No. 396 in the Sunset; the Obispo Oil Company's No. 9, Section 13, 12-23, in the Sunset; the Standard Oil Company's No. 20 in the Elk Hills on Section 31, 30-25, and the North American Consolidated's well No. 13 in the Midway field on Section 30, 31-24.

The Pacific Oil Company has reported the abandonment of its No. 36 hole on Section 31, 31-24, in the Midway, this being the only abandonment reported in Kern county for the week.

RARE MINERALS, METALLURGY, CHEMISTRY

Qualitative analysis will be given in this department of The Times to correspondents on ores and minerals free of charge. Make each sample of 60 ounces or its weight. Be sure to write a letter stating what tests are desired and give the approximate locality from which samples were taken. Do not pulverize the specimens. Give your name and address on paper wrapped with sample.

"Gypsum Sand"

HUNTINGTON PARK, Nov. 21. Question: I am enclosing a sample of white sand (gypsum) which I wish you, through your department of mineralogy, to analyze for me and report your finding. I like your paper very much. X.

Answer: Several correspondents have asked for definitions of gypsum, gypsite, and alabaster, and it is probable that the common sense description of the mineral, its uses, and varieties, as given by the United States Geological Survey will be the best of all.

Gypsum, when pure, contains 32.5 per cent of lime, 46.6 per cent sulphur trioxide, and 20.9 per cent water. Chemically, the mineral is known as hydrous calcium sulphate.

Alabaster is a fine-grained compact variety, white, shaded, or tinted. Gypsite is an incoherent mass of very small gypsum crystals or particles, and has a soft, earthy appearance, contains various impurities, generally silica and clay. Satin spar is a fine fibrous variety which has a pearly, opalescent appearance. Selenite is a variety which occurs in distinct crystals or in broad folia. Some crystals are three or four feet long and clear throughout. Rock gypsum, the most common form and the principal source of gypsum, is a finely crystalline, white or pink to black deposit, occurring interbedded with other strata. Used crude as an ingredient in Portland cement manufacture and as land plaster. Used calcined as plaster of Paris, wall plaster, for molding and casting, Keene's cement, dental plaster, and in bedding glass for polishing. It is used in making plaster board, building blocks, and tiles, and also in the "staff" used in the construction of large temporary buildings like those of the international and other expositions. It is also used as an adulterant. White massive gypsum or alabaster is used by sculptors for interior ornamentation, and it is carved into vases and other objects of art.

It is not well to determine from a very small sample, what uses can be made of microscopic gypsum crystals, quarts and lime carbonate in traces, "Cat Gold" (mica of brilliant yellow color) traces, and, why not offer liberal samples to dealers in land plaster, building blocks, etc.

Manganese Minerals

TUJUNGA, Nov. 22.—Q.: The two samples are from a locality near Acton. I would like to learn if they contain manganese or other values. Prospector.

A.: Both specimens contain quite a percentage of Rhodonite (manganese angite) and the mineral when pure is of a rose-red color, some varieties having value as gems, but chiefly for inlaid work. Your samples probably cary 40 per cent manganese protexide, intimately mixed with Rhodonite. It might be well to prospect for the named reddish colored mineral.

Five Samples

CASTAIC, Nov. 22.—Q.: The specimens are from the ledge which you stated might carry gold by fire assays. Will you please classify the specimens.

A.: There is no free gold in any sample. No. 1 specimen is hornblende-schist. No. 2 ferruginous (iron bearing) quartz. No. 3 is altered rock now chiefly Gneiss. No. 4 is ferruginous quartz, and No. 5 is pegmatyte (graphic granite.) The classified specimens differ from the yellowish-white sample of feldspathic rock submitted for tests by you some time ago.

Chiefly Calcite

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 22.—Q.: Will you be good enough to give me an identification and qualitative analysis on piece of rock that I'm sending under separate cover by this mail. It pans a black sand that seems to me metallic and I'm curious to know if it is anything more than iron. M.H.B.

A.: The samples are of lime carbonate; quarts present and they pan microscopic hornblende, biotite, titaniferous iron and hematite, all in low percentages. Titaniferous iron like the samples carry, is mighty deceptive stuff.

Not Silver Ore

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 23.—Q.: Herewith three samples. No. 1 comes from a large deposit in Riverside county. Anything in it of a commercial value? No. 2 is something I have not run across before, that is mineral violet tint? No. 3 I take the metallic crystal to be manganese. Any gold or silver present? H.

A.: Sample No. 1 is hydrous silicate or magnesium and aluminum. No. 2 is low grade hematite, and the "crystal" you refer to is of limonite.) No. 3 is simply micaceous iron ore (hematite.) No free gold in any sample. The "violet tint" is probably traces of fluorite.

Pottery Clay

A.: The sample represents that variety of pottery clay suitable for common stoneware, earthen and crockery products.

Six Samples

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 24. — Q.: Please analyze qualitatively the six specimens and classify them. Oblige. MRS. L.

A.: The "grayish rock" carries traces of pyrite (iron disulphide.) Green rock No. 2 is lime carbonate, iron and magnesium-silicate present. No. 3 is a double silicate of aluminium and magnesium. You ask for a copper test on No. 4 consisting of two specimens. One of them (the largest) contains approximately not quite 2 per cent copper; iron and copper sulphide being the source of copper present. The smaller thumb specimen goes but little above 2 per cent copper. No. 5 is altered rock; quarts and iron oxides found and microscopic pyrite traces. No. 6 consists of ferruginous quarts, iron oxides, and mica (muscovite.) Free gold not present in any sample.

Carbonate and Silicate

BEATTY (Nev.) Nov. 25.—Q.: Please give determination of samples herewith, and very much oblige. B.

A.: Sample No. 1 is chiefly calcite (lime carbonate.) It reacts in low percentage for strontium. No. 2 is a mixture of silicates consisting of halloysite, with more or less bentonite (Denver mud.) Lime carbonate in more than traces.

Silicates

WEST END, Nov. 25.—Q.: Under separate cover I am sending you six samples of ore. Please analyse them qualitatively and oblige. C.

A.: It is not possible to determine rock samples such as yours without quantitative analyses, and the best service that can be given you is as follows. No. 1 specimen is in part hornblendic rock containing traces of microscopic pyrite. No. 2 is quarzitic rock carrying iron-manganese silicates chiefly. No. 3 is a mixture of quarts, iron and manganese. Muscovite (potash mica) present. No. 4 is tagged "No. 1—Contact." It reacts as quarts; iron and manganese found. "O. D. O. sample" is on the order of Gneiss, containing biotite. Sample A carries a mixture of quarts, iron and manganese. Correspondents should state what mineral tests are desired on a number of rocks from unknown localities.

Schistose Rock

LAWNDALE, Nov. 25. — Q.: Please classify samples. E. C. G.

A.: The specimens carry hornblende and pyroxene. A portion of each rock is on the hornblende-schist order.

Rock

NEWBERRY PARK, Nov. 26.—Q.: Please classify samples. MRS. H.

Impure Clay

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 26. — Q.: Please analyse the samples. A. B. M.

A.: The clay contains more or less limonite (hydrous iron peroxide.) Manganese in low percentage. Silica present.

Three Samples

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 26. — Q.: Please classify, and how will they combine? C. L. J.

A.: The large specimen is diatomaceous earth, known also as infusorial earth. The crystal lot of specimens is yellow-white gypsum. The grayish specimen contains silica, aluminum silicate, gypsite (impure gypsum,) and lime carbonate in low percentage.

The three samples when added together will form a mechanical mixture.

Comanche Mines Report Advance at Blind Springs

Excellent progress is reported in the development of the property of the Comanche Mining and Reduction Company on Blind Springs Hill in Mono county, according to Charles A. Palmer of Los Angeles, its general manager, who has just returned from an inspection of the company's consolidated properties which, it is asserted, produced in excess of $6,000,000 in early day operations on the hill.

The new working shaft, the sinking of which was begun last spring, has now attained a depth of 625 feet. It is being sunk on a seven-foot vein of milling ore and at the 700 level drifts will be run north and south to intersect rich ore shoots. Fred C. Semmik, formerly superintendent at the Cananea Mine, is underground superintendent at the Comanche and is working a force of twenty men.

The company is shipping ore from the Hudson and Anderson mines, in carload lots, which is reported to run upward from $150 a ton in silver and lead.

STANDARD OPENS SUIT TO DECIDE FUND CLAIM

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

BAKERSFIELD, Dec. 7.—Holding $6637.44, which is claimed by two companies from which it obtains oil, the Standard Oil Company has started suit in the Superior Court of Kern county against the Midway Consolidated, Ltd., the Vancouver Midway Oil Company, G. C. Spicer and J. Kobloth, in which a legal adjudication of the claims of the respective defendants to the sum involved is sought. The Standard, in its complaints, offers to place the sum in question at the disposal of the court to be distributed as it may determine to be just and equitable.

DRILLING THROUGH CEMENT IS STARTED

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

MARICOPA, Dec. 7.—Drilling through the cement in the No. 9 well of the Obispo Oil Company on Section 32, 12-23 on the Maricopa Flat has been started. The hole was drilled to a depth of 2100 feet in record time and is reported to be one of the finest holes in the field. As soon as it is completed another well will be started by the Obispo Oil Company.

Yosemite Lumber Company

6½% First (Closed) Mortgage Sinking Fund Gold Bonds

Dated January 1, 1925 Due January 1, 1940

Principal and semi-annual interest coupons payable (without deduction for 2% normal Federal income tax) at the principal office of the Mercantile Trust Company, Trustee, San Francisco, California, or Detroit Trust Co., Co-Trustee, Detroit, Michigan. Coupon bonds in denominations of $500 and $1000. Registerable as to principal. Callable on any interest date on sixty days' published notice at 102 and accrued interest.

Exempt from Personal Property Tax in California

From a letter to us from James Tyson, Esq., President of the Company, we have summarized as follows:

HISTORY: Incorporated in 1913, the Yosemite Lumber Company is the successor of a lumbering operation started in 1910, by its present owners, to cut their timber holdings in the Yosemite territory. Its common stock is all held by The Charles Nelson Company, San Francisco, and Harry L. Tevis, Esq., San Francisco, each owning 50%.

PROPERTIES: The Company owns outright 1,167,000,000 feet of merchantable timber in Mariposa and Tuolumne Counties, California, averaging 52% sugar pine; 20% California white pine; 20% fir, and 8% cedar, checked and appraised by Messrs. James D. Lacey & Co. as having a present value of $4,823,500. It has modern logging camps and equipment in the woods and a complete lumber manufacturing plant at Merced Falls, California, sufficient to handle its entire logging output. This plant consists of a double band sawmill, resaw, dry kilns, boiler and power houses, planing mill, box factory, and attendant structures for storing and shipping its output.

The products of the Company's mills are largely marketed through The Charles Nelson Company's organization, and enjoy wide markets and high average prices due to their superior grades.

OPERATIONS: For the past twelve years the Company has been engaged in logging its timber on the south side of the Merced River, during which period 465,000,000 feet of timber were cut and marketed. Upon exhaustion of these holdings all of its logging operations were removed to the timber on the north side of the Merced River covered by this mortgage, where logging was commenced May 15, 1924. By reason of the experience gained in previous years and because of more modern equipment and methods, costs of logging for the few months of operation in this north side timber have been exceedingly satisfactory and indicate that the average conversion will be exceptionally profitable.

SECURITY: This issue of bonds is secured by a closed first mortgage deed of trust to the Trustees, covering all of the Company's physical assets, including timber, logging equipment, logging railroads and lumber manufacturing plants, having an appraised and book value as of August 31, 1924, of $7,199,786.45.

SINKING FUND: The mortgage provides for a quarterly cash sinking fund of $4 per thousand feet of sugar pine and California white pine and $2 per thousand feet of fir and cedar cut and removed from the timber covered by this mortgage (an average of $3.44 per thousand). In addition, it provides for a payment of $1 per thousand feet for any other timber that may be logged or milled by the Company. In connection with this last provision it is pertinent to state that there is well over 500,000,000 feet of comparable timber intermingled with and adjacent to the holdings of this Company which is dependent on the Company's existing facilities for an outlet.

PURPOSE OF ISSUE: The proceeds of these $3,000,000 First Mortgage 6½% Bonds will be used to retire existing indebtedness. Upon completion of this financing the Company, as shown by its balance sheet, will be entirely free from indebtedness of any kind, except current accounts.

AUDIT: Balance sheet prepared by Messrs. Price, Waterhouse & Co.

LEGALITY: Mortgage drawn and all incidental legal details approved by Messrs. Chickering & Gregory, Attorneys at Law, San Francisco, California.

We offer the above bonds, when, as and if issued and received by us, and subject to approval of counsel.

DEEP SAND HOPE FOR ROSECRANS

Is Expected to Drill to Great Depth in Test

Frequency of Gushers Seen as Encouraging

The possibility of a deeper sand in the Rosecrans field is the all-absorbing question which is occupying the attention of operators in that district at present. Most of the companies drilling at Rosecrans are confident that production obtainable from formations lower than any yet tapped, and it is generally reported that the Union Oil Company, as the holder of the largest acreage, is on the point of ordering a well to go as deep as it is mechanically possible, to learn exactly what the prospects are for the future prosperity of the Rosecrans district.

The deepest sand yet found is the Repetto sand, from which the Union Oil Company brought in its Athens No. 1, the first producer in the field. E. J. Miley discovered the formation in his Athens No. 1, and it is the objective of the Superior Oil Company in its Ryan No. 1, in the southwest part of the field. The Petroleum Securities Company has not been the source of spectacular production in the field, but the original Athens well has the reputation of being the most consistent producer in the district.

The Superior Oil Company expects to find the Potter sand at about 5500 feet in the Van Nuys district, which has about 150 feet to fall to the lot of Rosecrans to blaze the way in the deeper area, and operators are interested in seeing what this company will add a few more feet to the two already found in this part of Rosecrans. Just where the Union will drill has not been a matter of concern. It is generally believed one of the new wells being put in by the Union on the northern part of the Howard Park lease, in the Athens area, will be used for the experiment.

Among the encouraging factors in the Rosecrans situation so far as productivity of the field is concerned, is the frequency with which wells of 2000 barrels and better are being brought in. Four of these gushers have been completed in the last week, all of them in the Maxwell area, and so far they have held up much better than the earlier wells in that district.

OIL PRODUCTION GAIN LOOMS

Gas Compressor in Santa Fe Springs Field is Found Successful in Test

That the crude oil production of wells in the Santa Fe Springs field may be greatly increased during the next few months by use of gas compressors is indicated by the success achieved in the use of such a device on the Elliott Consolidated No. 1 in that field. According to reports from the office of J. E. Elliott, who drilled the well, the output of this hole has been increased from 200 to 640 barrels per day by compression.

R. P. McLaughlin, petroleum engineer, who, with Phillip Jones, designed and installed the patented compressor, asserts the device is capable of being adapted to the needs of each individual well. As McLaughlin explains it, the compressor introduces gas from a gas fuel line, between the casing and tubing, carrying it down to such a point as may be decided upon by the petroleum engineers and there introducing it into the column of oil through an orifice in the tubing.

When liberated in the column of oil which is standing in the tubing, but which is rising at slow speed, if at all, because of low gas pressure, the compressed gas bubbles upward in the column and so lightens the crude oil as to make it rise more rapidly.

Upon reaching the surface of the hole, the compressed gas is picked up and conveyed to a gas absorption plant where it is converted into casinghead gasoline. Petroleum engineers say that compressed gas that has been used in this way is particularly valuable because it picks up a great deal of gasoline during its journey up the tubing of the well, with a column of crude oil, and is therefore capable of yielding a higher percentage of gasoline than ordinary natural gas.

Getty Company Finishes Well at Huntington

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Dec. 7. The George F. Getty organization completed its Cady-Walker No. 1 well in this field during the past week, getting 125 barrels of 24-degree gravity oil at a depth of 3300 feet.

A few days ago the Associated Oil Company's Wardlaw No. 1 well went on a rampage and jumped its daily output from 200 to 550 barrels a day, showing a gas pressure of 350 pounds at the casing-head. It has now settled down to an output of 350 barrels daily. The hole was finished June 18 and has 130 feet of oil formation.

MARLAND GOING DEEP

Company Prepares to Sink Elliot No. 1 to 5500 Feet if Needed

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

BAKERSFIELD, Dec. 7.—The Marland Oil Company is drilling at a depth of 2200 feet in its Elliot No. 1 well in the Kettleman district and the camp has settled down to the business of taking the hole to a depth of 5500 feet unless pay sand is located at a shallower depth.

Marland has a crew of engineers completing a survey of the Jacalitos district near the Snowolene well. The crew is locating section corners, but no announcement has been made as to what property, if any, the company has acquired in that locality.

The Snowolene Oil Company is drilling at about 2700 feet in the Jacalitos dome and it is reported that a sand has been found at approximately that depth.

OIL CARGOES SHIPPED TO WEST COAST

Pacific Ports Get Twice the Local Tonnage Sent to Other Points

Los Angeles shipped to Pacific Coast ports during the past week three times as much oil as it exported to all other destinations combined. Of a total of 1,197,388 barrels shipped from Los Angeles Harbor, 813,431 barrels were consigned to domestic ports on the west coast. Only two tankers sailed for domestic ports on the Atlantic Coast, as compared with twelve for Pacific ports.

PACIFIC OIL PREPARES TO DRILL WELL

Officials Stake Location in Kettleman Hills Near General No. 1

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

LOST HILLS, Dec. 7.—The Pacific Oil Company is preparing to drill a well in the Kettleman Hills district, near Coalinga, in the near future, as a result of the visit of Pacific officials to that district several days ago. They staked out a location in the vicinity of the General Petroleum Corporation's Kettleman No. 1.

Just when equipment will be moved to the location, or the necessary roads graded, has not been announced, but it is understood that the Pacific contemplates testing out its holdings in the Kettleman district soon. The Pacific Oil Company holds surface and mineral rights on every alternate section in that vicinity.

The General Blythe No. 1 well on Section 34 in the Kettleman Hills district, near Coalinga, has completed the assessment work required on the government lease, drilling to a depth of 500 feet, and the portable drilling outfit used on the job has been removed. The derrick is still standing and will be converted into a rotary outfit when the company is ready to drill the well to completion.

The situation at the General Petroleum Corporation's Kettleman Hills well is practically unchanged. But little progress has been made during the past two weeks, most of the time being put in circulating and keeping the tools running to keep the mud stirred up to overcome the heavy gas pressure, which is still troublesome at times. The hole is down approximately 5525 feet.

No further work has been done on laying the pipe line, which is still on the ground. Arrangements are said to have been made, if the necessity arises, to construct increased storage facilities at the Reef station, to care for oil should the well be brought in. This work will not be started unless an oil well is brought in.

Well Producing 50 Barrels Daily Just Completed

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SANTA FE SPRINGS, Dec. 7.—The General Petroleum Corporation has just completed its No. 89-B, at a depth of 4700 feet, getting fifty barrels of crude a day. The hole is producing from the 3840-foot level. The corporation has its No. 45-A cemented at 2100 feet.

The Petroleum Midway Company's Mattern No. 3-1 well is reaming at 3720 feet. The Shell Company's No. 2 on the Slusher lease has been redrilled to 3820 feet and is reaming. The deep test which was drilled to 6100 feet has been plugged back to 4280 and is testing. The Thompson No. 5 and the G.H.N. No. 3 are both idle.

The Petroleum Midway Oil Company is altering casing on the Mattern No. 2-2. Permission has been granted the Standard Oil Company to abandon the Johnson No. 2 and No. 3 wells. The General Petroleum Corporation will abandon the Santa Fe No. 2. The Fioux No. 2 well, drilled by the Petroleum Midway Company, will be redrilled, as also will the No. 3 well on the Standard Oil Company's Houghton lease.

GREAT RUSH TO MEXICAN FIELD

Corcovado Catches Large Companies Napping

Gusher Produces 40,000 Barrels at Mendez

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

TAMPICO (Mex.) Dec. 7.—A rush to a new oil field which is more like the gold rushes of the western part of the United States than anything heretofore seen in Mexico, has started to the new Corcovado field, another extension of the Panuco district.

The field developed so unexpectedly that the big companies were taken by surprise, and had failed to gobble up the most promising haciendas, as usually is the case, so big and little companies are on equal footing in the race for acreage there.

When the Mexican Petroleum Company brought in a 40,000-barrel gusher at Mendez and the Transcontinental followed with a big producer at Paciencia, the map hounds instantly saw that Corcovado was directly in the line which the structure must take, and then the rush began. The Corona, Mexican Gulf and Mexican Sinclair tried to beat one another to it, only to find that "Dad" Smith, the old-time driller, who discovered the "Devil's Elbow" pool some years ago, already was on the ground with an organization known as the Corcovado Petroleum Company.

The Corona (Shell) now is ready to spud in on four locations, the Corcovado has applied for ten drilling permits. The Gulf already has spudded in its No. 2 well and is using a rotary on its No. 2. The Sinclair has grabbed several good locations. The International and Agwi are rigging up to drill several wells, the Intermex is drilling one and rigging up three and several local independents are preparing to drill.

Another new field has been proved by the International, which has brought in a 10,000-barrel well in an extension of the Cacalilao field (Panuco) more than three-quarters of a mile from the nearest production.

The Mexican Petroleum Company has just completed another 5000-barrel well in Ebano, the first field in which oil was found in Mexico, more than twenty years ago.

NEW RATE TO PERMIT SAMPLING IN TRANSIT

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

KINGMAN (Ariz.) Dec. 7.—Approval has been given a new Santa Fe rate under which shipments of ore to the Humboldt or Hayden smelters may be stopped here for sampling, at no added cost. Superintendent Ray Dimmick is erecting a new camp at the Katherine mine, with erection of new quarters for employees. Grading is to be started at once for the new mill.

SHOWING OF WILDCAT IS PROMISING

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

TAFT, Dec. 7.—Just across the San Luis Obispo county line, at the edge of the Carissa Plains, on Section 6, 31-21, the Panorama Oil Company is drilling a wildcat well which, at last reports, was said to be down around 1100 feet with good showings of gas at different levels.

Little is heard in regard to the progress of the well, due to the fact that it is in an isolated district. The well is twelve miles west and a little south of McKittrick and can be reached only by unimproved roads and trails.

The No. 17 well of the Formax Oil Company is reported to be continuing to produce in the neighborhood of 150 barrels daily, at which rate it was placed on production late in October, producing from a depth of 1200 feet.

The hole was perforated for 300 feet above the sand, where the eight and a quarter inch casing is located. This well is on Section 36, 32-23, in the Hovey Hills district, and is the last well to be drilled on the twenty-acre tract originally secured by the company in that district. The next well to be drilled will be the No. 18 on the 108-acre tract purchased about one year ago for $100,000.

The properties of the Formax Oil Company are supervised by James Grant, veteran oil well superintendent of the Midway fields. With the completion of the No. 17, the company has thirteen producing wells on the twenty-acre tract. Work on the No. 18 well will be started soon.

The deep test well of the Formax on the north end of Section 7, 31-22, three miles northwest of Fellows is drilling ahead at present with an electric cable tool outfit at a depth of about 700 feet, using twelve and one-half inch casing.

BAIL AND SWAB WELL

Ocean View Company Getting Oil in Old Whittier Field

The Ocean View Oil Company well No. 2, in the old Whittier field, is bailing and swabbing about thirty barrels of oil daily from the 3460-foot depth, while the Standard Oil Company's Home well is cemented at 3350 feet.

In the North Whittier field the Superior Oil Company well on the Andreas lease is drilling in sandy shale at 3790 feet, while its No. 1 well on that property is in sandy shale at 1180 feet.

The Culp Community well drilled by the Standard Oil Company near Los Nietos has reached 5400 feet and is in hard sand.

WELL PLUGGING BACK

After having been drilled to 5000 feet with no commercial production, the Whitley Oil Refining Company's well on the Strong lease at Rideout Heights is being plugged back and is testing various sands which were passed through in the effort to reach a deeper sand.

Attendance at Oil Convention May Reach 5000

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

FT. WORTH (Tex.) Dec. 7.—From 4000 to 5000 persons are expected here next week for the annual sessions of the American Petroleum Institute.

This will be the first session of the institute held this far south. Ft. Worth won the convention in competition with Los Angeles and Kansas City.

In anticipation of the coming of leading oil men from all parts of the nation, hotels are notifying guests that all rooms must be available next week for these visitors.

A delegation of Ft. Worth citizens left for St. Louis Saturday. There they will meet the vanguard of the special trains bringing delegates from the East and escort them here.

Test Well is to be Drilled Near Town of Dinuba

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

DINUBA, Dec. 7.—Material for the erection of a derrick for the purpose of drilling a test well on the O. H. Brians ranch a mile west of town on the Kingsburg Highway has been received and work of building the rig, which is a standard one, will be started at once. As soon as the machinery is installed drilling will start.

Four oil men from Long Beach accompanied by a geologist made an inspection of property at Monson, six miles south of here and took options on land planning to drill a test well. The geologist gave it as his belief that oil would be found there at shallow depth.

M. J. Perkins, having interests in Texas oil fields, and who is a resident here, believes oil will ultimately be found here. He thinks that this place is directly in line with a stratum of oil that runs directly on a line with the Kettleman Hills in Kings county.

LARGE SUM SPENT BY TEXAS MIDLAND

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

TERRELL (Tex.) Dec. 7.—An expenditure of more than $1,000,000 is being made for improvements of the Texas Midland Railroad, according to a statement issued by officials. One of these improvements is the construction of a new section of main track between Greenville and Commerce, replacing a former joint trackage arrangement with the St. Louis Southwestern Railroad. The main line between Paris and Ennis has been reballasted, the grade raised in places, several new stations built and others planned. A company telephone system for dispatching trains has also been installed. New equipment will be added and the conversion of its locomotives from coal to oil burners is under way.

Angelenos to Drill Twenty San Juan Tests

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

GALLUP (N. M.) Dec. 7.—James R. Thomas, president and general manager of the San Juan Oil Company, reports that the T. M. Young Drilling Company of Los Angeles is arranging to drill twenty tests on leases held by the Oklahoma City company and other Oklahoma men in the Huerfano-Coal Creek district of the San Juan Basin. One of these will be a deep test and the others in the nature of core tests, designed to protect leases.

"Probably 100 real oil tests will be drilled during the next few months within a radius of forty miles from Farmington, aside from those on the reservations under Navajo Indian contract," says Mr. Thomas. "Some of the leading operators of California, Oklahoma, Colorado and Wyoming have their geologists in the territory and most of them already have secured leases. Plans are being made to carry on drilling throughout the winter."

Six producing wells have been completed on the Rattlesnake structure by the Santa Fe Oil Company. This is of 64.5 gravity and comes from wells averaging about 775 feet deep. The Santa Fe company is reported to be negotiating for a refinery site at Farmington. Surveys have been made for another refinery site there.

Drilling is again active in the Bloomfield-Aztec district, southeast of Farmington, where three gas wells have been completed. One of these is reported to be making oil at 880 feet.

Richfield is Said to Plan Tanking at Owensmouth

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

OWENSMOUTH, Dec. 7.—It is reported that the Richfield Oil Company is soon to begin construction of a distributing tank farm at Owensmouth to supply the retail trade in San Fernando Valley. The Standard Oil Company already has a tank farm here.

It is understood that the Richfield Company may erect a service station here. Trucks will operate from Owensmouth as a base and will supply Chatsworth, Reseda, Zelzah and other valley points within a radius of ten miles with gasoline and oil.

The company has an option to purchase a piece of ground a short distance from the Southern Pacific tracks at this place.

OIL CONCERN ORGANIZED IN SONORA

Packards' Company Has 100,000 Acres; Bravo Will Operate in Vera Cruz

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

HERMOSILLO (Mex.) Dec. 7.—The Packards' Investment Company is a new oil concern recently organized under the laws of Mexico and recorded in Mexico City. The company will have offices at Cananea and Arispe, in this State.

The present capitalization is to be $25,000. The founders of the company are A. B. Packard and Max B. Cottrell and the managing directors are B. A. Packard, A. B. Packard and Max B. Cottrell.

The company has almost 100,000 acres of land at Camou, known as the Rancho de la Cabullona, where several wells will be drilled.

Another new company is the Bravo Drilling Company, which is to establish offices in San Antonio, Tex., and New York City, and at Mexico City, Tampico and Nuevo Laredo, Mex. This concern will operate in the State of Vera Cruz where it holds leases on valuable oil lands.

The original organizers are Alfred J. Olsen, Samuel H. Anderson, Rodrigo Loyo, Samuel Payne, Emeterio Flores and Attorney Enriques Torres Diaz. The capitalization is $90,000.

Confident of Oil Strike on Lease Near San Diego

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SAN DIEGO, Dec. 7.—Search for oil in San Diego county, which has been carried on almost continuously for several years, has been given fresh impetus by the leasing of 4000 acres in Telegraph Canyon, east of Chula Vista, where a rig is being erected by J. E. Clark and Joe Todd.

The land has been leased from C. S. Judson, San Diego capitalist, and an agreement has been made whereby Todd must spud in a well by the 15th inst., and go down at least 4000 feet.

Todd, who has worked in different oil fields, declares that he had found in Telegraph Canyon a formation like that in the Tampico fields.

Associated with Todd and Clark in the venture is Nicholas Kretchmar, a petroleum geologist, who has operated in the Baku field of Russia. Kretchmar expressed himself as enthusiastic over the prospects in the Telegraph Canyon location, and will co-operate with the other men in developing it.

BUENA VISTA TEST EAGERLY WATCHED

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

BAKERSFIELD, Dec. 7.—Conducting an exploitation in the area verging on Buena Vista Lake, the operations of the San Jose-Elk Hills Oil Company on Section 26, 31-24, are being watched with much interest by oil men. The well is 2100 feet in depth, according to reports. The Taft Drilling Company has the contract.

DEEP TEST WILL BE TRIED AGAIN

Jameson Company's Lora J. is Recemented

Expect Production if Water Trouble is Overcome

Four New Wells Brought in at Torrance Field

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

TORRANCE, Dec. 7.—The Jameson Oil Company has recemented the Lora J. deep test well on East Palm street in Lomita and is drilling out the cement in preparation for another test of the oil sand believed to exist below 4200 feet.

Some operators believe that commercial production is obtainable from a second sand in the Lora J. if water trouble can be eliminated. It was learned Saturday that the Jameson company is seeking new leases in the Lomita area.

The new production test at the Lora J. will be made today or tomorrow.

The Shell Company will resume drilling in Kettler No. 2, its deep test hole near Redondo Road and the Santa Fe tracks. A fishing job at 5289 feet halted drilling there for several days, but the crew has landed the fish and is now reaming and cleaning out the bottom of the hole.

FOUR WELLS COMPLETED

The Chanslor-Canfield Midway Oil Company's Francis No. 2, the Western-avenue wildcat north of Torrance, is down 6400 feet and still drilling ahead. No appreciable showings have been turned up.

Four new wells were completed here last week. The Shell Company brought in Frenger No. 2. Thirty days from the time it was spudded in this hole was on production. Drilled to 3300 feet, it is pumping about 100 barrels a day. It is in the Redondo district.

The Petroleum Securities Company brought in two small pumpers in edge territory. Both wells are on the eastern line of the Kleinmeyer A lease in the extreme eastern part of the field, offsetting the Consolidated Mutual Oil Company's Oakley property. Drilled to 3300 feet each of these wells is pumping fifty barrels a day.

WILL ABANDON HOLE

The Sentinel Oil Company completed Joughin No. 14 on the Joughin ranch at 3320 feet for a yield of 100 barrels a day.

After a year of constant effort to make the well a commercial producer, the Shell Company has decided to abandon the Keystone No. 1. The hole is located east of Terrance and north of Standard's Dominguez lease. At intervals the well pumped some oil, but the product was never clean.

The Standard Oil Company has put its Ellinwood No. 1 back on the pump. In the southwestern extension of the field, this hole originally made only thirty barrels of oil a day and was deepened to 4700 feet, but was plugged back to the top oil-bearing formation, and is now producing seventy barrels a day.

HARI SINGH RETREAT IS NEW RIDDLE

London Press Reports Him in Paris, Monte Carlo and Points West

BY DON SKEENE

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

[Copyright, 1924, by the Chicago Tribune]

LONDON, Dec. 7. — Where is Hari Singh? London's indoor sport for the moment seems to be a guessing contest about the whereabouts of the romantic young India prince who startled the world by the fortune he paid as a badger game victim. Reports of the press and public have Sir Hari definitely located at various points, from London to Kashmir.

The People today states that Sir Hart is in London, living quietly at the home of a high government official and is preparing to attend a conference in Whitehall tomorrow to discuss the coming trial of the blackmail conspiracy against him. Other papers report Sir Hari as living in Paris, Monte Carlo, Menton, Kashmir and points west. There is a report around clubs today that Sir Hari was in London throughout the Robinson vs. Midland Bank case, keeping in close touch with the legal battle.

A strange coincidence was revealed today in a report that Sir Hari's uncle, the Maharajah of Kashmir, also was a blackmail victim, who paid a sum estimated at $469,444 to halt the circulation of certain hostile pamphlets after he took the throne.

Garage Owner is Slugged and Robbed by Pair

Two bandits, entering the garage of H. Dodds at 210 South Harbor Boulevard, San Pedro, early yesterday morning on the pretext of renting a car held up the proprietor and robbed him of $200, according to a police report. Dodds went to his desk to fill out a rental contract. Before he finished writing he looked up into the muzzle of a revolver held in the hand of one of the robbers. The garage man was ordered to raise his hands, but before he could comply he was struck a blow over the head by the second bandit, who wielded a blackjack.

COAST-TO-COAST SHIPPING GROWS

Domestic Trade Channel Now of Great Importance

Twelve-Million Tons of Cargo Sent in 2300 Ships

California's Petroleum is an Outstanding Product

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—Statements issued by the Bureau of Research, United States Shipping Board, on intercoastal traffic in the fiscal year ended June 30, last, contain valuable information regarding the water-borne exchange of commodities during that period between the Pacific Coast and the Atlantic and Gulf coasts; a domestic trade channel which has assumed great importance within a very short period. No foreign vessels are permitted to engage in intercoastal trade, but as late as 1922 the total number of United States vessels passing through the Panama Canal in both directions was 1195 and the total cargo tonnage carried was 4,950,000 tons, these totals including all cargoes carried by United States vessels through the Canal during that year in both foreign and intercoastal trades. The Bureau of Research records, which begin with January, 1923, indicate that in two years the number of vessels passing through the Canal in intercoastal trade alone increased to 2300 and that their aggregate cargo was 12,182,072 tons. From the Pacific Coast to the Atlantic Gulf coasts 9,703,397 tons were carried by 1177 vessels, and 1128 vessels cleared Atlantic and Gulf coast ports with 2,478,675 tons of cargoes destined to Pacific Coast cities.

California petroleum is the outstanding product in the eastbound movement and constitutes more than 75 per cent of the total cargo tonnage eastbound. With this item set aside, it is noted that the trade between the coasts is a well-balanced one. The Pacific Coast exchanges 1,400,000 tons of lumber and timber for approximately the same tonnage of Atlantic and Gulf coast iron and steel.

OTHER PRODUCTS

Other Pacific Coast products moved in large quantities are fruits, fish and copper. The westbound freights include, in addition to the iron and steel, substantial shipments of a wide range of manufactures, coal, sulphur, tin and other commodities as appear in the following detail of the intercoastal traffic during the fiscal year:

From Pacific Coast ports: milk, 13,572 tons; fish, 116,689; hides and skins, 16,470; flour, 16,995; hay and feed, 23,910; beans, 56,740; vegetables, 48,762; fruits, 283,436. Miscellaneous vegetable products, 61,627; cotton and manufactures, 12,673; hemp, 11,389; wool, 38,673; timber, lumber and wood, 1,295,471; petroleum products, 337,845; nonmetallic minerals, 16,099; copper and manufactures, 106,932; lead and manufactures, 10,055; miscellaneous metals and manufactures, 10,289; magnesite, 18,771; chemicals and products, paint, explosives, etc., 29,879; crude petroleum, 6,961,867; miscellaneous, 78,510. Total, 9,703,397 tons.

To Pacific Coast ports: Fish, meat and dairy products, 16,313 tons; canned goods, 21,504; vegetable oils, 12,046; glucose, 11,332; miscellaneous fruit and vegetable products, 64,122; miscellaneous textile products, 44,945; miscellaneous wood products, 33,224; paper products, 65,245; coal, 92,572; petroleum products, 34,760; building material (marble stone, sand, lime, cement, etc.) 28,005; glass and manufactures, 30,629; clays, earths and products, 24,029; sulphur, 52,152; iron and steel and manufactures, 1,040,850; iron and steel pipe and fittings, 343,365; tin, 66,736; miscellaneous metals and manufactures, 23,850; machinery and miscellaneous manufactures, 46,139; drugs, chemicals and products, 109,668; motor vehicles and parts, 8799; miscellaneous, 287,369. Total, 2,478,675 tons.

Chairman O'Connor of the Shipping Board today made the following statement:

"Some months ago I made a recommendation to the board that it proceed upon a scrapping program involving some of the 900 laid-up steel vessels. It is my purpose to again have this matter called up for action of the board at an early meeting.

UPKEEP EXPENSIVE

"The upkeep of these boats is expensive. There is constant depreciation in property value. Of these vessels there are at least 400 which under the most liberal calculations are not required in the promotion and maintenance of the American Merchant Marine. Of this latter number at least half are not suitble for use even if they were required.

"In other words, we are spending a great amount of money annually taking care of ships which will never be used in furtherance of the purposes of the board as laid down by Congress and which are actually a menace by their mere existence in fictitiously crediting the market with surplus vessels, and therefore, affecting the sale of the balance.

"I shall recommend that we immediately proceed with the sale of 175 of the vessels which were placed in Class E of the report made by the board's fleet survey committee of which I was chairman and later to sell such others as may be determined upon. It seems to me there is no justification for continuing the expense of maintaining ships which can only be classed as surplus property—in this case surplus war material. The whole policy of the government has been in favor of disposing of surplus property as quickly as possible wherever it exists. I shall ask that these vessels be put on the market at once."

It is designed to accommodate the members of the lodge, council, chapter, commandery and consistory. The preceptory will seat 2500 and will be six stories high, and in the banquet room 2800 may be served at one time.

Kansas City Doctor Invents New Truss

New Discovery Heals Rupture Without an Operation

Kansas City, Mo., (Special)—A new discovery which, experts agree, has no equal for curative effects in all rupture cases, is the latest accomplishment of the well-known Hernia Specialist, Dr. Andrews, 181-H Koch Bldg., Kansas City, Mo. The extraordinary success of this new method proves that it holds and heals a rupture. It weighs only a few ounces. Has no hard gouging pads, no elastic belt, no leg straps, no steel bands, and is as comfortable as a light garment. It has enabled hundreds of persons to throw away trusses and declare their rupture absolutely healed. Many of these had serious double ruptures, from which they had suffered for years. It is Dr. Andrews' ambition to have every ruptured person enjoy the quick relief, comfort and healing power of his discovery, and he will send it on free trial to any reader of the Times who writes him. He wants one person in each neighborhood to whom he can refer. If you wish to be rid of rupture for good, without an operation, take advantage of the doctor's free offer. Write him today.—[Advertisement.

— to have a good APPETITE!

"Yes! thank you."

A GOOD appetite means a cheerful disposition.

You may have a good appetite if the blood that goes constantly to your vital organs is pure. S.S.S. purifies the blood—a good appetite follows and you will have a clear complexion and will be strong, cheerful and healthy.

Don't go on feeling up one day and down the next—hardly sick but never well—losing "pep," punch and ambition. Hearty eaters are the red-blooded men and women. Enjoy your food! Get back your strength and energy! Reclaim yourself before it is too late! People in a physically run-down condition are an easy prey to disease.

S.S.S. is what is needed. Your blood needs purifying. Your blood-cells supply the energy which keeps your body well and fit. Beautiful "Temples to the Dead"

Structures of California Mausoleum Company at Hollywood and Inglewood Unequalled in the State for Beauty, Permanency and Method of Construction

Fitting disposition of the bodies of the beloved dead is a privilege, as well as a solemn duty. One considers the task reverently: "Where can I find a suitable place, where the mortal garments will rest in peace, free from disturbance, free from corruption, permanently sealed away, unreachable by the storms, cared for, protected, in surroundings that are beautiful and dignified—where can I find such a place?"

The quiet "Temples of the Dead" of the California Mausoleum Company are exactly such places, intelligently planned and built, under patent-protected methods of construction which alone permit the bodies of the dead to be taken naturally and inoffensively back into the bosom of Great Nature.

No false ideas of "commercialism" or "speculation" have entered into the development of these beautiful buildings. There are right methods of construction, right lines of action in conducting Mausoleums, right ways of bringing their advantages to the attention of refined intelligent people—and there are right and reverent systems of maintenance and care that ensure the retention of fitting surroundings, orderliness and tranquillity.

You are respectfully invited to visit our Mausoleums—an automobile appointment may be made by telephone; MAin 1534. Or if you prefer first to look over our Hollywood or Inglewood booklets, completely illustrated and devoted to brief, specific information, one will be mailed upon request. Address California Mausoleum Co., 206 Harris Bldg.—[Advertisement.

MYSTERY PART OF KHJ CONCERT

Program Under Auspices of Mullen & Bluett

BY CLAIRE FORBES CRANE

A close examination of the men recognized as the leaders of their chosen lines of endeavor will reveal this dominant quality—the ability and determination to give their very best regardless of time, place or circumstance. The name of Mullen & Bluett having been indelibly inscribed into the annals of fashion for men in Los Angeles and Hollywood, is rapidly becoming one of the stellar lights in the heavens of Radioland.

Last evening this concern was again our host at KHJ for a program and repeated its former instantaneous success. The program was arranged by C. Allison Phelps, our radio philosopher, and presented the Philharmonic 'Cello Quartet, which a few weeks ago made its debut under the auspices of Mullen & Bluett. The musicians were Carl Buratti, cornetist, accompanied by Audrey Buratti; Gladys Blackwell Pickering, soprano, and Franz Lusschen in 'cello solos.

UNKNOWN PERFORMER

There is probably no type of organization, engaged in serving the public that must be more versed in the art of providing daily new sensations to pique our jaded tastes than fashion makers. Last night this quality was reflected in a novel thrill, which has set our entire radio family to talking. Into the evening stalked a personage known only as Mullen & Bluett's "Mysterious Music Maker." From what we hear this entity was extremely gifted, as the "music maker" wandered about the studio during the evening examining the different musical instruments and interrupting the program every now and then to give a number on whatever instrument seemed to fit the spirit of the occasion.

With a mandolin tuned like a ukulele, this fascinating person played and sang "The Prettiest Girl I Ever Saw." This was followed by a Jewsharp selection, "Dixie," an imitation of a band approaching from a distance, passing a given spot and fading away again into the night. The number proved that the one who rendered it has perfect control of this tiny instrument. Later in the program the "Mysterious Music Maker" played a piano solo, a number on the celeste—sang an original composition entitled "My Heart is Aflame," and concluded the program with "Aloha."

Mullen & Bluett have arranged to send an autographed photograph of their "Music Maker," who, by the way, is one of radio's best-known entertainers, to everyone who writes in their guess as to the identity. You will undoubtedly be surprised when you discover who this versatile artist is.

When Mullen & Bluett give their next program on the night of January 1, 1925, Mr. Phelps promises to allow the mysterious music maker to appear again and on that night the name will be revealed. In the meantime, send in your guesses addressed to Mullen & Bluett's mysterious music maker, care of The Times radio department, or you can place your communication in one of the guess boxes which have been placed in all of Mullen & Bluett's stores. Whether or not your guess proves correct you will receive an autographed picture as a souvenir.

QUARTETTE'S TRIUMPH

The Philharmonic 'Cello Quartette under the direction of Franz Lusschen, its founder, has improved in ensemble and smoothness of style. Last night the tone of the organization was organ-like in quality and the players achieved a triumph.

Mr. Buratti, accompanied by his talented daughter, Audrey, played a group of ballads with a sonority that did not break and breath control which any player of brass instruments might well have envied.

Mr. Lusschen, always a welcome addition to any fine program, contributed several solos which he interpreted with the musicianship and emotional freedom associated with his name.

Gladys Blackwell Pickering was her usual charming self and sang the ballads for which she is famous, with—if possible—more than usual tonal beauty. Mr. Phelps rounded the evening into a perfect whole by another heart-to-heart talk with his family on the subject of "Consideration."

RULES CRITICIZED

It was said yesterday at the City Hall that these rules which are made in accordance with the regulations of the American Institute of Architects are so cumbersome and expensive that it will cost the city between $50,000 and $90,000 to hold the contest, that six months or more will elapse before the competing designs can be submitted, and that then the art jury provided for in the rules will have the final selection of the winning design, leaving the Council with no alternative but to award the architectural contract to the architect who designed the plan selected by the art jury.

If the Council finds this to be the case, then it is not unlikely that the contest plan will be abandoned and the Council will select an architect with instructions to go ahead and prepare plans for the building and submit them to the Council for revision or approval.

BROTHER SHOT AS LOVE RIVAL

er brother's affection for William's wife, resulted in the younger brother obtaining a shotgun and shooting Walter Ockert in the back of the head. His scalp was virtually torn away and the skull fractured in several places, according to police.

Following the shooting the injured brother rushed from the house and sought shelter in the home of J. M. Phy, a neighbor, living at 2147 Fourteenth street. The injured man ran into Phy's kitchen and collapsed unconscious on the floor. He was immediately rushed to Martin Sanatorium and treated by Police Surgeon Weaver. His condition is reported as critical.

When police reached William Ockert's home, they found him about to eat breakfast, after which he said he was going to give himself up to police. He admitted the shooting and told police his brother had been living with him for some weeks. During the past few days, he said, Walter had been paying too much attention to his wife, but refused to discuss the affair further.

Should the injured brother die as a result of the shotgun wound, a definite charge will be placed against him, police said. Both men are teamsters and have lived in this city for some years.

percentage of increase in returns filed in 1924 as compared with 1923 of any city in Southern California, while San Diego county won the honor place among the counties.

As evidence of the remarkable increase in the number of returns filed in the Sixth District, there were 165,338 individual returns made for the calendar year 1923, 221,020 during 1923 and the year 1924 produced 263,078, a gain of more than 19 per cent over the number filed during 1923. All but 2 per cent of this enormous gain was in taxable returns. Goodcell said that this increase was due to the remarkable growth of population in Southern California. The figures given do not include corporation, partnership or fiduciary returns. With these added the total number of returns filed in 1923 was 240,279, and in 1924, 285,375, a gain of 45,096. The following shows the individual returns filed by counties, the number filed in 1924 being compared with those filed in 1923:

County	1923	1924
Los Angeles	174,433	206,157
Orange	9,344	12,336
Ventura	2,746	3,440
San Diego	11,712	13,911
Imperial	1,498	2,333
Kern	7,854	8,959
Santa Barbara	4,830	5,899
San Luis Obispo	1,511	1,907
Riverside	4,948	5,585
San Bernardino	7,509	9,885
Total for district	221,020	263,078

Huntington Park registered a gain of 53 per cent; Inglewood, 48 per cent; Alhambra, 41.6 per cent; Pasadena, 41.3 per cent; Pomona, 34.56 per cent, and Whittier, 34 per cent.

OTHER MESSAGE

The note to the hotel management stated that the name under which he registered was fictitious and stated "no investigation is necessary; I made up my mind twenty-four hours before and delayed it because I did not have a weapon."

Detective Lieutenant Stevens was called by the hotel and investigated the death. Cooper shot himself with a .38-caliber pistol. The body was taken to the Graham & Isbell mortuary.

The body, fully clothed, was found lying outstretched upon the bed, with a bullet wound in the right temple. In his pocket was found a Christmas card signed "Peg," which he apparently treasured.

In the note to the management of the Hotel Rosslyn he said he regretted the imposition of the act h ewas about to commit. He gave the hotel complete instructions for notifying the naval authorities.

Lieut. Stevens said that the delay mentioned by Cooper was the result of a law prohibiting the delivery of a pistol until twenty-four hours after the application.

A Christian Science lecture will be delivered by Dr. Walton Hubbard, C.S.B., of Los Angeles, member of the board of lectureship of the Mother Church, the First Church of Christ, Scientist, Boston, Mass., Tuesday, in Thirteenth Church, 1750 Edgemont street, at 8 p.m.

FUNERAL OF MRS. GRAVES TO BE TODAY

Rites for Early Resident Are to be Conducted at Forest Lawn Chapel

Funeral services will be conducted this morning at 11 o'clock at the Forest Lawn Chapel for Mrs. Julia O. Graves, mother of Sidney T. Graves, Assemblyman from the Sixty-third District. Mrs. Graves died yesterday at her home, 2328 Fifth avenue.

Mrs. Graves was 73 years of age and had lived in Los Angeles for thirty-nine years. She came to this city with her husband, Frank Graves, who passed away about two years ago. Until two months ago she had enjoyed perfect health. She is survived by her son, contractor and builder, who formerly operated a sash and door mill with his father.

Funeral arrangements are under the direction of the Fred J. Finch Co., Inc., of Sawtelle.

POWERFUL LIGHT TO FEATURE EXHIBITION

Fifty million candle power of light will be cast heavenward from Highland avenue and Hollywood Boulevard tomorrow night as a prelude to the annual ball and electrical exhibit of the Motion Picture Illuminating Engineers' Society. Ten portable lighting plants from film studios will furnish the illumination, which is expected to be seen for 300 miles if the weather is fair.

The ball will be held in the Hollywood Masonic Hall. It will be preceded by a parade of the lighting trucks through the streets of Hollywood. Priscilla Dean, film actress, will be the patroness for the ball and Lew Cody and Herbert Rawlinson, actors, will act as masters of ceremonies.

PLAY SPACE ON SHORE BOUGHT

man McClellan of the Board of Supervisors said yesterday. "It seemed important that the county should acquire a substantial piece of beach frontage for recreational use before values got any higher, and we proceeded to do so as a matter of protection. We expect eventually to arrange for the greatest use of it by the greatest possible number of persons."

EXTENSIVE TRACT

The tract extends from the Santa Monica Swimming Club property to the Los Angeles city line. It runs back 225 feet from the high-water line. Thus the county is possessed of an extensive piece of beach property, located at one of the most accessible spots along the ocean front.

There is still to be acquired another parcel of adjoining land belonging to Will Rogers, the motion-picture acter. He was named defendant in the condemnation proceedings, but as it was impracticable to obtain service upon him at the time, the proceedings in reference to his property were not heard with the rest. The jury valuation on the rest of the realty, however, will make negotiations with Rogers easy to conclude, the County Counsel believes.

SPECIAL PURGATORY FOR SCANDAL-MONGER URGED

If God had failed to provide a hell for scandal-mongers it was the duty of decent society to prepare such a place of torment for the murderers of humanity's happiness, according to the opinion expressed yesterday by Rev. Gordon Palmer of Hollywood Park Baptist Church, in his address to the KHJ radio fans from The Times broadcasting station. Preaching on "Christian Life" and emphasizing the value of self-control, Mr. Palmer spoke in part as follows:

been in controversy since the first century. The fact that such a man as Jesus lived is not questioned. Even His claims are not disputed, only some think He was mistaken. But that He is God has been in dispute since the Jews questioned 'Art thou the Christ?' The acceptance of His deity rests for proof upon several sources, and presupposes two or three things. If the New Testament is rejected as a part of the inspired word of God, it still leaves the evidence of his life to be accounted for, and the result seen in the great mass of people who still, after 2000 years, believe Him to be God, and the inward joy of those who trust Him as Savior and Lord. To deny His deity is to place mind supreme over spirit—in fact, to deny spirit altogether. The consciousness of forgiven sin and the impulse to live a holy life is not rooted in the mind, but is a part of the spiritual nature. It becomes also to deny that sin exists, and therefore its forgiveness and atonement to be unnecessary.

"As to the direct proofs of His deity there is, of course, the evidence first of the New Testament teaching. These documents are the earliest and most complete record of the life of Jesus. We read that He said, 'Before Abraham was, I am.' He prayed, 'Father, glorify thou me with thine own self with the glory which I had with Thee before the world was.' Certainly He made the assertion for Himself that He was God. He forgave sins, He spoke of His angels, He claimed to be one with the Father. The early Christians believed He was God, for they prayed to Him, claimed the power to heal in His name, set out to preach His deity to the whole world, and died by thousands for their belief in Him. Great blessings have attended the individuals and nations which have accepted Him as God, and great trouble and affliction has followed those individuals and nations which have rejected Him. Mighty intellects and powerful leaders, after years of opposition to the thought of His deity, have at last acknowledged Him to be God.

"The proof that He is not divine is harder than the proof that He is. In fact, it has never gained great headway in any age. And does it not make for a happier life to think of Him as the Son of God than as mere man? If the New Testament is followed, without doubting its teachings in any part, does it not make life brighter and more hopeful? Why deny ourselves the peace which resting in His almighty power and purity brings?

"But it is not a doctrine to be thrust down the throats of those who do not want to receive it. If the evidence which satisfies us does not satisfy them let us not find fault. If they are sincerely seeking more light and we can give it let us do so in love. If to them God is greater and more lovable without accepting what we believe regarding Jesus, let us not try to force them to accept our belief. We are here as witnesses. If we believe in Jesus as the Son of God, then, if He is truly so, His life and works will be manifested in us, and our lives become the greatest testimony we can give."

TELLS WHY CHRIST WAS PUT ON CROSS

Declaring that Pre-millennarianism is "a mere opinion on an obsolete thought—basis," Rev. E. F. Daugherty, preached at the First Christian Church yesterday on "His Second Coming." Mr. Daugherty said in part:

"If anything is certain to an unprejudiced reader of the New Testament, Jesus drew no fantastic pictures of His Kingdom's growth and establishment, such as were drawn by His contemporary and prior Jewish apocalptists. He had no concern in their national materialisations of God's expected sovereignity in the earth, and because He had not they crucified Him. He interpreted the Kingdom, not as a future catastrophic arrival, but an available treasure to be sought and appropriated like a pearl of great price on the individual basis. It is to be no triumph of the Jews over enemies, nor is it to be the supremacy of any sect over other sects. It is and will the more become the rule of God over and in hearts of men gathered from all quarters of the compass and from all races of men. Premillenarianism is a mere opinion on an obsolete thought basis; a Christian is not made so by that opinion, nor by the opinion of post-Millenarianism; a Christian is constituted by having amidst men the good, will and brotherliness and love of Christ for others, whatever their opinions.

"The conviction of the second coming of our Lord is in no whit surrendered or modified in the thought and life of the modern Christian; he simply rejects the old forms conveying the thought; he does not believe them Christian; they do no comport with the Christ's own attitude of concern for and love toward sinners."

MATERIALISM GIVEN HARD BLOW BY RABBI

Dr. Mayer Winkler, rabbi of Congregation Sinai, preached last Friday on "Reopened Wells." He said in part:

"'All the wells which his father's servants had dug in the days of Abraham his father, these the Philistines had stuffed and filled with dust.'

"'Isaac dug again the wells which were dug in the days of his father and he called them names after the names by which his father called them.'

"'The whole character of the second patriarch Isaac is revealed in these two sentences of the Bible. A true son of his father, convinced by the eternal truth and sublime ideals, he does not innovate new ideas and new modes of life. He is rather satisfied to reopen the wells of faith dug by his father Abraham, which for a while had been clogged by the dust and ashes of an idolatrous world. His merits are the faithful acceptance of the idealistic life assigned to him by his father, Abraham. It was Abraham who, in a world of superstition and darkness dared to revolutionize the mind of man. From amid a world immersed in the morass of idolatry he arises as a shining light and smashes the idols, destroys polytheism and proclaims genuine belief in one God. The religion founded by Abraham found a true follower in his son, who, in a humble and obedient spirit was satisfied to be the modest son of a great father. As an apostle imbued with the missionary spirit, Abraham digs the wells of a new faith, fountains of living waters, refreshing body and soul, but for awhile it appears that the dark forces of superstition stuff the wells with dust and ashes of crass materialism, of greed, violence and selfishness. Isaac, the true son of Abraham, reopens the wells, the flowing wells of faith, and calls them by the same name, in the same spirit as his father. This lesson of meekness and modesty in religious life should be applied nowadays in this restless age. Not in every generation and not to every one of us is given to dig new wells of spiritual life and to break new paths in life, although there are many in this age who, filled with discontent with the wells dug by their fathers, fill them up with the dust of material desires and undertake to dig new wells, new cults and new religions. In this age of advanced and free thought there are many who would like to cover the wells of pure ancient faith with dust and ashes of materialism."

TEXAS TRAVEL BILL IS HIGH

Expenses of Perambulating Government Run $1000 Per Day

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SAN ANTONIO (Tex.) Dec. 7.—Traveling expenses of Texas government heads and employees during October totaled more than $30,000, or more than $1000 per day. Texas is a large State and its "government on wheels" has assumed unusually large proportions.

EXPLAINS HOW CHURCH COULD LIFT HUMANITY

Dr. H. C. Culbertson, pastor of the Plymouth Congregational Church, preached yesterday on "Christianizing the World in This Generation." He said in part.

"What a wonderful century is this! Modern means of transportation and communication have opened dark continents and distant lands. By radio we talk and sing to one another all around the globe. If war should rise, in less than two weeks all our great cities could be destroyed by bombing air planes and our populations plague-smitten with disease germs. Having the marvels of modern wealth and invention at our command, could we Christianize this world—not merely evangelize, but Christianize it, in one generation? Certainly, if—

"If all those who love Jesus were as much in earnest about carrying out His teachings as we were in earnest when we poured out money and lives to win the World War. If we were enough in earnest to be willing to lay aside as secondary all our rivalries and differences, both of church organizations and creeds, and to concentrate on the things we hold in common, Catholics, Jews and Protestants alike undertaking unitedly to teach and live the ideals of the Ten Commandments, the Twenty-third Psalm, the Beatitudes, the Golden Rule, the parables of the Prodigal and the Good Samaritan, and the two great commandments which Jesus quoted, bidding us love the Lord our God and our neighbors as ourselves."

SAYS GOD'S KINGDOM IS IN MAN'S HEART

Rev. George E. Theiss, pastor of Immanuel Evangelical Lutheran Church, preached yesterday on "Thy Kingdom Come." He said in part:

"That the kingdom of grace and truth may come to us and to others, that the boundaries of God's kingdom be extended throughout the world, is the sincere prayer of every Christian today. This prayer fills our minds and hearts with thoughts of God's large purposes; it takes us out of the petty cares and troubles to the mountain-tops, and from the heights of divine love it shows us the broad expanse and wide interests of God's kingdom. There will be no other kingdom of God on earth to come, neither visible nor invisible, excepting this spiritual kingdom in the hearts of men where Christ sets up His gracious rule and governs them by the sweet influences of His unspeakable love. He who prays for any kingdom of God to come which will in any way intrefere with, or even supplant the present kingdoms and governments on earth, has not begun to understand this petition. Christ declared to Pilate: 'My kingdom is not of this world.' God's kingdom and the kingdoms on earth will not mix. These two organizations have nothing to do with each other. The principle of the separation of church and state are clearly laid down by Christ."

Advertising Men to Have Special Bill at Meeting

"Truth in Advertising," international slogan of the Associated Advertising Clubs, will be the keynote of this gathering.

David R. Cahill, special assistant to the Attorney-General of the United States, will be the principal speaker. Mr. Cahill's subject is "Cleaning up Fraud."

W. Austin Campbell, Los Angeles advertising man and the creator of one of the most successful trade characters ever sponsored on the Pacific Coast, will talk for three minutes on the "Co-ordination Between Sales and Advertising." REPORT ON ELK HILLS REVENUES

Receivers Set Income from Oil Products in November at $237,238.19

A revenue of $237,238.19 from petroleum products was realized from the Elk Hills Naval Oil Reserve in November, according to a report on file today with Federal Judge McCormick from Harry H. Rousseau and J. Crampton Anderson, receivers for the property pending a decision in the government's suit to cancel the leases to the Pan-American Petroleum and Transport Company and the Pan-American Petroleum Company.

Since the receivers were appointed several months ago, a surplus of $1,320,687.55 has been accumulated, and in addition, the receivers report that on October 31, last, they had in storage 7869 barrels of oil; the market value of which at that date was $8417.76. The production is from thirteen oil and gas wells and two gas wells; no new wells have been drilled.

The government's suit to cancel the leases was recently tried in Judge McCormick's court here, and the court now has the case under consideration. A decision in the matter is expected within the next two months.

Traffic Signal Specifications Expected Today

The City Council is expected to receive today from City Attorney Stephens and City Electrician Manahan the revised specifications under which bids will be asked for 100 automatic traffic signals which are to be installed at intersections outside the downtown congested district. In case the bids are too high or not otherwise satisfactory, it is expected that Councilman Mallard will urge the Council to reject all bids and direct the city to build its own signals.

The Automobile Club of Southern California has offered to the city, free of cost, the use of the plans and specifications of the signal installed by the club at Figueroa street and West Adams street, which was developed by the club's engineers at a large expense.

Money Will be Asked for Park Improvements

The City Council will be asked today to appropriate $1700 for the improvement of available ground at Exposition Park by the City Playground Commission. The commission has prepared plans for grading off the old race track embankment on the south side of the Coliseum in order to make available a boys' and children's playground and tennis courts.

The Council also will be asked to appropriate $1000 to permit the commission to put on the annual Christmas celebration at fourteen city playgrounds. It is proposed by the commission to give Christmas plays and to decorate suitably the playgrounds at Echo Park, Slauson, Hazard, Salt Lake, Ross Snyder, Arroyo Seco, Exposition Park, Recreation Center, Eagle Rock, Sawtelle, Men's Club, Plaza, San Pedro and Van Nuys.

ASK NEW FIRE ZONE

Property owners have petitioned the City Council to place the Los Feliz Boulevard between Griffith Park and the Glendale city limits in a fire zone, so that the buildings constructed in this section will be fireproof.

PLAYGROUND REPAIRS

The Playground Commission has asked the City Council for an appropriation of $1700 to be expended upon repairs and improvements at the Exposition Park Playground.

HORTICULTURAL NOTE

Girls have no objection to being likened to a rose or lily, but they do dread falling into the wall-flower class. The buds would think they had withered.

THE CLIMBERS

California may be the eighth State in population, but last month it was fifth in bank clearings, which indicate the financial temperature of the race. The bankers will tell the world that we have something besides climate to hang our hat on.

THE BRAZILIAN WAY

Even Brazil is not receiving immigrants unless assured that they can be properly and advantageously placed. The Japanese are experiencing much the same treatment that is applied under our own laws. They can hardly concentrate their criticism upon Uncle Sam.

FALSE ALARMS

The ladies are interested in knowing that Valentino intends to bob his chin when the filming of his present picture is completed. The brush he has been growing on his map was merely for purposes of realism. False whiskers do not register so artistically as the real thing and may be displaced in an erotic entanglement.

WITHIN THE INCOME

Gov. Richardson says that the State of California must live within its income. It is difficult to beat this idea into the domes of professional politicians, but, with the shining example of Calvin Coolidge before the country, the people are being gradually brought to the assurance that it can be done. Lots of men have to live within their income. The State should be able to point the way.

THE STORMY PETREL

Cipriano Castro, who used to be the wild man of Venezuela, is dead in Porto Rico, where he dwelt as an exile. In his day he had mussed up South and Central America a lot. He boosted himself from a Presidency into a dictatorship and hung on until his country refused longer to take his dictation. He had been in half a dozen revolutions and his idea of a good time was to take a ride on a merry-go-round. He was better known as a disturber of Latin-American peace than as a patriotic statesman.

THE COLD WINTER

Now the scientists are saying that the world is due for a couple of unusually cold winters. They aver that in 1912 the sun began giving off less heat and as a result certain ocean currents that beget warmth became exceptionally cool. These currents have their effect upon the temperature of the land. It will take two or three years of high summer to get these currents back into form. People are at liberty to believe this explanation if they wish or they can take their weather as being something that just happened.

THE PIE HABIT

The biggest income in the State of Maine is said to go to a man who accumulated a number of millions in the last few years in the manufacture of paper pie plates. Possibly the plates can be put to picnic and other uses, but the inspiration for their making originally came from the demand for a simple and inexpensive container for the great American dessert—apple pie. With the accompaniment of a paper plate a whole pie may be safely transported from place to place and thereby contribute to the comfort and satisfaction of our citizenship. It seems a trifling thing, but it is of these that fortunes are made.

SOME SOFTER MEN

Dr. Jane Walker, a well-known English specialist, is saying that modern men are getting soft. She is not talking about their heads, but about their bodies. The Englishman of other days was a hard-riding, seasoned person who could stand any amount of fatigue. The average Britisher of today is flabby and his muscles are soft and lax. The American business man is in the same class. The ordinary citizen of today will play a round of golf and be all fagged out. The old-timers were apt to take their exercise violently, but in these days a banker will play a couple of hands of auction bridge and think he is training for a fight. The odd thing is that some men get soft through hardening of the arteries.

CROOKED TESTIMONY

Trotzky is telling his scarlet bodyguard that America is going in for militarism. He says that American capital has reached its limits of power in the home markets and must take the sword and go abroad for larger fields. He expresses the thought that a nation must use force in extending its contacts. He would make us believe that we have to use sixteen-inch guns to open up a market for our curling irons and clothespins. That seems to be the Bolshevik conception of commercial relations. They have to be established with artillery. But the fact that Uncle Sam is blowing up his own battleships, reducing his Army and limiting his Navy should be better evidence of our national policy than the inflamed words of a Trotzky.

THE CLASH OF COLOR

Great Britain's resumption of the Egyptian protectorate, which was established when Abbas Hilmi declared soon after the beginning of the World War for Turkey and the Central Powers and voluntarily abandoned on February 28, 1922, has apparently thrown the whole Near East into a turmoil. France has never looked with complaisance on the British "sphere of influence" in Egypt and the Sudan, and her government is inclined to resent the new assumption of the protectorate. According to European cables, France encouraged the Egyptian government to appeal her case to the League of Nations; and England has notified the League that John Bull will brook no interference with what he considers a question of the internal relations of the empire.

According to Sir Valentine Chirol, former director of the foreign department of the London Times, the real issue in the Egyptian controversy is racial rather than political. He says the present outbreak is "but a symptom of a world-wide condition which must bring vast changes to pass."

He refers to the protective steps taken by this country to prevent the mingling of the yellow and white races on the Pacific Coast and reaches the conclusion that some similar action must be taken by the white peoples of Europe, Northern Africa and Western Asia, in order to prevent an Asiatic invasion similar to those of the early centuries of Christendom.

> A world wherein a white man is merely the acknowledged equal of a colored man would be hard for the average white man of this day and generation to visualize—a still harder one to get along peaceably in. But Sir Valentine Chirol is right, such a world is in the making.

According to Mr. Thomas, "The educational bread cast upon the waters by the bearer of the white man's burden drifts back to us dynamite."

Sir Valentine says "all the manifold discontents are bound together in the clash of color. In this country (the United States) you have the color problem in your midst and have it again at your doors in the shape of Asiatic immigration. We in Europe are confronted by it along the great borderland of the Occident and Orient, extending through Northern Africa and across Western and Central Asia from the shores of the Northwestern Atlantic to the shores of the Indian Ocean, even beyond. Its solution bristles with difficulties and on that solution today more than ever before depends the peaceful readjustment of the dangerously strained relations between East and West."

But history records no instance of a peaceful readjustment of those relations. They have always been ruled by the superior armaments of Europe. And the present attitude of the British government in relation to Egypt and the Sudan does not lend encouragement to the hope for peaceful solutions.

The situation in the Near East is complicated by the clash of French and British interests. These two nations have fought more than one war over the question of colonial expansion. The clash in the eighteenth century was over territorial possession in North America. The twentieth century sees it transferred to Africa. For twenty years before the World War England and France offered a united front in colonial controversies against the rising might of Germany. By the Versailles Treaty Germany was deprived of the whole of its colonial possessions, and England and France now face each other as the two great colonial powers.

Meanwhile, the native peoples of Asia and Africa are inclined to rebel against colonial domination by either of these nations. Their statesmen and politicians stress the terms of the armistice, "self-determination for all peoples." Sir Valentine says, with an appearance at least of justice: "The spectacle of battered and bleeding Europe has been a serious blow to occidental prestige all through the Orient. . . . Rightly or wrongly, the oriental, who for a time admitted and acquiesced with almost fatalistic resignation in the white man's superiority, denies it today."

Whether the present political disturbances in Egypt and the Sudan are epochal in their nature or merely incidental cannot be determined in advance. That is the secret of the future. A cloud appears on the horizon, and the course and intensity of political and racial currents will determine whether it will sweep over the face of Europe or pass out over the Indian Ocean.

WHAT WILL HARVEST BE?

Congressman John Philip Hill of Maryland made cider with a 2-per-cent punch in it and wine containing more than 11 per cent of alcoholic content, invited his friends in to sample it and openly challenged the authorities to prove him guilty of wrong-doing. A Federal jury in Baltimore has sustained his view of the matter, and folks back East are concluding from that decision that it is all right and legal for a farmer to make wine or cider on his own place for noncommercial purposes, although it still is a crime for a city dweller to manufacture home brew. The city dweller cannot contend that he has to make cider and fruit juice to keep his products from wasting and that he cannot be blamed if they ferment of their own accord.

For years a great national back-to-the-farm movement has been advocated, urged, passionately pleaded for—and considered almost hopeless. But this incident suggests that the tide of sentiment may change overnight at any moment. When the great white ways are arid and only the landed proprietor who makes the earth produce and fructify has the right to both kinds of irrigation and can have running stimulants in every room if he wants to, full many a flat of purest ray serene is going to be vacated. Everybody knows the successful agriculturist is virtually the only man who can eat just as he wishes to and, if he also becomes the only man who can drink as he likes, many a modern disciple of Patrick Henry will jump his board bill with the ringing cry, "Give me agriculture or give me death!"

Then, ah, then, the desert shall blossom as the rose!

If that time comes no doubt John Philip Hill shall become a national figure. He may even become the Bacchus of our modern mythologies.

These things are possible, but not probable; for it must be kept in mind that it was not a Federal judge but a Federal jury that pronounced John Philip Hill not guilty. No precedent was established for other judges to follow; for it was evidently a wet jury that declined to convict.

Juries in other territory might not be so lenient; and those who follow the example of John Philip will have the gauntlet of a jury to run. There have been many instances in which the so-called unwritten law has caused juries to turn free one who had slain his fellow-man. Perhaps in some sections where the sentiment is wet a new kind of unwritten law may be evoked to turn violators of the Volstead Act loose, but in territory where the dry sentiment prevails or where the juries have more regard for the written law the result will be different. The escape of one guilty man does not confer immunity on others who commit a similar offense.

SOUND ADVICE

Lady Astor, the Virginia-born member of the British House of Commons, told a group of women recently something their American sisters need to think about in their lamentations over the trend of the "younger generations."

"The only way we can affect youth," said Lady Astor, "is not in what we can do for them, but in what we are." In other words, if American or English youth is slipping and needs to be reclaimed its recovery will not be in sermonizing, but by example of their elders.

This fact must be patent to most persons. A mother who chides her daughter for remaining out late to dances must herself get home early from such festivities. A father who warns his son about liquor must himself rid his cellar of booze. A young girl who sees her mother rouge and powder in public just naturally does the same thing herself, and the lad who overhears his dad guffawing over an unsavory story merely apes his parent when he does the same thing.

So long as the examples of bad habits are provided by the elders the youths can scarcely do anything else. All the heart-to-heart talks, all the tracts, all the disciplinary schools cannot neutralize, as Lady Astor says, "what we are."

INCOME PUBLICITY

The confusion throughout the country over making public the income taxes paid by certain wealthy persons and a number of others of smaller earning capacity has raised serious questions of the soundness of such a policy. Such information was supposed to be kept secret. Then a law was enacted by the Sixty-eighth Congress that was generally construed simply as making it possible to get information in specific instances involved in dispute. It is fresh in mind that, while the measure was before Congress, such a clamor was raised on the suggestion that it would mean publication of what everyone pays that its supporters generally greatly narrowed the interpretation of it.

This matter calls for thought on the part of all concerned. Is the man of small income who is eager to get the facts of the larger incomes as ready to have his own made public? Right away many an individual says: "This is a private affair. It is nobody's business but my own. I was under the impression that what I told the authorities would be kept secret."

This is what everyone supposed. It is more than plain that there is a question of policy and propriety in this as well as legality. The responsibility rests at present with the Treasury Department. There is a question whether any good purpose is served by opening the income-tax records for public inspection.

THIS ITCHING BUSINESS

A Missouri woman is suing for $5000 damages because she contracted barber's itch when she had her bean bobbed in a professional shop. If our loved ones are to suffer from this ailment it may be necessary to revise our fashions. No girl will want to run the risk of having her face and temper marred by an affliction of tonsor's hives.

Just About It
by James J. Montague

AT THE MOVIES

The heroine hides in a corner,
The door of the cabin swings wide;
That ten evil men are outside.
She lifts up her voice for assistance—
A thin feeble murmur—that's all;
And lo! there's a cry in the distance,
And the hero responds to her call.

Oh! hero! Oh calm, daring hero!
He always is right on the spot.
He comes on the run and unlimbers his gun
And gets those ten men at one shot.
He stands there serene and unblinking,
In the midst of a puddle of gore,
So brave and so game, with such quickness of aim
What couldn't he do in a war!

Just over a dynamite can;
The villain comes craftily creeping
To explode it—vile, conscienceless man.
The hero comes up from the basement,
Gives the villain a left-handed slap,
Throws the dynamite can through the casement
And the baby continues his nap.

Oh! hero! Oh! fearless young hero!
So bold, and so stern, and so grim,
He stands not aghast at a dynamite blast,
For what is more danger to him!
He plants a strong foot on the villain
Who writhes in his rage on the floor.
Fine lads are these birds, too noble for words,
But they never get into a war!

AN AMAZING FEAT

By living conformably to nature Epictetus found the road to health and so have a number of other people, among them the man of 65 who was telling the reporters the other day how he went to live in the San Gabriel Mountains, a nervous and bodily wreck, and within two years gained robust health and something only a little short of Herculean vigor. The prophets of old understood this sort of thing, for one of them said: "I will lift mine eyes unto the hills whence cometh my strength."

An ancient hiker of this city—a man of 80 who climbs mountains and does other things to shame tired young people who lean back on motor-car cushions—was telling a group of naturopaths the other day what wonderfully steady bodily poise he possessed. He had gained this by nerve culture, as he termed it, the chief part of his self-treatment being walking, especially in steep places where there were many obstacles to overcome. He said that he always walked upstairs, even where there was an elevator, and scorned to lean upon a baluster or cane. When he boarded a crowded street car he climbed the steps and walked along the swaying floor of the car to his seat, to which he proceeded without once touching rail, strap or handle.

A marvelous performance truly, and the most wonderful part of it was getting a seat in a crowded street car!

While using a new Roentgen apparatus at Maenitoe, Finland, the doctor and nurse were killed by an electric shock and the patient was hurled into an adjoining room.

So great has become the damage to grain plantations by hippopotomi in Tanganyika Territory, Africa, that authorities are encouraging sportsmen to thin out the animals.

That the thermometer dropped to 40 deg. below freezing point during his recent trip to Greenland is the report of Dr. Lange Kock, the Danish explorer.

While playing with his youthful master, a dog in Australia dug up a sample of gold recently, a battery was set up and now the mine is yielding two ounces of gold to the ton.

While cruising in South African waters a motor boat was stopped by a body of fish that were escaping from a great band of seals that were eating their way into the mass.

A crystal of olivine of gem quality, weighing 137 grams, from the island of St. John in the Red Sea, was purchased recently by the British Museum of London.

Should the tides in the Bay of Fundy be harnessed, sufficient power can be generated at the Lubec Narrows to supply every industry of New England, it is estimated.

PSYCHOANALYSIS

BY RANSOME SUTTON

There is nothing occult in psychoanalysis. It has a real scientific basis, although scientists are not fully agreed as to what the basis may be. Like every psychological subject, it has become involved in a jungle of high-sounding words, which mean different things to different people, and a pathway has to be cleared through the wilderness of words before an explorer can make headway. Still worse is the fact that the subject has been made to cover a mess of sex stuff, having nothing whatever to do with psychoanalysis.

The method of mental analysis, called psychoanalysis, originated in 1893, largely as a result of the studies of Dr. Sigmund Freud of Vienna. It was badly born, for Freud had an obsession for sex, which verged close to mental obscenity. He interpreted the behavior of children, always animal-like during infancy, in terms of sexuality, and some of his writings should be barred from homes. But later investigators, such as Andre Tridon, have partially clarified the subject, and decent-minded people are beginning to derive practical benefits from psychoanalysis. It simply means an analysis of one's mind, or soul, the theory being that our conscious thoughts and behavior are caused by subconscious memories of past experiences.

No branch of science is more hazy and confused than psychology. The physical sciences are far more definite. In physiology, for example, we know all about the workings of the body, yet we know less about the workings of the mind than was known about the body before Harvey discovered the circulation of the blood. It is known, however, that the mind resides in the brain and consists of two main parts: the conscious mind, called the understanding, and the subconscious mind, made up of inborn instincts. It goes without saying that the conscious and subconscious minds are closely related and that the lessons we are learning today are necessarily colored by the lessons our ancestors learned, which are stored away in the back of our brain as subconscious memories. A psychoanalyst explores into the subconscious mind in order to account for conditions in the conscious mind.

A further well-known fact is this: Whatever we see, hear, feel, taste or smell makes an everlasting impression on our minds. A name once heard is never forgotten, though we may not be able to recall it at will. Under certain circumstances, however, out comes the name.

Moreover, with every impression the surroundings are also impressed on the mind. As stated in "Limehouse Nights," "Memory is a delicate instrument. Like an old musical box, it will lie silent for long years; then a mere nothing, a jerk, a tremor, will start the spring, and from beneath its decent covering of dust it will talk to us of forgotten passion and desire. Some memories are thus moved at sight of a ribbon, a faded violet, a hotel bill; others at the sound of a voice or a bar of music. . . . To me return all the unhappy far-off things when I smell the sharp odor of a dirty little theater near Blackwell. Then I think upon all those essences of life most fragrant, and upon . . . Gina Bretano."

The deepest impressions are formed during childhood, when the brain is growing and plastic. So Saint Augustin said: "Give me the child and you may have the man." Andre Tridon argued very convincingly that the reason one man loves one particular woman is because he sees in that woman qualities which impressed him most strongly as a child. The mother's hair may have made the most lasting impression. Then that babe, after becoming a man, subconsciously worships the same kind of hair and falls in love with a woman who has it. It may have been the nurse's blue eyes that makes another man want a blue-eyed wife. A superior woman selects an inferior husband, when she might have married her equal, simply because as a baby she learned to admire inferiority in some particular man.

Now that is what psychoanalysis seeks to do—to explain the present state of mind by earlier experiences and by inherited instincts. Sex impulses have played a tremendous part in mental development, but that is no reason why they should be magnified and used to explain every phase of human psychology. To the extent that inborn instincts and childhood's impressions are studied as causes of adult psychology and behavior, psychoanalysis is a clean, scientific and helpful way whereby we can correct many of our mental abnormalities. For, as soon as a person is brought face to face with the cause of his peculiar "bent of mind," he is no longer its slave. Whoever studies psychoanalysis will appreciate the importance of surrounding children from the day they are born with proper influences.

The Woman and Her Job

[Questions pertaining to the problems of women will be answered in this column if addressed to Mrs. Walrose at The Times.]

PIGEONS AND FOLKS

A humorist once told me that he got all the material for listening to conversations in public places. I never . . . listening, I mean. But I do know that when . . . they're everywhere.

There's your story. I'll let you write it yourself.

ANSWERS TO QUESTIONS

Dear Miss N.: I cannot give you the address of the "girl with the lawn mower." I make it a rule not to divulge the name of any person whose story is told in this column.

Dear S. W., M.: Your inquiry puzzles me. I have no thought of opening a class in the story of color. I have had a little book planned for a long time, but have had no time to do other than plan its chapters. It will deal with color and its symbology in relation to advertising, interior decoration, and costume design. However, it has been in the planned stage for two years; at the present rate I'll be bobbing along on a cane by the time it is published.

Dear Myrtle: I have forwarded your letter about the knitting machine to the lady to whom I replied in a recent issue. I have heard of women who operated them successfully, also others who made a complete failure with them. It probably depends on the type of machine.

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS

Specked Lemons

If the lemons have small brown specks on them, soak them for fifteen minutes in cold water and then scrub vigorously with a vegetable brush. This measure will remove the specks and will not in any way harm the lemon.

Keep It Cool

A bowl of fruit is very decorative in the dining-room, but unless eaten rapidly it will soon decay. Perhaps it is wise, if you are not big fruit eaters, to keep the fruit in the cool pantry and use some other form of decoration.

Less Odorous

Are you baking your sauerkraut this year instead of boiling it on top of the stove? It can be put in the oven just as you would prepare it for boiling and very little odor will permeate the house. Bake very slowly for three or four hours.

Tarnished Silverware

When cleaning silver put two quarts of water in an old aluminum kettle. Add two tablespoonfuls salt and one of soda, letting it come to a boil. Then put the silver in this for a few minutes. It will not harm the silver but will remove the tarnish.

Loose Tiles

If you find the floor or fireplace tiles to be a little loose, fix them immediately before any are lost. A little plaster of paris mixed with vinegar to a paste should be placed on the loose tiles and the tiles then cemented into place. Protect them until thoroughly hardened.

Proper Care

You would not think of using any important piece of machinery without an occasional overhauling. Yet how many of us find decided changes in our physical beings and do not consult a physician until the matter is acute and difficult to cure. A thorough examination every two years would mean years added to the lives of many.

SOCIETY

BY JUANA NEAL LEVY

Mr. and Mrs. Richard A. Perez of 1222 South Alvarado street, returned last Tuesday from a delightful two and a half month's trip through the East. While in New York City they were guests of Mrs. Perez's mother, Mrs. De Dorticos, and her daughters, Mrs. Fred Edelsten and Miss Mercedes De Luna. Mr. and Mrs. Perez also visited Havana for several weeks, where they were guests of numerous relatives of Mrs. Perez and at Panama, where they visited with a number of Mr. Perez's relatives, passing several weeks in the latter port. They came home by way of the Panama Canal.

Luncheon Party

Among the affairs planned for this week will be the luncheon with which Mrs. S. F. Forbes of 151 Ridgewood Place, will entertain in the East Indian Room at the Ambassador, Thursday afternoon. Covers will be arranged for seventy-five guests.

In the East

Mrs. Claire Woolwine of 411 South Arden Boulevard, and her attractive little daughter, Mary, are enjoying a visit in Ashland, O., where they went several days ago, and will remain until after the New Year visiting with Mrs. Woolwine's mother, Mrs. J. L. Clark. Mr. Woolwine will go East shortly and will assist at the Yuletide celebration, bringing his wife and small daughter home with him next month.

Home From Tour

Mrs. Jack Alexander McGarry (Christine Kurtz) and her son and daughter, Miss Margaret McGarry and Jack McGarry, Jr., formerly of 660 West Washington street, have returned from Stockton, where they enjoyed the Thanksgiving holidays with Mayor and Mrs. R. J. Wheeler. Mrs. Wheeler will be remembered in Los Angeles as Miss Katherine Kurtz. On their way to Stockton they stopped for Miss Katherine McGarry, who is at Stanford, where she is working for a master's degree. Since Mrs. McGarry's return from Valdez, Alaska, where she passed the last year, she has resided at her summer home in Hermosa Beach and will remain there until late in the spring. Among the many trophies brought back from the Far North is a large Alaskan malemute. Miss Katherine McGarry will spend the Christmas holidays with her mother at 60 Seventeenth street, Hermosa Beach.

For Bride-Elect

Miss Herbena Haseltine, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Haseltine of South Ardmore avenue, who has chosen the 22nd inst., as the date of her wedding with Dr. Harris Bloecker, is the motif for numerous charming prenuptial events, among them being the tea with which Mrs. Harry Lamport entertained on November 14, last, and Mrs. Winchel Boice gave a luncheon on November 19, last, at her home in Long Beach. Miss Clough of Pasadena was hostess at a luncheon November 14, last, and Thursday afternoon Mrs. Paul Schmitz gave a luncheon at her home in Ardmore avenue with Miss Haseltine as special guest of honor.

Returned Here

After a year's residence in San Francisco, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Perkins Trantum are being gladly welcomed by their many friends here, and after the 15th inst. will be at home at 640 South Carondelet street.

At Hotel Virginia

Among the Angelenos who have been enjoying a sojourn at Hotel Virginia, Long Beach, are Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Stow, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Holmes, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Ransford, Mrs. E. Hillman, Miss Kremhan, Dr. H. W. Edwards, Mrs. C. R. Duane, Grance W. Hingley, Marion V. Schlund, Mr. and Mrs. S. P. Barnes, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Sterling and B. M. Schuman.

Diet and Health

INSECTS IN THE EAR

A doctor hearing a commotion in his outer office looked out to find two small boys. One of them, with his hand clapped to his ear and his face distorted with fear and pain, was jumping around and screaming: "He's at it again! He's at it again!" The small boy's companion explained that while they were playing, his chum suddenly screamed that something was jumping around in his ear, so he brought him to the nearest doctor's office.

The doctor, suspecting that an insect had blundered in, and knowing how insects are attracted to light, held a flashlight up to the boy's ear. Sure enough the insect, obeying its instincts, slowly ambled out. The boys asked the doctor his fee. "One dollar." The doctor smiled. Whereupon, the little fellow who was engineering the visit in a much disgusted tone, "Huh! $1! You didn't do nuthin' to take him out! He just walked out by hisself!"

Insects, in pursuit of their business or pleasure, not infrequently include ears in their itineraries. It is undoubtedly a very disagreeable experience for both the insect and the host, and needless to say, the visitor should be ousted as soon as possible. The ear wax cerumen, a sticky, waxy substance with a rather strong oder—is secreted by the skin glands in the canal of the outer ear and was undoubtedly designed by nature to help kill off wandering insects as well as to lubricate the ear. Sooner or later the ear wax would demolish the intruder, but it may do some damage meanwhile, so the pest should be removed as soon as possible.

The method used by the doctor in the story may or may not be effective. In case an insect goes into a child's ear and you cannot make it walk out by "hisself," place the child on his side with the ear in question uppermost, and pour a teaspoon of slightly warmed gycerine, or oil, or toilet water, or hydrogen peroxide, into his ear. If you haven't any of these on hand, some warm water will do. This will probably cause the insect to float out. If not, the ear should be syringed. Have the child hold a small basin under the ear; fill an all-rubber ear syringe with warm water, and standing a little behind the child, pull the lobe of the ear slightly backward and upward, insert the nozzle of the syringe into the ear canal—leaving plenty of room for the water to run out—out and press the bulb. Continue this treatment until the insect is washed out. Then have the child lie on the affected side in order to get out the excess water, and wipe the ear with wisp of cotton wound firmly around a toothpick or match.

It is always wiser to go to a physician for this treatment, but I realize you cannot always do that and something has to be done immediately. Be sure the insect is out.

You remember the case I told you of, sometime ago, that was reported by Dr. Paul Higbee in the American Medical Association Journal. It teaches us something, so I am going to repeat it as it was in the Journal.

"A man, 36 years of age, stumbled and fell, February 18, 1922, striking on his chin. He was unconscious for a few seconds, and, on recovery, experienced a sharp pain in his right ear. After the chin wound was dressed he was referred to me for examination of the ear. The external canal was blocked. A large amount of debris was removed, disclosing tightly packed cerumen, which was removed with difficulty. Following this came the remains of a dead cockroach, 18 mm. in length and perfectly preserved in every detail.

"The patient in April, 1908, while preparing for a bath, felt a sudden pain and buzzing in the right ear, which drove him almost frantic. While his wife was telephoning for a physician, he put his head under the water in the tub and the pain soon ceased. Later, on the advice of the physician, the ear was syringed, but nothing was washed out of the ear and it was supposed that the trouble was due to a small mite which had been lost in the washing. The patient gradually became deaf in his ear, but never consulted a physician, believing that some irreparable damage had been done to the ear by the insect which he thought he had washed out.

After the removal of the cockroach and cleansing of the canal, hearing was fully normal, and the only evidence of injury was a slight abrasion of the drum. It seems probable that following the original injury in 1908, the canal became gradually filled with wax, thus entombing the insect in an air-tight space and preserving it in toto for nearly fourteen years."

The lesson we must get from this is not to accept gradually increasing deafness as a natural thing, but to realize we may have an earful of something more that needs the attention of an ear specialist.

PLANS TO FIGHT HOBO INVASION

Dist.-Atty. Keyes Sponsors Crime Conference

Peace Officers of County to Unite in War

Annual Influx of Gunmen Worries Officials

More than 6000 hobos, in addition to numerous gunmen and gangsters, have come to Los Angeles within the past few weeks, it was disclosed yesterday when invitations were sent out by Dist.-Atty. Keyes to 200 peace officers in the county to attend a conference Friday afternoon, called to formulate plans to combat crime.

The conference was called as the result of a previous meeting of Dist.-Atty Keyes, Chief of Police Heath, Captain of Detectives Home and Sheriff Traeger. At that time it was pointed out by the Chief of Police that need is apparent for control of the hobo invasion of Los Angeles. It also was pointed out by Capt. Home that he has evolved a method of identifying professional gunmen and gangsters, who have been coming here in large numbers from Chicago, Philadelphia, Detroit and New York.

PLAN CO-OPERATION

It will be suggested that the various peace officers throughout the county co-operate in keeping the others informed regarding the presence or activities of known criminals, especially gunmen and gangsters. Sheriff Traeger also has a plan which he intends to place before the conference.

Those invited to the conference include the Sheriff, chiefs of police, city marshals, special agents of railroads, the United States Marshal, postoffice inspectors, investigators of the Department of Justice, and others who are interested in the enforcement of the law.

Dist.-Atty Keyes, it was stated, may propose that the law-enforcement officers support a plan to have an institution for the criminally insane established in the State.

Besides raiding and arresting all undesirables, arrangements have been made to put them to work on the rock pile while their photographs are sent to eastern cities in an effort to determine those wanted there for crimes.

SHOOT TO KILL

Orders to shoot to kill upon being resisted are being given to members of the police force. A target range has been arranged for and Sheriff Traeger has issued orders to all deputy sheriffs to hold weekly target practice. The robbery squad, burglary squad and other details handling criminal cases are making preparations to cope with the influx.

A special detail, organized by Capt. Home at Central Station, will meet incoming trains before they reach the city and will either put the hoboes on trains going East or bring them to the City Jail.

"Mothers should keep their boys out of poolhalls," advised Undersheriff Biscailuz yesterday. "It is there that they rub shoulders and get acquainted with gunmen, crooks, dope fiends and agents for all kinds of vice. Boys coming from good family homes learn their first lessons in vice and crime in such places."

LAWS ARE STRICT

"Crooks should take warning that the laws in this State provide strict punishment for robbery. The minimum sentence is five years and the maximum life with no probation or parole," said Chief Deputy District Attorney Buron Fitts.

"California also has a law against carrying concealed weapons, guns, blackjacks, knives and implements for burglaries. The mere possession of these articles carries a prison term."

"Through the efforts of the Los Angeles Crime Commission our criminal laws have been made very strict and this territory has been made very undesirable for crooks to operate in. Due to our vigorous prosecutions this section is sending almost as many men to prison as the rest of the State combined."

"Our jails are crowded, said Sheriff Traeger. "About 760 prisoners are in the County Jail and we will continue to pack in as many more as is necessary to keep the county safe from crooks."

ELKS HONOR MEMORY OF THEIR DEAD

Annual Service of Local Lodge is Well Attended; Judge Hardy Orator

Before a house filled to capacity with members and friends of Los Angeles Lodge, No. 99, Benevolent Protective Order of Elks, Superior Court Judge Carlos S. Hardy, a member of the organization, delivered the chief oration at the memorial service in honor of departed members at the Biltmore Theater yesterday afternoon.

During the service, one of the many similar ones held throughout the nation yesterday, executives, members and friends of the Elks united to pay tribute to the memory of all departed brothers. Fred E. Pierce, Esteemed Leading Knight, had arranged a suitable program for the occasion and was assisted by Harry Girard, who prepared the musical arrangements.

Following the opening ceremonies conducted by lodge brothers and the invocation by Brother Herbert E. Kincaid, chaplain, came the roll call of departed members by Brother F. E. White and the muffled tones of the draped block droning eleven strokes mingled with the ascending prayers of the assembled group.

Included in the musical program were several beautiful vocal selections by Agnes Cain Brown Girard and also several selections by the choir. Preceding the roll call of departed members, Harry Girard sang "The Great Awakening." Chaplain Kincaid closed the service with a short prayer and Rankin, Tomes and the choir offered "God Be With You Till We Meet Again," as the meeting dispersed.

"What does the public care how much is spent making a motion picture if it's a good picture and worth seeing?" Mr. Asher wants to know. He also believes that the day of advertising the cost of a picture is passing.

PASTOR LAYS CHURCH CORNER-STONE

University Christian Congregation Conducts Ceremony

IN spite of threatened rain, the congregation of the University Christian Church gathered yesterday at Budlong street and Santa Barbara avenue for the laying of the corner-stone of the new $75,000 church which will be erected there.

The stone was laid at 3 p.m. by the Rev. A. L. Webb, pastor of the church, aided by former Pastors H. C. Kendrick and J. W. Maddux and Dr. James Mohorter of St. Louis, who is a representative of the national organization of Christian Churches.

Twenty-two articles were sealed with the corner-stone, following appropriate ceremonies.

Plans for the new church include a second unit to be erected later. The present building will include a banquet hall to seat 400 and an auditorium to seat 750. It will be of brick construction reinforced by steel, with a stucco exterior. Romanesque architecture will be employed.

ONE WOUNDED IN GUN FIGHT

Detective's Life Saved by Misfire; Policeman is Held on Charge of Assault

Frank H. Gosting, alias F. H. Norman, of 340 South Fremont avenue, was shot but not seriously wounded early yesterday by Detective Lieutenant Jack Trainor when the former is asserted to have attempted to take the officer's life. Jerome Davis, a policeman and companion of Gosting, was placed in the City Jail on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon for his participation in the three-cornered affray. A young woman, giving her name as Alice Norman, and admitting she is the common-law wife of Gosting, is being held as a material witness.

According to Trainor and police witnesses, he was passing the Fremont-street address in his machine when he noticed a man lying in the street and apparently drunk. Trainor stopped his car and got out to investigate. Harry J. Raymond, formerly chief detective in the District Attorney's office, who was riding with Trainor, went into a near-by house to telephone for the patrol. While Trainor stood outside an automobile drove up and two men leaped out, demanding to know what was the trouble.

Trainor, according to his version, announced that he was an officer and that he would take care of the man in the street. An altercation followed in which Davis is said to have grappled with Trainor. During the scuffle Gosting requested Davis's revolver, announcing his intention of killing Trainor. Obtaining the gun, Gosting aimed it at the detective and snapped the trigger, according to Trainor. The gun missed fire.

Springing behind the trunk of a tree, Trainor drew his revolver and commanded Gosting to raise his hands. When the latter failed to do so Trainor fired three times, aiming low and striking Gosting once in his left thigh. The victim was taken to Receiving Hospital where the bullet was extracted.

Davis, who was in civilian clothes and off duty, admitted to officers investigating the shooting that he and his companions had been drinking. As a result an additional charge of being intoxicated was placed against the two men. Davis, who had been assigned to the Lincoln Heights division, was suspended pending an investigation.

MAN ASKING LIFT IS SHOT

Motorist Reported to Have Fired Point-Blank at Pedestrian; Wound Treated at Hospital

Max Selig, 28 years of age, asked for a ride and received a bullet in his side, fired point-blank from a speeding motor car which he attempted to flag down early yesterday morning on Pico Boulevard, according to his report to the Sheriff's office. The shooting occurred near the Hillcrest Country Club, to which place Selig went for help after being wounded.

According to Deputy Sheriffs Patton and Ellison, Selig was traveling on foot from Santa Monica to Los Angeles when he attempted to hail an automobile which was headed toward the city. The machine slowed down at a signal from the wayfarer. As the car approached Selig could see that there were four occupants, two of them being women. Running up to the side of the car Selig begged a ride. The response came from one of the men, who leaned from the front seat and fired two shots from an automatic pistol at the man on the roadside. Selig fell wounded and the car sped on its way.

Staggering to the Hillcrest County Club Selig summoned the watchman, who notified Sawtelle police. The wounded man was taken to Receiving Hospital, where a .32 calber bullet was dislodged from his back by Police Surgeon Renfrew. He later was removed to General Hospital.

CHRISTMAS MAILERS TARDY

Postmaster Says Campaign for Early Sending of Packages is Having Little Effect

Despite an early mailing campaign and frequent appeals to the public from many sources, Postmaster P. P. O'Brien, in a statement today, declared that from all indications it was apparent that the majority of people were following their usual custom and waiting until the last minute to mail their Christmas packages.

"While it is probable that a great deal of the shopping incident to Christmas has already been done, we have little to show that the major portion has been given to the postoffice to handle," declared the postmaster. "The volume of mail received does not indicate that the early mailing campaign which was started several weeks ago has had any appreciable effect on the patrons of this office. Although a few packages and parcels intended for delivery in the Eastern States and Middle West have been deposited, it is to be regretted that the larger portion have not already been mailed so that proper handling could be given them here and at the offices of delivery.

"Sending gifts this early does not mean that they lose any of their value as Christmas gifts for the Postoffice Department permits the addition of various legends on the outside telling the addressee: 'Do not open until Christmas,' and 'Not to be opened until Christmas.' However, unnecessary writing of other kinds serves only to retard delivery. The Third Assistant Postmaster-General W. Irving Glover has again called attention to the objectionable practice of placing return addresses on the backs of letters and packages. Postal clerks in an effort to work with speed frequently miss the instructions of the sender when that person violates the rule which stipulates that the return address should be in the upper left-hand corner on the address side."

FUND FOR OFFICE ASKED

The Board of Public Works has requested of the City Council an appropriation of $1400 to rearrange the offices of the City Treasury so that any additional working space will be provided, as asked for by City Treasurer Powell. It is expected that the appropriation will be made tomorrow.

Postal Workers to Aid Shrine in Relief Campaign

Beginning today all employees of the Los Angeles Postoffice will cooperate in the eighteenth annual Christmas relief campaign of the Al Malaikah Shrine Temple, which is being conducted this month under the direction of Chairman Motley H. Flint.

The following letter, was written several days ago by Chairman Flint to Postmaster P. P. O'Brien:

"May I ask your good offices in issuing a formal order to letter carriers to report to me any case of distress in families in their respective districts — particularly families where there are little children who will not be provided with remembrances from Santa Claus at Christmas time?

"The carriers, on account of their duties, are in a position to know whether these cases are worthy, and if they are I want to see that they are provided for insofar as I am able, depending on my ability to raise the funds."

Postmaster O'Brien replied as follows:

"Permit me to acknowledge receipt of your letter and to say that it afforded me great pleasure to issue orders to all employees of this office to report to me any cases of distress in their districts, and as rapidly as such reports reach me they will be promptly transmitted to you."

With Mrs. Elizabeth Morrison, Mrs. Del S. Pearce and others in charge, donations of clothing, furniture, foodstuffs and toys will be received at the Shrine Relief headquarters, ground floor, Belmont Hotel, 251 South Hill street. Telephone TUcker 8034.

SEWER CONTEST END NOW LOOMS

Protests Represent Small Frontage Percentage

Engineering Report Likely to Prevail Over Objections

Protests filed by 341 property owners against the proposed construction of the Arroyo de la Sacatela storm sewer project represent only 2.54 per cent of the frontage of the entire assessment district, the checking department of the City Engineer's office will report to the City Council today.

Although a public hearing on the protests is scheduled to be held in the Council chambers Friday morning, it is believed that the report from the engineering department will effectually bring to an end the bitter battle which has been waged over the proposed project for more than a decade.

Analysis of the protests reveals that only 10,036,114 square feet of the 353,760,133 square feet embraced in the improvement district are represented.

The protests now before the Council are directed at what is known as Section No. 1 of the project, which will be the main line between Vineyard avenue and Mariposa street with its immediate lateral areas, and which will extend from the outlet south of Pico Boulevard to Wilshire Boulevard and Normandie avenue. Ordinance of intention for this section of the work was adopted several weeks ago by the Council and it is deemed certain that the final ordinance providing for the improvement will be adopted.

The estimated cost of the project is between $2,000,000 and $3,000,000, of which various city departments will bear $30,500. Several plans covering the work have been submitted during the years that the controversy has been under way, but all were either materially changed or abandoned as the battle raged. The present plan, which calls for the construction in three sections to facilitate construction, was submitted by former City Engineer John A. Grimth.

"The improvement is a necessity," declared City Engineer H. A. Van Norman last night, "and there is little question but that the Council will authorize the construction of Section No. 1 by ordinance. The overwhelming sentiment in favor of the storm sewer is an indication of the need for it."

OFFICER IS ACCUSED OF EXTORTION

Patrolman Arrested on Charge of Taking Money to Fix Liquor Case

Julius Lilienthal, 30 years of age, a patrolman working out of Central Police Station, was arrested Saturday on a charge of extortion growing out of his asserted acceptance of money to fix a liquor case.

According to Detective Lieutenant Thompson and Chief Investigator Poland of the City Prosecutor's office, who arrested Lilienthal in front of 405 South Hill street, the officer accepted $20 in marked bills from H. J. Thompson of the Hill-street address. Mr. Thompson said Lilienthal offered to fix a liquor case for $100.

On a prearranged plan, the officers say, they secluded themselves near by and saw Thompson hand $20 to Lilienthal. At Central station where Lilienthal was taken he denied the charge and said he did not receive any money from Mr. Thompson.

Lilienthal is said to be a former Chief of Police of Ford City, Mich., a small town recently annexed to Detroit.

Funeral Rites for W.C. Brown at Home Today

Funeral services for William C. Brown, former president of the New York Central lines, who died Saturday morning, will be conducted at 10 a.m. today from his home, 202 Oaklawn avenue, South Pasadena, instead of at the Pasadena Presbyterian Church, as was previously announced. The body then will be shipped East for interment.

Mr. Brown died after a lingering illness. He had been a winter resident of South Pasadena for a number of years. The rest of the time he spent at Lime Springs, Iowa, and in New York.

Forty years of railroad service were behind him. The peak of his career was reached when he was made president of the New York Central lines in 1909. During the time he held this position, the Grand Central station was constructed in New York and the lines were electrified within the limits of the metropolis. In 1914 Mr. Brown retired.

Pie Leads to Domestic Row, Plaint Relates

Frank Mayes couldn't even eat a wedge of pie in peace in his home, so uncertain was the temper of his wife, Erin Mayes, he related in a complaint for divorce, on file in the office of the County Clerk.

His wife, he said, came home one night and, glancing in the cupboard, noted that a section had been cut out of the pie she had placed there previously. Mayes never denied he had eaten the pie His frank confession availed him nothing, however, according to the complaint, and Mrs. Mayes launched into a diatribe on the subject that took all the pleasure out of his recollection of the flavor of the pie.

Property owners have petitioned the City Council to pave Seventy-ninth street from San Pedro street to Main street, and to pave Hoover street from Marathon street to Temple street.

THIEVES ROB HOME OF CLOTHING, SILVER

Burglars breaking into the home of Clayton S. Ristenpert, furniture salesman, at 403 Columbia avenue early yesterday carried off plunder valued at $980, according to a police report. Entrance was made through a rear window which had been left unlocked. The plunder consisted of silverware and clothing and included a valuable mantel clock.

NEAR EAST DAY OBSERVED

Golden Rule Sunday Marked by Frugality in Homes and Church Appeals for Overseas Orphans

With hundreds of families and churches serving frugal meals in order to donate a few extra dollars for relief to starving children in the Near East, and with many sermons preached on behalf of the overseas orphans, Golden Rule Sunday was appropriately observed yesterday in Los Angeles and throughout the Southland.

Mrs. Jeannette W. Emrich

By request of Bishop Joseph H. Johnson and Coadjutor Bishop W. B. Stevens, Golden Rule Sunday will be observed next Sunday by all Episcopal Churches of the Los Angeles Diocese.

Mrs. Jeannette W. Emrich, noted missionary and welfare worker, who addressed the First Methodist Church congregation, said in part:

"Golden Rule Sunday is a supreme effort on the part of the civilized world to save 200,000 or more children from the refugee camps in Greece, Syria and elsewhere along the Eastern Mediterranean. These children are among the several millions of Christians who have been forced to leave their ancestral homes in Turkey since the ascendency of the present militant Turkish government. The International Committee, working for the observance of Golden Rule Sunday, expects to raise approximately $4,000,000 on this day alone."

Dell A. Schweitzer, chairman of the Golden Rule Committee for the Southwest, and Alonzo E. Wilson were among the prominent speakers who addressed the mass meeting at the Trinity Methodist Church.

PAINLESS HISTORY

"NORTH OF 36" VITAL AND HIGHLY FASCINATING

By Grace Kingsley

These actors who play pioneer roles in pioneer stories do some actual pioneering when they make the pictures, according to reports, especially when such pictures are made away from the cinema center of Hollywood, where the going is rough and living is hard.

In "North of 36," for instance, which is the highly fascinating picture on view at the Metropolitan this week, all the players suffered real hardship and displayed real bravery, according to the reports. Lois Wilson, when she swam her horse across the river down there in Texas, swam very near to a bunch of water moccasins, and never had a double. Noah Beery nearly lost his life in the cattle stampede, and Jack Holt had to work several days with a broken ankle, being lifted on and off his horse.

It all looks vital and thrilling and real, too. In fact, I got so excited over the picture, wondering whether Noah Beery really was going to be able to steal the heroine's trunk full of land scrip, that I forgot all about my hat, until I got ready to leave the theater, when I realized that a nice, fat, blonde lady was sitting on it!

"North of 36" is more, really, than a merely entertaining story. A part of its vivid reality grows out of the fact that it is real American history, a pioneer phase, having to do with the growth of the Southwest, inasmuch as, until it was found that cattle could be moved profitably, the place was at a standstill. The rounding up and driving of these cattle northward by a brave woman, fighting the hated carpet-baggers, forms the dramatic theme of the story. Noah Beery, who plays the silk-hatted carpet-bagger in this picture, tells me that he was actually hated by some of the old-fashioned folk down there because of his characterization of the sort of man who used to go about cheating for and stealing the scrip which gave anybody in possession title to the land represented.

Yes, "North of 36" is very painless history!

The cattle stampede, the view of the cattle swimming the river and the encounter with the Indians are all exciting stuff. Technically it seemed to me at times that full climatic value was not given some episodes, but it does seem too bad to crab when the picture is so very, very fine. Photographically it is often magnificent. There are shots that look like the better old, half-tones and steel engravings, and there are visions of Indians and of the cattle that are like Frederick Remington paintings. One shot in particular, showing the cattle bedded down on the desert, under the twinkling stars, with a couple of cowboys watching, is a gem. For weird and powerfully pathetic effect, the Indian girl's lifeless body floating in the river, hasn't been excelled.

The acting is splendid. Lois Wilson brings her girlish beauty, her fine intelligence and her excellent acting ability to bear on the role of the brave heroine. Noah Beery almost steals the picture as the hateful carpet-bagger, who gets himself into trouble when he shoots the Indian girl, and who finally is presumably skinned alive by the Indians. This is indicated by the passing of the knife into the tent, and the agitation of the tent walls showing the struggle within. Jack Holt is the best I have ever seen him as the hero. Ernest Torrence as usual wins laugh honors in the appealing and human role of the old ranch manager. Stephen Carr is a comparative newcomer, I think; but he has one of the most vividly expressive faces I have ever seen, and I do hope he will get his big chance. David Dunbar, Guy Oliver, William Carroll, Clarence Geldert, George Irving and Ella Miller, all do fine work.

WILL ROGERS, 'TENTH WOMAN,' CALIFORNIA

Satire is caviar to the general, I find, when it comes to the picture houses. People either take it seriously or are bored and walk out. So there's no use in giving the public anything as funnily satirical as "High-Brow Stuff" down at the California, for they simply don't get it. Not even the presence of Will Rogers can make them care, apparently, though there were a few snickers yesterday, especially when somebody fell down.

"High-Brow Stuff" is by Rob Wagner, who also directed, and is mostly satire on the little-theater movement and the movies, and in it Rogers is first the Russian actor, in a deliciously burlesque-barn theater, with a Dr. Caligari Cabinet setting. Afterward he is a movie actor. I understand that there was a closing sequence in which Rogers becomes a director, takes all the actors out and really drowns them, saying, "It was necessary for realism, and is better for the profession!" But that is all cut out. A mild finish is put in—a mild finish with no originality nor kick to it.

Maybe I'm not up on my literature, but I don't know why Harriet T. Comstock's story, "The Tenth Woman," is called that. Anyhow, it's a mighty good little yarn with a new and piquant triangle situation. This occurs when the woman the rancher-hero has rescued from the river, and who is living as his housekeeper, receives in the hero's absence the spoiled sweetheart of his youth, who comes to him for refuge but doesn't explain her presence.

There is fine irony in one little scene. The hero has told the old sweetheart to come to him whenever she needs a friend. She goes—and the other girl received her with a gun!

When a chase scene is backed by some real, poignant, human and logical psychology it is the most exciting thing in the world, as note Griffith's ice-fleet scene with Lillian Gish in "Way Down East." This psychological background is what fills with suspense the runaway scene with the hero on horseback giving chase in "The Tenth Woman." Because it is after the girl he has rescued from the river believes that he has bought a ticket to send her away that she makes the mad, reckless trip in the farm wagon, with the horses chasing wildly around the mountain roads.

The story is a good deal about people with peanut souls, but as most of us have peanut souls, it is admirably realistic. Raymond McKee is simply great as the husband who is as clay in his spoiled young wife's hands, and who tries in a miserable, bewildered, wrong-headed way, to control her. June Marlowe is going to give the rest of the dark-eyed screen actresses a run for their money pretty soon, for she is fast developing as an actress and shows finesse in her handling of the flapper wife's role. How can one sufficiently praise Beverly Bayne's finely balanced, really brilliant performance as the other girl? She puts so much over, as do all the seasoned screen actors, through a thoroughly schooled face. In the scene between her and the young wife, where she misunderstands the other's motive in seeking the hero's house, there are pride, scorn, pity, hurt pride and hurt love, and other emotions besides, all suggested simply in her facial expressions. John Roche is sufficient as the hero, and Gilbert Holmes is delightful as Shorty. While Alec Francis, Buddy Post and Edith York are entirely capable.

VIVID HEROINE IN "A CAFE IN CAIRO"

Priscilla Dean Her Usual Charming Self in Forum Picture

BY KENNETH TAYLOR

Her vivid personality flashing endlessly, a pair of fiery eyes that hurl defiance to all who oppose her wishes, a saucy toss of the head that spells defeat for all who would resist her, that is the dancing girl, Naida, who makes the Lotus Cafe, Cairo headquarters for foreigners and natives alike, on business bent or pleasure. And who, but Priscilla Dean, of our actresses possesses just the right combinations of personality, and fire, and vivaciousness, and charm to make the girl live upon the screen? There we have it, almost the entire appeal in "A Cafe in Cairo," now showing at the Forum, for besides the star and her characterization there is little of novelty, nor much of consistency, especially to commend the plot or production.

Wait. Don't think that no attempt has been made to imbue the photoplay with all the qualities of diversity that spell sure-fire success. Time was, but has passed, when Miss Dean's pictures were merely studies of her own vivid self. Producers now place, or try to place, just as much stress on support and story as they do on star. But sometimes one will outshine another—and sometimes one or more will be naturally a bit weak, leaving the brunt of the glory to fall upon what remains. And so it is that the story of "A Cafe in Cairo" misses fire every so often, and further, provides little choice opportunity for the supporting players.

Indeed, one so inclined could pick many flaws in the tale of the tiny English babe raised as a native of a desert tribe and, grown to womanhood, ruling in her piquant way, the destinies of more than one frequenter of the colorful Cairo eating place. But one will probably not be so inclined, for the picture proves far too interesting in spite of its faults. And the faults, after all, are not of the glaring sort. One can, and does, overlook them quite easily.

Robert Ellis plays the rather unconvincing secret-service hero who believes in, then doubts, the dancing girl. His is one of the outstanding characterizations, others being contributed by Harry Woods as Kalf, the desert chieftain, and Evelyn Selbie, the girl's foster mother. The cast also includes Carl Stockdale, John Stepping, Marie Crisp, Carmen Phillips, Larry Steers, Ruth King and Vincente Orona. Harvey Gates made the adaptation from the Izola Forrester novel and Chet Withey directed.

Bobby Vernon's comedy, "Bright Lights," a prologue presenting the Metropolitan Male Quartet and Mlle. Valeska, dancer, and Julius K. Johnson's organ recital, are other entertaining features of the program.

FAITHFUL PLODDER HERO AT MISSION

Oftentimes it is the plodder, who slowly toils along in his own little rut unmindful of the ill concealed jeers of his fellows, who comes out on top in the end. He frequently wins success not only in his business, where an alert official may promote him over the heads of others who think themselves wider awake, but in his personal affairs, where an equally alert young woman may cast a favorable eye in his direction. And in fiction, even more than in real life, does this sound plausible and hold true. Or maybe it's just that we don't hear so much about it when there is an actual case of this kind. At any rate, that is the theme and substance of "The Narrow Street," the photoplay which is the chief attraction of the Mission Theater program for the week.

You don't have to catch yourself with the reminder that this is just a fanciful tale when viewing the picture. Somehow the story rings true, as do its characters, even through the charming young girl, who is the heroine, does elect to live for several days in the bachelor establishment of the hero without explanation, and without gossip. Dorothy Devore is the girl, and Matt Moore the young man. Neither is so well known that they can afford to try to slip by on their reputations; consequently we have two very sincere performances.

True, that story seems to be built on incidents which dovetail remarkably. But it has the merit of being wholly unexpected; you cannot, from one situation, tell definitely what the next will be.

Mr. Moore continues a character that he has made decidedly popular before—that of the unobtrusive worker who is a mine of gold under the surface. Miss Devore, not very long out of the ranks of comedy, makes a very sweet heroine who somehow devines the real worth of the man, and encourages him to win both of life's very worth-while battles. She more than encourages him; at times she is forced to take the lead, especially in the battle which most closely affects her. And although it isn't done, as a regular thing, any audience in the world would forgive her.

David Butler and Gertrude Short have humorous roles in the production. The entire picture has a light flavor, of course, but these two players particularly bring many smiles. William Beaudine directed.

Increasing the Pep in the Picture

Laura La Plante

MARMONT WINS "K" HONORS

Another play goes to Percy Marmont.

By all rights, Virginia Valli stars in "K, The Unknown," the screen adaptation of Mary Roberts Rinehart's novel, "K," but actually the opportunity for characterization is Marmont's and Margarita Fischer. Instead of being of the supporting cast merely, these two are the real stars—by opportunity, not through any fault of Miss Valli's.

"K, The Unknown," which opened Saturday at the Cameo, has all the attributes of a successful film story. It possesses romance, humor, suspense, and that rare art of narration which characterizes so few pictures. Blended in harmonious mixture, one of the most entertaining and appealing pictures of the year is the result, and much credit goes to the director, Harry Pollard, as well as to the cast.

There is something almost indefinably different about "K, The Unknown." During the first hundred feet or so, one will come almost to the conclusion that it is merely another one of those "small town films," but ere many more feet are screened the spectator will sit up in his seat and crane his neck that he may see all the better. For it has the quality of being intensely interesting, without resorting to any of the old gags and situations which directors are so prone to inflict upon a long-suffering public.

Miss Valli, though playing an important part, is not cast in a particularly strong role, but is none the less pleasing and convincing.

To Percy Marmont go the honors of the play. His is essentially a role in which his usual personality plays a large share and the kind of role which allows him to show the repression which fits him so ideally. As a famous surgeon, a fugitive from justice but in no way attempting to hide, he is complete master of every situation and these situations are unusual, to say the least.

As Carlott, the Spanish nurse who loves so much that she ruins, professionally, Marmont as a surgeon and is responsible for the lives of more persons than one, for the sake of the man she adores, Margarita Fischer portrays a character which is both sympathetic and fine. It should be a part which an audience would renounce and hiss, but the role is made so human that she cannot fail to win sympathy to her side.

The remainder of the cast, John Roche, as the lover of Carlotta, and Maurice Ryan as comedy relief, are quite adequate and aid in keeping up the high standard set by the others. Harry Pollard's directorial efforts deserve high praise, too, for many of the touches which make the play so fine are his.

On the same program is a Century comedy and the usual news reel.

NEW KIND OF SCENIC AT THE CRITERION

Anybody who is tired of ordinary scenics and wants something utterly different in photographic tours can have the pleasure of paying a visit to a new region this week at the Criterion Theater.

With the aid of Dante, Dore, and the resources of the Fox Studio, as well as several hundred dozen extras, Henry Otto has succeeded in making a picture of hell that might be described as a spectacular knockout. It isn't all confined to a medieval masterpiece of poetry, either, for there is a modern story thrown in to make it timely. The theme seems to mean that the eye of the needle is no bigger than it used to be for the individual who is possessed of too much wealth.

The film is called "Dante's Inferno," and it gets this name from the fact a copy of the poem brings about the reform of the principal character, after he has raised a general hullabaloo of unhappiness for the people in his own household, not to speak of those who live in the tenement district that he owns.

One of the men whom he is crushing sends the Dante volume to him, with a politely stated wish that he may eventually arrive at the place described. He becomes engrossed in reading the story, and this affords the opportunity for the necessary cutback to the Inferno.

"Dante's Inferno" may be recommended for its novelty. There is too little story, and what there is is very trite. Some of the effects, however, are remarkably fantastic, and reveal a new and somewhat lurid phase of the power of photography. It must be said, though, that the hell as depicted palls after a few hundred feet, because it seems to be an endless procession of scantily clad figures, glimpsed in long or very dark shots for the most part. The censors would probably not have stood for anything else.

Ralph Lewis, Lawson Butt, Howard Gaye, Pauline Starke and a juvenile, whose name escapes me at the moment, give the best performances, and others in the cast are Joseph Swickard and Gloria Gray.

LAUGHS IN TWO OF RIALTO PHOTOPLAYS

It's a speedy fun program at the Rialto Theater. There's Reginald Denny and Laura La Plante flashing merrily through a smart and sparkling romance built on farcical lines and catching laughs with each hilarious situation. Then there's Bobby Vernon in a two-mile-a-minute comedy appropriately called "High Gear," in which all the skids and hair-pin turns of a real road race are duplicated.

"CHIC" SALE HEADS BILL

Charles "Chic" Sale, whose delineation of rural characters taken from life has become so notable that he is called "the one-man village" will head the bill at the Orpheum opening today. Sale has made studies of the types found in the small American settlements. He will have all the familiar ones, with a series of new ones that he has lately developed.

PLAYDOM

BUT "WIFE OF CENTAUR" HOLDS MUCH INTEREST

By Edwin Schallert

As long as the audiences are not concerned about the psychology of Cyril Hume's novel, "Wife of the Centaur," they will probably derive exceptional enjoyment from the picture adapted from the same, which is showing this week at Loew's State Theater. It isn't perhaps designed for the readers who took the book seriously, but it manages to be good brisk entertainment, thanks to the acting by three principals, Jack Gilbert, Aileen Pringle and Eleanor Boardman, in the order mentioned, as well as the direction of King Vidor.

The feature is really another episode in the amorous adventures of Gilbert as screen hero, which, by this time, ought to be sufficiently ample to make up an attractive Christmas gift book for the flapper fan. He is holding his place quite magnificently. It would seem, as the busiest Don Juan of the season, and "Wife of Centaur" will in all probability enhance his popularity.

It is a case of sharing honors liberally this time, however. Miss Pringle's performance is one of the very best that she has given.

As Inez Martin she plays the chief menace to the happiness of the wife and in the scene where the ultimate break occurs between Ines and Jeffrey Dwyer toward the close of the picture, she is especially fine.

Miss Boardman achieves a very sensitive charm as the young and somewhat conventional-minded girl, who succeeds in winning over the man she loves from his wild caprices, as well as his deeper infatuation for Ines.

In the presentation of the story, Vidor seems to have attempted to cover with a light spirit the psychology and symbolism that were the novel's chief claim to attention. He has also avoided the more censorable situations pretty carefully.

The picture has a much better character than might be imagined under the circumstances. Jeffrey Dwyer is, of course, hardly the thoughtful type of hero that was imagined by Hume, but in Gilbert's interpretation he appears as a very acceptable personality. Gilbert's work reminds in general dash and gayety of certain scenes in "His Hour." Still there is a clear-cut difference in most respects, and his portrayal has something of new subtlety and dramatic interest. In certain respects, I believe, it is the best that he has accomplished so far.

Philo McCullough appears rather effectively in some scenes, as does also Betty Francisco for a very brief bit. There is a young chap in the picture, the rather homely one with the glasses, who is a new type, and interesting.

Altogether, Mr. Vidor's direction has made an entertaining picture, if not one truly faithful to the original idea of "Wife of the Centaur."

Fanchon and Marco are still offering their elaborate prologue, "The Sphinx of the Nile." It is almost worth the price of admission in itself for those who have not viewed it. George Washington Dewey again is a tremendous hit with his singing.

We have never had a better selection of late model regular make cars than we have now, both in open and closed models.
Drive that old car in and get our figures on an exchange. It will certainly be worth your while—easy payments will be stretched.
